WILMINGTON, CHARLOTTE AND RUTHERFORD BAILWAY.

Consignees on and near the line of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railway are loud in their complaints of a regulation of the Company that requires storage to be paid on all goods not removed from depots within 24 to 48 hours after delivery, according to distance of consignee's residence from the road.

As we understand the matter, parties living 10 or more miles from the road must remove their goods from the depot at which they are delivered. or they are required to pay storage on the same.

It is possible there may be some exaggeration as to the extent of the inconvenience to which the complainants are subjected; but that there is good ground for a protest we have every reason to believe. It appears to us unreasonable to require a consignee who resides 10 or 15 miles from a depot to remove his goods within 48 hours after they are transferred to the warehouse, under penalty of a charge for storage. And we are sustained in this view by the fact that, in one neighborhood, on the Charlotte road, several persons who formerly shipped and received freights by that road have changed their business to another route rather than submit to the new regulation. As this is an injury both to the Railway Company and to Wilmington, we trust there will be some modification of the rule.

LAST NIGHT'S MAIL

The Franking Privilege.

It actually looks as if that longlived abuse, the franking privilege, were doomed at last. The House passed a bill for its abolition at the last session of Congress; now the Senate, which has been ruefully looking at the matter for many months. has enacted that bill with some important amendments. If it were not for these additions to the bill by the Senate, the death of the franking privilege would be to-day an accom-plished fact. As it is, the House is likely to concur; at any rate, it does not seem likely that the two branches of Congress will disagree on any point which would be fatal to the final passage of the bill. This seems a great victory for reform and economy. But we have been disappointed too often;-we do not mean to rejoice now till the result is beyond recall. - Tribuna within the last week or so in which their skill has been put to a practical test. It is only a few nights since that a successful

raid was made upon the residence of Mr.

night, about the same time, an attempt was made to effect an en-

The main building of the mill had been standing about 81 years, having been completed in 1791, by Rev. G. Shober, and was probably the first paper mill established in the South, and for many years the only one in the State. The old process of handmade paper was profitably carried on for many years by Mr. Shober, who, when becoming aged and infirm, transferred the property to his son, Emanuel Shober, after which it changed hands a number of times,

finally coming into possession of Mr. Gray,

who had just put the whole mill in good repair and increased its capacity considerably, at a cost of some $4,000. The mill

GENTLEMEN: The Special Committee appointed by you to confer with a Committee of the Board of County Commissioners and County Examiner of Hew Hanover county, reference to free schools, beg leave to report that from a computation made it appears that there are about 4,100 persons within the school age resident in the city of Wilmington, and of that number but few attend school-one-half, at least, should attend schools, which is not the case.

It is estimated that 1,300 pupils can be schooled at an expense of $7,000 per annum, a fraction above $5 per school year of eight months for each pupil. To meet this expense the following amounts will be available for the support of schools during the year 1873, within the From Taxes of 1872.....$1,000 Capitation Tax of 1873...... 2,000

Mayor's Court. The only case before the Mayor's Court yesterday morning was that of a young colored man by the name of Edward Russell, charged with cursing and otherwise insulting a gentleman in his own yard, for no other reason, we learn, than that he required to know the business of said Russell on his premise. He was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $5. But for the leniency of the prosecutor the fine would no doubt have been much larger.

Much complaint exists in reference to the practice indulged in by a great many boys of both colors, of "shinnying" on the pub lic streets, whereby windows are broken in many instances, people living in the vicinity are annoyed by the noise, and persons pass ing are liable to get their "shins" broken.

The thief who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store, in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and baid too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a feeded hyperter as effectually chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to baid and gray heads it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Schrappe seem to be extensively gaining on public confidence, and promises to take the place of every other liquor now in use, especially for medicinal use.

This is not surprising; for, apart from its being found in most of our Drug Stores in this city and country, and its being strongly commended by the physicians, the mild and agreeable taste of this article, contrasted with the strong, pungent and actual sensation produced on the palate by the common deleterious article—which is now the general complaint of nearly all the medical faculty of this country—would, of itself, suffice to give it the decided preference. If prescribed as a medicine, it is not bad to take; and to use as a beverage it is considered by judges to be superior to any article of the kind ever imported into the country.

The bill, reported by Mr. Allen, on the subject of amnesty, &c., was made the special order for to-day at 12 o'olock. On motion of Mr. Love, the rules were suspended and the bill for the relief of sheriffs and tax collectors, reported by him this morning, was put upon its passage. [The original bill provided that the collection of arrears of taxes for the years 1869, 1870, 1871 and 1872 be extended to the 1st of January 1874. The amendments of the committee included the striking out of the year 1869; the provision that no taxpayer who can swear that he has paid or believes that he has paid the taxes claimed, shall be required to pay the alleged arrears, and that executors and administrators shall not be required to pay arrearages. In no case shall a sheriff or tax collector who has not fully settled for his State and county taxes be entitled to the benefits of the proposed to authorize the collection of arrearages for 1869, and he objected to a fourth bill. The Legislature should teach sheriffs and tax collectors that there was a limit beyond which they should not go. The bill, as proposed to be amended by the committee, would restore the old law on the subject. The rule had been established that three years was sufficiently long for sheriffs, &c., to collect arreages.

The amendment of the committee strik-ing out the year 1869 was rejected.

The other amendments proposed by the committee were adopted.

Mr. Dunham favored the amendment. Mr. Merrimon opposed the amendment. The sheriffs had indulged an impoverished people by paying their taxes, and had even been known to borrow for this purpose from the banks at a high rate of interest. These arrears were a debt, for the most part, the State should compel payment of. Mr. Waring concurred in the views of Mr. Merrimon.

Mr. Nicholson also concurred in those Mr. Gudger concurred in the views of Mr. Love.

Mr. Stilley was opposed to the entire bill Mr. Norwood opposed the amendment. Marris, col., also opposed it. Mr. Waring called the previous question. which was ordered.

Mr. Love called the years and navs on his amendment. The amendment was rejected-31 to 12.

The bill then passed its third reading-The bill to be entitled "An act for Amnesty and Pardon," the special order for 12 o'clock, was put upon its passage. [This bill proposes to grant amnesty and pardon to all persons who have committed breaches of the peace, or who are charged with doing so, prior to the 1st day of September. 1871 members of any other organization secret or otherwise, political or otherwise, by whatever name known or called," &c The substitute of the committee was the

Mr. Allen explained that the substitute of the committee was nothing more than a trimming of the original bill-a lopping off of what the committee on the judiciary considered unnecessary language or verbiage, Mr. A. went on to say that he offered the bill not for the purpose of vindicating or protecting himself. He had never been a member of any secret organization except that of the Masonic fraternity, and had made up his mind when a young man never to join any secret political organization The bill was offered as a peace offering for the purpose of restoring peace and quiet to the troubled waters.

The substitute was adopted. Mr. Seymour was unwilling to class the Union Leagues, &c., with the Invisible Empire or to admit, even by implication, that the former had been guilty of any breach of the law. Mr. Morehead, of Guilford, answered the objections of Mr. Seymour. Charges, whether true or false, had been made against all the societies or organizations named, and he could not think of applying the provisions of the bill to one without extending them to all. The excesses committed had been perpetrated in the trans ition from a revolution to a state of peace Many of these acts had been committed by misguided men in the belief of their right to do them under a tax execution of the law. He had no apology to make for any violation of the law; but he thought this the proper time for the exercise of amnesty and
