The fire among the smouldering ruins of the recent conflagration obtained such headway vesterday, fanned by the brisk breeze which sprung up, that it was found necessary, about 11 A. M., to sound the alarm bell and call the fire department out. The "Adrian" was stationed at the floot of Market street and threw a stream upon the ruins until near night before the fire was brought sufficiently under subjection. The Hook and Ladder company and the Mechauics' Hose Company, or a portion of each, were also on the ground, the Rankin boys being permitted to rest from the fatigues of the night previous, they having been detained by the ruins. The Hook and Ladder Company performed much laborious service in pulling down the standing walls and chimnies of the burned buildings, while the firemen and hosemen were equally assiduous in the performance of their duties, which were not of the most pleasant character with the thermometer below the freezing point. The ruins were visited by a large number of persons during the day. Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed of Tuesday next, the 31st inst. - David James and John McCollum, both colored, were sent to the Work House resterday to serve out the sentence of the Mayor's Court for larceny.

- We are glad to learn that Mr. J. B. Huggins recovered his safe from the ruins of his store yesterday and found his books and papers not materially injured.

- Capt. O'Brien, of Mechanics' Hose Company, who was engaged yesterday in fighting the fire, had to retire temporarily from the field, his clothes having become frozen so stiff to his body that he could not navigate.

- There was much plundering carried on at the fire Tuesday night and two or three of the sly rogues were captured by the police and now have an opportunity of reflecting upon their misdeeds in the County Work House.

- In consequence of the excitement incident to the fire on Thursday night we neglected to chronicle the presence in our city of Mr. Amos Cummings, Managing Editor of the New York Sun. He left yesterday morning for Florida, but will return here in a few weeks.

St. John's Day In consequence of the extreme severity of the weather yesterday and the indisposition of Hon. A. M. Waddell, the orator of the day, who was unable to be present, the public ceremonies of the Masonic fraternity, which were to have taken place at the Theatre, were postponed. The observance of the day was therefore confined to the installation ceremonies, which took place privately in St. John's Hall, and the grand banquet in Masonic Hall at night. THE BANQUET.

Before sitting down to the tables, a bless ing was asked by Rev. Geo. Patterson The seats were then taken, Worshipfu Master H. H. #### SEVEN-LEAGUE STRIDES.

The Proposed Postal Telegraph-Pro-visions of the Bill Favorably Reported upon to Congress.

Mr. Ramsey, from the Committee on Post Offices and Post-Roads, reported a substitute for the postal telegraph bill of last session, the bill now reported being "the Hubbard bill," with sundry modifications, The Postmaster-General is required, as soon as practicable, to establish telegraph offices at all post offices on tele-graphic circuits, and at all other post offices within ten-miles of any circuit where the salary is not less than $300 per annum, and is required also to establish telegraph offices at such other places as the wants of business may require. The charge for transmission of telegrams shall be uniform for equal distances at a rate not exceeding one cent per word for each circuit through which they shall be transmitted, to be computed as follows: For distances under 500 miles, 250 miles shall be deemed a circuit. For any excess, 500 miles shall be deemed a circuit. For night mes-sages 1,000 miles or less shall be deemed a circuit. All words are to be counted, and no communication shall be transmitted at a rate less than twenty-five cents for each circuit. These rates shall cover the cost of immediate delivery within one mile of the telegraph office, or within the letter-carrier delivery, and of transmission by mail when received at or destined for any place where there is no postal telegraph office; but when the addressee lives more one mile from the ofthan fice, or beyond said delivery, such telegram shall be delivered through the usual letter-delivery or by special messenger upon payment of a just and proper sum, to be fixed by the Postmaster-General. While there is no good reason why this should not be done, as we are, in reality, but one town, with a common interest, the project is to-tally impracticable, as neither town would be willing to surrender its name.

- The Eagle says: We regret to earn that a day or two ago Mr. John Averitt, of Cedar Creek, in this county, was most dangerously and perhaps fatally stab-bed a few miles from here by _____, or better known as 'Monk Julia.'' Mr. Averitt's wounds are severe, and he is hardly expected to live. He has been deputy sheriff and is a useful and highly respected citizen. "Monk" is somewhat noted for fights and crime. One of the firm of Douglas & Capps called on us yesterday to correct the statement that the fire of Thursday night originated in their establishment. He is positive that there had been no fire in their shop ince Tuesday evening, at which time they closed for the week, only opening for a few minutes on Christmas morning to deliver some purchases to their customers. He is equally confident that no matches were left where they could have become ignited by rats or in any other manner. In addition to this, we are informed by a gentleman who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the fire that the flames were confined to the adjoining store, occupied by Messrs. Gillican & Canaday, at the moment of his arrival, but was rapidly communicating to the butcher shop through the wooden partition between the two establishments. Our version of the affair was given on hearsay, and we cheerfully give Messrs. Douglas & Capps the benefit of their statement, faiser when the area in the

Tea and Things.

