EXTRACTS

From the Annual Address Delivered Before the Cumberland County Agricultural Society at its Tenth Annual Fair, Thursday, Nov. 21st, 1872, by Col. A. A. McKay, of Sampson.

The Fayetteville Eagle made a summary report of this able address from which we take such portions as suit our purpose, not having room for the whole:

In the opening of the address the speaker alluded to the orator of the Association of the last year, Col. Robert H. Cowan. He spoke of his virtues, his manly heart, his expanded generosity, his patriotic devotion, his general usefulness as a business man, a ripe scholar, and a man universally beloved. He alluded to his peculiar influence for good where he was best known. The stamp he left upon the Dialectic Society at our once honored University. The magnanimity of the man made him an idol among his friends. He has fallen as falls the summer tree while yet in the bloom of its honors ere the breath of autumn had seared a leaf that adorned it.

He alluded to Fayetteville, her past, and the honored dead who sleep quietly in her cemetery, her living men, her business men and her future. His idea of co-operation in the way of a farmers' bank, from which loans at low rates may be had by the agriculturalist, and thus enable him to withhold his produce from the market until a living price could be obtained without paying 25 per cent. of his crop in the way of commissions and interest, is an idea well worth the consideration of farmers. The plan is feasible, and promises much if the farmers would act as a body. Don't let them go into it with the hope of having a fixed price for their productions. In the formation of such institutions let none but farmers be stockholders and directors. Have this distinctly understood, that this is a farmer's institution, and you will truly see the agriculturalist of the country open their eyes to the wants and interests of the farmer, and build themselves a name and power that must and will be felt throughout the civilized world.

Then would you see the farmer have some influence when he approaches a railroad official asking for some modification of the unjust discriminations made against his crops in the transportation of his crops to market. His theory concerning the mould of the mind of the farmer, though novel, still is worth considering by the farmer; for he says that the opinions of a farmer are harder to change than those of any other class of mankind, or at least that this has been his experience. He accounted for this upon the ground that they have been accustomed to govern upon the farm, their will has long been supreme, and older farmers under the old institutions commanded to be obeyed. He was indeed a little monarch, not less supreme because his kingdom was small, for he owned all and governed all. To this he attributes the slowness of the progress in agriculture and science.

His observations upon labor and the meanness of one man interfering with his neighbor's labor by offering extra inducements to a good hand, causing him to violate his contract, should be well pondered. He portrayed the effect of this course and showed how it would spoil the laborer, demoralize the man and afflict society eventually with an idle vagabond. His advice about the employment of dishonest laborers who had been unfaithful to former employers, and left in violation of their contracts, should be heeded, for indeed it will be obliged to be the determination of farmers soon, for in no other way can they get along and make the labor profitable to them.

Upon the subject of immigration his theory was that we needed capital more than labor. That in bringing emigrants to the country we should look well that we only secure that class which will, when settled among us, make good citizens; that the natural ratio of increase of the population of North Carolina would soon fill all the lands worth settling upon, and large immigration would force our own sons to look homes elsewhere.

An Exciting Runaway and Painful Accident.

A runaway occurred on our streets yesterday afternoon which came near resulting in serious consequences. A horse attached to a dray became frightened near the corner of Front and Market streets and ran down Market in the direction of the river. Arriving at the stone crossing from near the corner of North Water street to the opposite sidewalk the driver jumped out of the dray, falling with his head on the stone pavement and receiving several painful bruises. The horse in the meantime continued his course in the direction of the river; but, just before he reached it, a man standing on the edge of the wharf directly in his way brandished a stick as if with the intention of striking the animal, when he sheered off and started up Water street. Unluckily, Mr. J. B. Orrell and a colored man happened at the time to be standing by a pile of wood immediately in the track last taken by the infuriated animal. The colored man, being nimble of foot, managed to get out of the way in time, but Mr. Orrell, who is quite feeble, was unable to clear himself, and the shaft or wheel of the dray struck and knocked him down, the wheels passing over his body. He was taken up by a number of friends and conveyed to his flat, where, after awhile, he partially recovered from the shock of the accident, and was subsequently taken home in a vehicle procured for the purpose. His injuries, though painful, are not believed to be of a serious character. The runaway horse came in contact with a telegraph pole immediately afterwards, and was halted.

Thanksgiving Performance.

We have now on hand a full supply of News Ink for winter use. Cash or C. O. D. orders will have prompt attention.

The Wilmington Life.

The Raleigh Sentinel of yesterday says: "Dr. A. J. DeRosset, of Wilmington, has been elected President of the Wilmington Life Insurance Company, in place of the late Col. R. H. Cowan. With Dr. DeRosset as President, and our excellent friend F. H. Cameron, Esq., as Secretary, and Jas. D. Brooks, Esq., as General Supervising Agent, the Company will take rapid strides, we hope, in the direction of success it has pursued so vigorously of late."

