

OUTLINES.

No election for Senator in the Arkansas Legislature. — The Kellogg irregular Legislature of Louisiana elected John Ray for the short Senatorial term. The regular Legislature elected Warmoth for the long term. — Some business men have purchased Samana Bay and Peninsula. — It is believed Warmoth will be defeated for Senator from Louisiana. — Senate passed Morton's resolution inquiring whether there is a legal State government in La. — Cotton-tax refunding proposition will be brought before Committee of Ways and Means next Tuesday. — The impression grows that many leading Congressmen are tainted with Credit Mobilier "irregularities." — Oregon troops have invaded Capt. Jack's camp. — 60,000 people at Chiswellhurst during funeral ceremonies of Napoleon. — More talk about Livingstone. — New York markets: Cotton dull 30 3/4 @ 31; spirits turpentine firmer; gold 112 1/2 @ 112 3/4. — Clear weather for this latitude is among the "Probabilities" to-day.

THE POWER OF CONGRESS OVER THE RAILROADS.

Senator Vickers of Maryland at the request of the Senate committee on commerce has undertaken a laborious inquiry into the power of Congress to regulate railroad fares, etc. The work is of such magnitude that it is thought the Senator will require several weeks in which to make satisfactory researches, and report thereon. The investigation will have to go back to the very foundation of the Government. Hitherto the existence of a judicial decision bearing on the subject has not been known or recognized. But this week the discovery was made at Washington that Justice Miller of the Supreme Court had rendered a decision—an obiter dictum—to the effect that Congress had full power under the clause in the Constitution regarding commerce to determine the matter of fares for freight and passengers on railroads and steamboats. As no appeal was taken, the whole decision stands unchallenged as good law or, rather, interpretation of law.

This question is one of considerable importance, and we hope the investigation may be pushed as far as may be necessary to establish the fact of constitutionality or unconstitutionality. The people—producers and merchants—are interested in seeing how far the Railroad King's prerogative extends. If he can discriminate in a spirit of injustice and tyranny against those who have made him what he is and show all his favors to other and distant people, they want to know it. If the law of the land does not permit such excessive, grinding monopoly, they wish to be advised of the fact, so that they can avail themselves of its provisions to secure their rights, even if Railroad Kings are thereby circumscribed in that peculiar line of operations which we are fondly told secures to the public the blessings of a "cheap and rapid system of through freight."

The Sumter News regrets to hear of an attempt by a party of lawless men to blow up the office of the Florence Pioneer. This dastardly act deserves the severest punishment. The man who would engage in such scoundrelly deeds will find it hard to steer clear of the penitentiary or the gallows.

Durant of Cred. Mob. notoriety denies that Dodge dealt in Cred. Mob. dividends. There! We've set 'em right on the goose.

With two sets of Governors and Legislatures Louisiana ought to be able to maintain a piece establishment, we should think.

Local Notes.

—Heavy rain last night.
—Windy and dusty yesterday.
—Gas has been introduced in the Tilton Normal School House.
—Special meeting of Wilmington Lodge 319 this evening, at 7 o'clock.
—On Wednesday Mr. Richardson, of Columbus, introduced a bill in the House incorporating the Trust Company and Savings Bank of Wilmington.
—The only case before the Mayor's Court yesterday morning was that of Edward Dyer, charged with disorderly conduct, which was dismissed.

—An attempt to set fire to the fence of Mr. E. T. Hancock, on Dock, between Sixth and Seventh streets, was discovered and frustrated yesterday morning.
—The sale of city property for real and personal taxes, heretofore advertised by the City Treasurer, will positively take place on Monday next, in front of the City Hall.

—The barque Vick & Merrill made the trip from the Bar to Liverpool in 18 days, having arrived at that port a day or two since. This is pronounced one of the quickest, if not the quickest, trips on record.
—We learn from the North Carolina Presbyterian that five churches have been recently organized in the territory lying between the Wilmington and Weldon and the Atlantic and North Carolina railroads and the seacoast, all comprised in the Wilmington Presbytery.

—The Magnolia Monitor says: "We need an efficient police for our town. There should be two appointed with a paying salary to secure us from further disorders." There must be a terrible state of affairs at Magnolia to suggest such extravagant notions to our cotemporary!

