The Cotton-Tax Refunding Bill-The Bowen-Belarge Contested Election Report of the Committee Arkan-

Nearly all the members of Congress present in Washington from the cotton States, at a conference last evening, agreed on a new bill to refund the cotton tax, which they will press in Congress this session instead of the bill hitherto introduced by McKee, of Mississippi. The provisions of the latter are materially changed so as to carefully look after the interests of the planters and freedmen in securing to them absolutely the return of cotton tax that they tely the return of cotton tax that they

The report of the Committee on Elections The report of the Committee on Elections in the case of Christopher C. Bowen, contesting the seat of Robert C. DeLarge, from the Second Congressional District of South Carolina, says the Committee find upon the whole evidence that DeLarge did not receive a majority of the votes legally cast and is not entitled to the seat. This case came before the Committee to be heard at the Debefore the Committee to be heard at the De-cember session of 1871 and 1872. DeLarge then applied for a postponement and for leave to take further testimony on the ground that the counsel employed by him to pre pare his case and take testimony in his be-half had possession of the evidence and re-fused to surrender the same to be used before the Committee; and further, that said fore the Committee; and further, that said counsel had been tampered with and bribed by Bowen to act for him. The Committee found both these allegations to be proved. Some of the Committee are of opinion that this proceeding, which would furnish ground this proceeding, which would furnish ground for the expulsion of the contestant if he were a member, would justify a refusal to permit him to proceed with the contest or to award him the seat. An opportunity to take further testimony was granted to said member and for that purpose the case was postponed to the present session of Congress. An examination of all the testimony and the statements, on both sides, show that the frauds and irregularities in the conduct of the election were so great that it is impossible to determine which had the majority of the ballots cast, and for this reason the seat should be declared vacant.

It further appears that on the 19th of October, 1870, on the same day when he claims to have been elected to the House of Representatives, the contestant was chosen member of the House of Representatives of South Carolins for a period of two years, and on the 1st of November took his seat as a member of said House. It further appears that in 1872 Bowen was elected Sheriff of Charleston for a term of four years, and in November last took the oath of office and entered upon the duties of the same, which office he now holds.

These offices are in their nature incompatible with the office of member of this House and are expressly declared to be so by the Constitution of South Carolina.— Some of the Committee are of opinion that the acceptance of this office by Bowen disualifies him from the further prosecution of a claim to a seat therein, if he should be ound to have been duly elected. While littee are unanimous in finding these facts, they are not unanimous in hold-ing that either one of the reasons aforesaid is sufficient of itself to disqualify the con-testant, but they are unanimously of the opinion, on the whole case, that Bowen is not entitled to the seat, and therefore re-commend the adoption of a resolution that neither DeLarge nor Bowen is entitled to

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.

Severe Battle with the Modec Indians-The U. S. Troops Lose 40 Killed and Wounded and Retreat to Their SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.

A dispatch from Yrecke states that a mesage had just arrived at that place from the headquarters of Gen. Wheaton, commanding the troops in the action against the Modoc Indians. A severe battle was fought on Friday by the troops under command of Gen. Wheaton, consisting of 250 regulars, two companies of Oregon volunteers and 25 riflemen of California, under command of Capt. Fairchild, making altogether about 400 men. The battle took place near the Eastern shore of Tule lake. Capt. Bernard, on Thursday, went around the north end of the lake to the east side and to the east of Capt. Jack's position. He was to advance against Capt, Jack from the east and Gen. Wheaton from the southwest, the hre of the howitzer. On Thursday night such a dense fog enveloped the country that they could not see forty yards. The two forces were about twelve miles apart, though to communicate with each other it was necessary to go a much greater distance. Friday morning Capt, Bernard opened battle against Capt. Jack, who had about 200 warriors concealed among the rocks along a line of two miles in length.

Wheaton heard firing and had no alter-native but to go to the aid of Capt. Bernard. Without the fire of the howitzers the troops fought an unseen foe from 8 o'clock in the morning to dark under a terrific fire, during which scarcely one Indian was seen. The loss to the troops was forty killed and wounded. The loss to the Modocs is unknown. The troops were finally obliged to retreat to their camps. Bernard's forces bore the brunt of the battle and suffered

All the cavalry fought on foot. Among the killed are Frank Trimble and G. R. Brown, of Oregon. G. W. Roberts was mortally wounded; Capt. Perry, of the regulars, was seriously and Lieut. Kyle lightly wounded.

The movement is called a forced reconnoissance of Capt. Jack's position. The leaders say they think about 1,000 men will be required to dislodge him from the lava beds. The troops will only try to prevent the Modocs from raiding on the settlement, and will wait for reinforcements.

Especially, who have become the victims of Sciltary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exaited talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the the thunders of cloquence, or waked to eestacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

immediately cured and fail vigor restored.

This distressing affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensite. Now, who that understands this subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudential? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, Loss of Procreative Power. Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE SPEEDILY WARRANTED. Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders who keep them trifling month after mouth, taking poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply

DR. JOHNSTON, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduate of one of the most eminent colleges in the United States, and the best part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured them-selves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad melanchely effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirita, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitade. Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now indge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and ema-ciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, couph and symptoms of Consumption. YOUNG MEN

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pligrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with A CERTAIN DISEASE,

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him. He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, incapable of curing, filch his pecuniary substance, keep him trifling month after menth, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with ruined health to sigh over his galling disappointment; or, by the use of that deadily poison, Mercury, cause the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease to make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches an the head and face, and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the vietim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his decadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whose bourne no traveler returns," To such, therefore, Dr. Johnson offers the most certain, speedy, pleasant and effectual remedy in the world.
