LAST NIGHT'S MAIL

We glean from the Northern papers of Tuesday :

The sentiment among the leading Democrats to-day was that Brooks should be expelled, but not upless the Republican side is visited with punearnest desire, as the Constitution provides, to diffuse the light of knowledge equally and impartially among all the youth of the State, without bias of politics or bias of race.

To aid in relieving the intellectual famine of the rising generation, in removing from the State the blight of ignorance, in rekindling the extinguished fires of our venerable University, once so honored and useful. in placing North Carolina abreast speaking people, is surely worthy the ambition of any man.

Deeply impressed, notwithstanding your favorable opinion, with a sense of my want of the requisite qualifications to accomplish the task, yet intending to bring to the work industry and zeal, I will enter on my duties, relying on your efficient aid, as well as onthe co-operation of the Board of Education, the Trustees of the Univers. ity, and most of all of the Legislature of the State. Thanking you for the kind terms of praise with which you accompany my commission,

I am, very respectfully, yours, KEMP P. BATTLE.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Correspondence. RALEIGH, 14th January, 1873.

Kemp P. Battle, Esq.:

DEAR SIR;-The office of Superintendent of Public Instruction having become vacant by the death of Rev. James Reid, it devolves upon me to fill the vacancy. This is an office of great importance to the people of both races, and the success or failure of our common schools is largely dependent upon the qualifications and fitness of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. After maturely considering the matter in all its aspects I have determined to tender the office to you .--From a long acquaintance I believe you possess, in an eminent degree, all the qualifications which are necessary and requisite to make our common schools a success, and that your appointment will give general, if not universal satisfaction. I am further persuaded that your freedom from political prejudice and intolerance will prompt you to take as much interest, and manifest as much zeak in behalf of the education and moral culture of one race of our fellow-citizens as of the other; and that you will know, or favor, or ignore uo one on account of his or her race or previous condition; but that you will administer this office, and discharge its duties impartially and without favor or fear. I trust, sir, that you will accept the accompanying commis-sion, and give me your valuable aid in an honest effort to build up and maintain a good system of common schools. in our State.

The Schooner Hannah Little.

The Norfolk Virginian of yesterday says the steam revenue cutter Lolfax, Capt. Geo. W. Moore, towed into that port on Tuesday the three-masted schooner Hannah Little, which was found off Cape Hatteras on Sunday the 12th, water-logged and abandoned. The Virginian adds: "There was no paper on board indicating any particulars about the vessel, as to where she was bound .--She was loaded with yellow pine lumber. The vessel will remain in charge of the United States officials until orders are received from the Secretary of the Treasury "as to what disposition to make of her." The Hannah Little was cleared from this port by Messrs. Harriss & Howell, Dec. 23rd, for Philadelphia, her cargo consisting of 134, 000 feet of lumber. She struck on a point of Hatteras Shoals on the night of Dec. 25th and was capsized, her crew being rescued by the steamship Regulator on the 27th and carried to New York, after clinging to the vessel twenty-six hours.

The Approaching Concert. A meeting was held Tuesday night and the necessary arrangements made for the grand concert to come off at the Opera House on the 30th inst., under the auspices of the Concordia Society. The object of this concert will be to assist in raising funds for the erection of the proposed Synagogue. The vocal and instrumental music on the occasion will be furnished entirely by members of the Jewish faith in this city, among whom there exists musical talent of the highest order. The music, will be of the operatic and ballet order and it is expected to make the entertainment equal in every respect to anything of the kind we have had here this season.

Rowdles on the Rampage. We learn that the denizens of Castle street, particularly those living between Fourth and Seventh streets, were seriously and wantonly disturbed by a gang of rowdies on Tuesday night, who played havoc with the fences, tearing off, the palings and a member of the legal profession in Newbern, but for a number of years past a resident of St. Martin's, West Indies. He is now living at Goldsboro.

- Messrs. Wooten, Richardson & Co., have taken the office formerly occupied by Messrs. Sprunt & Hinson and are fitting it up in fine style. They have secured as book-keeper Mr. W. R. Kenan, who is "a host within himself" in that particular line, as well as in the insurance business.

- Attention is invited to the prospectus of the Marion Star. As the Star is the only paper now published in Marion, our merchants will find it profitable to use its advertising columns. It circulates extensively in a section from which Wilmington should receive a large and desirable trade.

Madame Janauschek.

This celebrated "Queen of Tragedy" seems to have taken the good people of Norfolk by storm, as she does those of every city she visits. For the benefit of the hundreds of our play-goers who are on "tip-toe" to witness her grand achievements in the tragic role we give the following graphic description from the Norfolk Journal of her powerful effort at that place a few nights since:

The Opera House was filled to repletion last night with an audience composed of the best people of the two cities, attracted by the fame of that wonderful genius, Madame Janauschek. The play, Mary Stuart, is that in which she has immortal ized herself. As long as the traditions on the stage survive, her magnificent imper-sonation of the lovely yet hapless Queen of Scotland will live in the memories of those whose rare good fortune it was to witwhose rare good fortune it was to wit-ness the performance of last night. While her acting throughout was faultless, it was in the great third act that she rose to the height of sublimity, and towered grandly as the veritable Queen of Tragedy. After witnessing the stormy scene between her and Elizabeth, when roused by the taunts of her vindictive rival her woman's nature assorted itself, and hursting the thralls of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHIEDAN SCHNAPPS AS A MEDICINE AND BEVERAGE.—As a general beverage, a necessary corrector of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as Lime-stone, Sulphate of Copper, etc., the Aromatic Schie-dam Schnappe is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. Its purity and exemption from all grossly intoxicating properties, combined with its mildly stimulating and invigorating elements, estab-lish it as the only alcoholic beverage in our country that can be imbibed with pleasure and safety. The nervous torpor and debilik y which follow the admin-istrations of other alcoholic preparations and mir-tures of the day, succeeded by their intense and painful nervous reactions, are unknown, as the sub-sequent effects of the Schiedam Schnapps, even when taken so freety, while as a stomachic, a tonic appetiser, it stands pre-eminent among the estab-lished curatives of the day.