—We learn from the Goldboro Messenger that Judge Tourgee, on Tuesday, set aside the verdict rendered by the jury in the case of T. H. Broadhurst vs. Alex. Oldham, alluded to in the Star a day or two since, on the ground that it was not in conformity with the charge or with the law and evidence in the case.

Robbing the Mail.

A colored youth by the name of Recco Jackson alias Wm. Jackson, was arrested on Wednesday night on the charge of opening a letter belonging to another party and abstracting therefrom a postoffice money order of the amount of $35.
It seems that Jackson is sexton of the colored Baptist Church, of which a colored preacher by the name of Banks is Pastor, and was authorized by the minister to get his mails. Several members of the church, including one Margaret Ann Chadwick, were in the habit of having their letters put in his box, and a few days since Williams got a letter for the colored woman above alluded to, opened it and took out the money order before mentioned. Before presenting it, however, he wrote, or caused to be written, a letter purporting to come from his mother, at some point not remembered, which he carried with him to the postoffice. Upon presenting the money order to Mr. Springer, the Money Order Clerk, he asked to see the letter, which was produced; but in taking it from the envelope Mr. S. got a glimpse of the back of it, and saw that it contained neither address or postage stamp, whereupon he refused to pay it. The letter, with the order, subsequently came into possession of the woman to whom it belonged, and the young man was arrested at the instance of Col. Brink, the postmaster, who will prosecute the case.
The trial was to have come off yesterday before Justice Cassidey, U. S. Commissioner McQuigg being absent from the city, but was postponed on application of counsel for the defendant until to-day at 12 o'clock, the accused being lodged in jail in the meantime in default of security in the sum of $500.

A Correction.

We find that we were in error in our statement a week or two since that Mr. W. H. Harrison, who kept the prize candy establishment near the corner of Front and Dock streets, had been fined $25 and costs on the charge of violating a city ordinance. He was simply required to pay the costs, which was $5. He promptly closed his store, however, at the suggestion of the Mayor, although believing that he was engaged in a legitimate business.

Cemetery Lodge.

The doors and path for enclosing the Lodge in Oakdale Cemetery have been ordered from New York and will arrive by next steamer. The work is expected to be commenced on Monday or Tuesday next and will probably be completed in about two weeks. It will be a great improvement to the burial ground.

Real Estate.

Messrs. Cronly & Morris advertise this morning a large number of houses and lots, the sale to take place January 30th. In this list may be found stores, dwellings and vacant lots, of all sizes, styles and qualities. Some of the property is unusually desirable, and the sale will no doubt attract great attention.

THE FIRE FIEND.

Another Serious Conflagration.

Yesterday morning, at the unreasonable hour of half-past 2 o'clock, our citizens were aroused from their slumbers by the alarm of fire. The flames originated in a warehouse near the foot of Castle street, the property of Robert Henning, Esq., in which about 40 barrels of spirits of turpentine, belonging to Messrs. G. G. Barker & Co., were stored. The flames took rapid hold upon the building and its contents and soon communicated to the cooper shop adjoining, also the property of Mr. Henning, and from thence to the rosin in the Messrs. Barker's yard, of which there were upwards of 3,000 barrels. The warehouse, cooper shop and rosin were all consumed, together with from 80 to 125 cords of wood belonging to the Wilmington Gaslight Company.

The wind was blowing heavily at the time from the Southeast, which drove the flames in the direction of the river. Had it been from the Southwest instead, there is every probability that we should have been compelled to record one of the most destructive conflagrations which has ever visited our city, as nearly the entire river front from the vicinity of Messrs. Cassidey's ways to the foot of Orange street was completely blockaded with naval stores, leaving scarcely space enough along the whole distance mentioned for an engine to get to the water.

Adjoining the scene of the conflagration on the south was the shipyard of Mr. R. G. Ross, alongside of which was moored the Brig Open Sea and the Schr. J. M. Morales, both awaiting repairs. The flames communicated to the Brig, but were promptly extinguished, and as soon as possible she was cast loose and drifted to the opposite side of the river, from whence she was afterwards removed by the Revenue Cutter Seward. The schooner had been dismantled of her sails and rigging preparatory to putting in a new mast, and it is more than probable that she would have been destroyed but for assistance rendered by the Seward, which took her in tow and removed her to a place of safety. The new mast which was just completed and ready to be put in place was saved by being rolled into the river.

