RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

Accidents are becoming rather frequent on the Wilmington and Weldon and the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railways; and the public are beginning to think that some remedy should be applied. The cause of these accidents we do not pretend to assign; nor do travellers who have a wholesome regard for life and limb care to know by what particular process coaches are turned upside down and sleeping-cars demolished. It is quite enough to divert travel from a rallroad line for the public to know that accidents do actually occur too often; and the sooner this fact is fully realized the better for all concerned.

Assaulting an Officer.

A night or two since a party of colored musicians, who had been playing at a ball near the corner of Eighth and Chesnut streets, met at a store near by und were disputing about the proceeds of the night's work: Finally they carried the quarrel to such an extreme that the proprietor of the store called to police officer Josh. Green, who was on that beat, and requested him to come in, quell the disturbance and get the party out. He stepped into the store and commenced expostulating with them about creating such a disturbance, when one of the party, a man by the name of Henry Adams, informed the officer, with an oath, that his place was on the street and that he had no right to come inside a man's store to interfere with any one. Thereupon he (Adams) turned off the only light in the store, the proprietor having been called out for something, when he seized a stick and struck Officer Green over the head with it, inflicting a terrible cut over his left eye, penetrating to the bone. Adams was subsequently arrested and is now in the Guard House awaiting an examination. Green's wound is a very severe and painful, but is not considerable serious

Pourth Annual Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association.

> Pain Kifler. THIRD DAY.

Yesterday was undoubtedly the day of the Fair. At an early hour the crowd commenced going out to the Grounds, which soon presented an appearance much more animated than the day previous.

Floral Hall was more beautiful than ever. and was crowded with lovely ladies. And we here just venture the remark, en passant, what a number of pretty ladies Wilmington and the surrounding country can exhibit on an occasion of this character! At 12 o'clock, the regular annual

ADDRESS was delivered by Rev. R. S. Moran, D. D., from the Judges' Stand, opposite the Grand Stand, the latter being filled with a large crowd of interested auditors, conspicuous among whom, of course, were the ladies. Though assuming the task reluctantly, and fettered by the press of engagements upon him, and handling a subject foreign to his habit of thought, the reverned gentleman acquitted himself of his task in a very felicitous manner. We greatly regret that we are unable to publish the address in full, but Dr. Moran's time having been so much occupied recently he had been unable to write it out in extenso, though the notes from which he delivered it were elaborate and systematically arrenged. We are therefore compelled to allude to it simply in general terms. The subject matter chosen was, of course, agricultural-in fact, "Agriculture": first, as it benefitted man; and second in a higher and grander sense. In telling the audience "what he knew about farming," he surprised them by the extent of his knowledge in this direction. Dr. Moran possesses high talents nnd great fluency as a speaker, is a laborious and deep thinker and a thorough and fruit cake; Mrs. T. D. Gay, Wilson, polished scholar. His address was highly pleasing-not at all prolix, but calculated to interest and entertain, in which it succeeded most admirably.

In the afternoon there was another

TROTTING MATCH for an Association purse, between bay gelding Wilmington, entered by Mr. Van Macomber, of this city, and bay horse Henry Clay, by Mr. J. C. Smith, of Fayetteville. Mile heats; best two in three. Wilmington won the race in two straight heats, scoring casional snow and rains, cloudy but clearing | 3:18 and 3:07 respectively. This is considered very excellent time with the track in so heavy a condition.

There was no balloon ascension, owing to the fact that the balloon itself having alighted in the branches of a tree when it descended the evening previous, was so perforated with rents as to render extensive repairs necessary, and which could not be completed in time for the anticipated exhibition. It will, however, be all right to-day, and the young balloonist will take his accustomed trip to the clouds on the

We were pleased to notice a large number of visitors from a distance, though our townspeople did not come out in the usual force. It is calculated that there were between 3,000 and 4,000 upon the Grounds during the day. This is by no means an Miss over-estimate, and we believe it to be a strictly fair calculation. The crowd seemed interested, and there was always some object to attract attention. There were numerous quantities of lottery pedlars, in addition to the regular side-shows, and these managed to keep a crowd around their respective stands throughout the day.

Good order was generally observed, there being a number of special policemen to aid the Marshals. We do not believe that corporal's guard of real drunken men were to be seen during the entire day, though to meet an individual half seas over was of much common occurrence.

There was some slight improvement in the way of exhibitions, though the bulk of the articles were on display the previous day.

There was a very tame fox chase in the afternoon, the animal making a poor run for his life; but we are promised a livelier time to-day.

The Fair will close to-day and we trust it may do so with great eclat. In addition to the other attractions, the balloon ascension will certainly take place. The award of premiums will also be announced.