Our staff-editorial were the recipients of an invitation to take tea at the National Hotel Thursday evening. As the senior editor insisted on going, it was thought best that he should go alone. But for this considerate step it is doubtful whether or not the National could have raised a breakfast for one yesterday morning. Of course, no reflection on the senior editor is intended. He never was known to eat anything heavier than a roasted ox at one meal, and he never will exceed this standard of moderation until boiled elephants are added to the cuisine of our fashionable hotels. nothing to speak of on his table when THE MORNING STAR POSE. Losses by the Fire. The loss of Drs. Freeman and Baldwin by the fire on Thursday night amounted to from $2,000 to $2,500, they having lost all their instruments, a quantity of gold foil and many other valuable and useful articles, the accumulation of years, upon which there on the 14th of October last, with a full cargo of cotton, turpentine, rosin, and other articles, valued at $20,000. The vessel was a total loss, but the officers and crew, with a small portion of the cargo, were saved. The vessel went ashore on the rocks at the Southwest point of Castle Island on the 4th of November. As Capt. Edmondson is well known in this city we give the judgment of the Court, as delivered by Mr. Raffles, the stipendiary magistrate, after hearing a number of witnesses, all of whom spoke in the most favorable terms of the Captain and of his skill as a seaman:

"In this case the Court can see many unloward circumstances. No observations had been obtained for two days previous to making the land. During this time strong westerly gales, accompanied by thick weather, prevailed, and, doubtless, there must have been, in addition to the wellknown northerly set with those winds in the vicinity of the Irish land, a strong gale to the northward. The vessel appears to have been carefully navigated, nor were soundings recklessly neglected, as this Court has so frequently had occasion to observe upon and condemn. When the supposed distance to the Fastnet was run. a bright light was seen through the fog for the short period of two minutes upon the precise bearing of the light, and, not reappearing, the master might reasonably have expected it to be the light he anticipated. The proper channel course was thereupon continued, but unfortunately the light proved to be the bright light of Crookhaven, and, by this mischance, the ship became entangled among the shoals in Skull Bay, and was ultimately lost on Castle Island. Upon a review of the whole case the Court, having duly considered the evidence of careful navigation on the part of the master, all of whose antecedents are good, returns to him his certificate."

Reported Killing of Another of the Robeson Outlaws.

Intelligence was received in this city yesterday that Andrew Strong, one of the notorious outlaws which has infested Robeson county so long, had been killed. In fact, Capt. Howland, Conductor of a freight train on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, says he saw the dead body of the outlaw at Lumberton yesterday, where it had just arrived. The killing s said to have taken place at Eureka station, one of the dens of the outlaws, on Thursday morning, and a well-known wagoner-a white man-is mentioned as the individual who sent the desperado to his reward. If this report be true, there is now only one of the original band left, and he is "standing on slippery ground." A Light Fall of Snow.

UDOLPHO WOLFE'S ABOMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS

UDOLFHO WOLFE'S ABOMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS seem to be extensively gaining on public confidence, and promises to take the place of every other liquor now in use, especially for medicinal use. This is not surprising; for, apart from its being found in most of our Drug Stores in this city and country, and its being strongly commended by the physicians, the mild and agreeable tasts of this ar-ticle, contrasted with the strong, pungent and actual sensation produced on the palate by the common deleterious article—which is now the general com-plaint of nearly all the medical faculty of this coun-try—would, of itself, suffice to give it the decided preference. open to remove these harces from such indignity and inhumanity. Some of these men are from your State; some of them may have been your dear friends or your own kin; all of them lost their lives in your defence. You professed to love them which they died. Shall their remains be dishonored when they lost their lives for you? Will you sid us to remove thems to a safe and sacred spot, where the warm, poble hearts, and gentie care of Virginia women can watch over them? Into whatever hands this appeal falls, we beg you to aid us in this cause, in which our whole soul is enlisted. Ask your friends to aid you.