The flames, fed by such a large quantity of combustible material, raged with great fury and vast volumes of smoke was wafted in the direction of Eagle Island. This was filled with sparks, which finally communicated the flames to the office of the Phoenix distillery, owned by Mr. Alfred Martin, but they were extinguished by the watchman before much damage was done.

The losses, as near as they could be ascertained, are as follows: Messrs. G. G. Barker & Co. lost over 3,000 barrels of rosin and 40 casks of spirits, the estimated value of which was about $12,000. Insured in the Liverpool and London and Globe, represented by Messrs. Grime & DeRoset, for $9,000. Mr. Robt. Henning's loss amounted to about $1,500, upon which there was no insurance. The loss of the Gas Company in wood, &c., destroyed amounted to about $500; no insurance. Mr. R. G. Ross estimates his loss in spars, lumber, &c., at about $40; no insurance.

The fire, as before stated, originated in the warehouse in which was stored the spirits belonging to Messrs. Barker & Co., and these gentlemen express themselves as perfectly satisfied that it was the work of an incendiary. It will be remembered that a colored man, by the name of John Davis, was arrested a few weeks since for breaking into the same warehouse and is now in jail awaiting trial for that crime and also for an assault with a razor upon Mr. Hugh Green, who assisted in his capture. They think there may possibly be some connecting link between the two occurrences.

The fire engines and Hook and Ladder truck were promptly on the spot and worked with their usual energy and zeal. The Cape Fear, unfortunately broke down shortly after getting to work, and only succeeded in getting a stream on the fire about 4 o'clock, after the flames were under control.

A shovel brigade, under Sergeant Van Soelen, of the police force, did good service in keeping the melted rosin from running in the streets and retarding the operations of the fire department, by shovelling sand upon it.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.

A Flat Swamped and a Colored Man Drowned.

Last night about 8 o'clock, as a flat loaded with turpentine, tar and peanuts, was about landing at the wharf of Mr. Alfred Martin on South Water street, it became swamped by the heavy sea prevailing and sunk. There were on the flat at the time, Mr. Charles Howe, a well known resident of Point Caswell, in this county, and three colored men. Mr. Howe and two of the colored men narrowly escaped with their lives, while the other colored man, whose name was Dick Sellers, better known as "One-eyed Dick," was drowned. Mr. G. C. Shields, Mr. Daniel Sheehan and others, who happened in the vicinity, exerted themselves to the utmost to save the men, but the poor fellow who went to the bottom seemed to have lost all presence of mind and made no exertions to save himself. The flat drifted to the foot of Market dock, where it was secured and hands were employed to land such of the cargo as had not washed off.

Madam Jansaukeh and Royalty.

We observe that this celebrated vocalist, who is to appear before Wilmington concert-goers next Monday, has been the recipient of $100,000 worth of valuables from European sovereigns—among others, the cross with the large solitaire, presented to her by the Emperor of Russia, and valued at $10,000; the solitaire earrings, presented by the King of Holland, valued at $18,000; the large solitaire diamond ring, presented by the Arch Duke of Austria, valued at $15,000; the ruby and diamond brooch, the gift of the Queen of Wurtemberg, valued at $5,000; the diamond and sapphire bracelet, presented by the Crown Prince of Russia; the emerald set, by the Princess Olga; the diamond bracelet, by the King of Bavaria, etc. The value of the whole collection exceeds $100,000.

—Gen. C. B. Stuart, President of the Norfolk, Wilmington and Charleston Railroad, who was expected to arrive last evening, did not put in an appearance. He will probably reach here this morning.

UPOLONG WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS as a MEDICINE and BEVERAGE.—As a general beverage, a necessary corrector of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as Lime-stone, Sulphate of Copper, etc., the Aromatic Schiedam Schnapss is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. Its purity and exemption from all grossly intoxicating properties, combined with its mildly stimulating and invigorating elements, establish it as the only alcoholic beverage in our country that can be imbibed with pleasure and safety. The nervous system and debility which follow the administration of other alcoholic preparations and mixtures of the day, succumb by their intense and painful nervous reactions, are unknown, as the subsequent effects of the Schiedam Schnapss, even when taken so freely, while as a stomachic, a tonic appetizer, it stands pre-eminent among the established curatives of the day.

A public trial of twenty years' duration, in every section of our country, of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapss, has unqualifiedly endorsed by the medical faculty and a sale unequalled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation of purity and safety, and it is now the property of its original introduction to the public.