Kate Putnam's Comedy Company.

Miss Kate Putnam, with her celebrated comedy company, will commence a week's engagement at the Opera House in this city on Monday evening, the 9th of December. Few actresses in her peculiar line have attained a more enviable reputation than Miss Putnam, who is represented to be as graceful and charming in person as she is proficient in the duties of her profession. The company will perform in Raleigh next week.

Wrecking Pump.

A second trial of the wrecking pump to become a permanent fixture on the steamer Waccamaw was had yesterday, under the direction of Capt. B. W. Beery, which resulted as favorably in every respect as the one on the previous day. Having, as is claimed, a lifting power of fifty to sixty barrels per minute, it will doubtless prove a great convenience in freeing wrecked vessels of water.

Free Schools.

The "Union" and "Hemingway" free schools, the former located near the corner of Sixth and Church streets and the latter on Fourth street, near Boney Bridge, will both be opened on Monday morning next under the superintendence of Miss Amy M. Bradley, with competent teachers.

Arrested.

John Fryer, who stole a watch and a lot of clothing from Mr. A. J. McIntyre, of Duplin county, a few days since, was arrested at Burgaw on Tuesday morning and the watch and clothes recovered. Fryer was taken to Magnolia and placed in the county jail to await an examination.

—Hon. A. W. Venable, of Granville, will hereafter reside in Oxford. A News correspondent says: The ravages of time have made a very visible change in Mr. Venable's physical appearance. EIGHTH DAY.

[Condensed from the News and Sentinel.]

RALEIGH, Tuesday, Nov. 26. SENATE.

The Senate met at 11 A. M., President Morehead in the chair. Mr. Ellis, of Columbus, introduced a resolution in favor of David Piggott, tax collector of the county of New Hanover, and urged its immediate passage.

An accompanying document from the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover was read, petitioning for the said relief.

Mr. Ellis explained that in consequence of the failure of the Sheriff of New Hanover to qualify according to law, the Board had not reached Mr. Piggott's hands till a late date, and he asked, through the Board of County Commissioners, to have his time extended till the 1st day of March, 1873.

Mr. Troy offered an amendment that three-fourths of the State tax shall be paid in at the usual time, or else this bill shall be of no effect.

Messrs. Troy and Murphy knew the circumstances of this case to be peculiar, and while opposed to general relief, would favor this resolution.

Amendment adopted unanimously. The resolution was so amended as to make the time 1st day of February instead of 1st of March, and requiring tax collector to make payment of the 75 per cent. of the State taxes by the 15th December, and as thus amended, the resolution passed its several readings.

UDOLPH WOLFF'S AROMATIC SCHIEDAN SCHWAPPE, and promises to take the place of every other liquor now in use, especially for medicinal use.

This is not surprising; for, apart from its being found in most of our Drug Stores in this city and country, and its being strongly commended by the physicians, the mild and agreeable taste of this article, contrasted with the strong, pungent and actual squamous produced on the palate by the common deleterious article—which is now the general complaint of many of our medical faculty of this country—would, of itself, suffice to give it the preference. If prescribed as a medicine, it is not too late to take; and to use as a beverage it is considered by judges to be superior to any article of the kind ever imported into the country.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern, or the numerous local almanacs when they get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housewife in the paramount efficacy of this medicine will be completely deceived. It is sold by all druggists.

A Universal Article of Faith.—In these days of religious contention it has been thought impossible to indicate in article of broad catholicity which all sects and classes were united. There is one, however, and a very notable one, too, viz: a belief which is implicit and universal in the paramount efficacy of that matchless Household Tonic & Restorative PATENTED PURSANTO TO A PATENT CONSTANTLY INCREASING PATRONSAGE WHICH IT RECEIVES HAS, IN TRUTH, EXTENDED THE PITY OF CERTAIN EPHEMERAL ADVERTISERS OF PINCHBACK PANACEAS, who hope to make a market for their own stagnant, watery wares, by decrying all medical articles which are valuable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housewife in the paramount efficacy of this medicine will be completely deceived. It is sold by all druggists.

The "Housekeeper" of our Health. The liver is the great depurating or blood cleansing organ of the system. Set the great housekeeper of our health at work, and the foul corporations which gather in the blood, and rot out the machinery of life, are gradually expelled from the system. Medical Discovery is prominently the article needed. It cures every kind of humor, from the worst scrofulous taint to the most delicate eruptions. Great eating, sleepers kindly heal under its mighty influence. "Virtue is the power of the mind in a persevering and somewhat protracted use of it in the most delicate system, and is completely renovated and built up anew.

Enlarged glands, tumors and swellings dwindle away and disappear under the influence of this great restorative. It is sold by all druggists.