BAILBOAD ACCIDENT.

Cars on the Weldon Boad Thrown off the Track-A Narrow Escape.

Yesterday morning, between 1 and 2 clock, when the Southern bound train on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad was about half way between Warsaw and Magnolia, containing about four hundred passengers, the most of whom were on their way to the Fair in this city, an accident oecurred which might have proven most disastrous in its consequences. It seems that the engineer discovered the fact that a piece of rail about three or four feet in length was missing from the track, but hoped as the train was going at a good rate of speed, she being about an hour behind time, that he might take the train safely over the gap, which is frequently done, with a full head of steam, when an entire rail is missing. The engine, tender and mail car passed over safely, but the baggage car ran off the track, carrying with it the other cars. These were all tumbled over in such a way that the wheels of one side rested in the ditch at the side of the track, inclining them over in such a manner that some of the passengers in the sleeping car were thrown from their berths on one side, into those of their neighbors on the other. As the cars left the track the mail car, which remained on the track with the engine and tender, became detached from the other cars, and they sped on their way for some distance. In the meantime the mass of human beings hastily extricating themselves from the wrecked cars presented a lively scene. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt and none of the cars were badly damaged. The escape of the large number on the train was, however, almost miraculous, and their good fortune under the circumstances is the more striking when it is taken into consideration that 50 yards or less from where the accident occurred was a deep cut or ravine over which was a trestle. The baggage was taken from the baggage car and placed on the mail train and brought safely to this city, while the Northern bound train, which was stopped by the obstructions and could not proceed, returned with the passengers, arriving here in time for them all to participate in the Fair and rejoice over their narrow escape. Accidents of the character above alluded to are becoming much too frequent travellers, and we hope something may be minate in terrible disaster and death.

This he handed slyly to a little negro boy standing near. but the big darkie pitched into him and on the Weldon road for the comfort of they both rolled heels over head down the embankment. The negro, however, fell on done to remedy the evil before it shall cul- top and commenced pounding his antagonist in good fashion. Officer Sellars took them both in hand. The transaction was

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Wilmington North Carolina Life Insurance Company, held on Tuesday the 12, Nov. 1872. The death of President Robert H. Cowan having been announced. The following minutes were ordered to be placed on the Records of the Company:

This Board, cannot consent to adjourn without making a permanent record of its estimate of the late President so recently removed from us.

1. It is not from any selfish reflection upon the magnitude of our loss as a company, great as that is, that we mourn for him, our sorrow is of a high character, we grieve for him as a most cherished personal friend and valued citizen. Able, frank, true and generous, ever ready to lend a sympathising ear to the distress of others, and a helping hand to the distress of others, and a helping hand to alleviate their pain, courageous and bold in supporting the right, and denouncing whatever savoured of dishonor, eloquent in speech to a degree rarely equalled, he had attached to himself by the strongest ties of both leve and admiration, the great body of his fellow citizens. Not only so, but those winged words of eloquence which he was accustomed to utter in the Legislative Halls, have caused his fame to extend throughout his native State, and made him to be as much admired abroad as at home.

2. We fondly hoped a life so valuable would be preserved to his family, his friends, and his State, but alas, this hope has fled. While seperated from us during his protracted illness, our hearts have been with him in sympathy, and in his death we are cheered with the bright hope that he has now attained a higher place than earth can offer—one eternal in the Heavens.

3. To his deeply afflicted family we offer our sincerest sympathy, and trust that they, too, in their hour of darkest grief will be consoled by the remembrance that there is a pitying eye that never yet was closed to the sad mourners cry.

Resolved, "That a copy of this minute," be furnished for publication in the several newspapers in the city, and also presented to the family of our late President.

UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, AS A MEDICINE AND BEVERAGE.—As a general beverage, a necessary corrector of water rendered impure by regetable deco position or other causes, as Limestone, Sulphate of Copper, etc., the Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. Its purity and exemption from all grossly intoxicating properties, combined with its mildly stimulating and invigorating elements, establish it as the only alcoholic beverage in our country that can be imbibed with pleasure and safety. The nervous torpor and debility which follow the administrations of other alcoholic preparations and mixtures of the day, succeeded by their intense and painful nervous reactions, are unknown, as the subsequent effects of the Schiedam Schnapps, even when taken so freely, while as a Stomachic, a Toxic Appendix it stands pre-eminent among the established curatives of the day.

A public trial of twenty years' duration, in every section of our country, of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; its unselicited endorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequalled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation of purity and salubrity claimed for it by the proprietor on its original introduction to the public.
