NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. ADRIAN & VOLLERS, -Hay! Hay! CRONLY & MORRIS - Auction Sale. JAMES WILSON, Mayor.-City Notice.

A Prominent Mercantile Firm of Fayetteville Victimized.

A prominent mercantile firm of Fayetteville was made the victim a few days since of a trick, the equal of which, especially in the daring effrontery of the perpetrator, we have seldom heard or read of in the annals of roguery. A neatly dressed man, of prepossessing appearance, entered the store and after looking about a while remarked to one of the proprietors that he was indebted to the firm in the sum of $100 and would like to have his bill made out and receipted and he would pay the amount. The proprietor said he remembered nothing of the occurrence, but asked him his name, and, upon one assumed for the being given, the book-keepoccasion requested to see if there was er was any charge against him. An examinabooks was made and no such name could be found. "Nevertheless," remarked the unknown, "I purchased a bill of goods in this store to the amount stated, on sixty days' time." He then went on to designate the different clerks who served him on the occasion. The storekeeper was astounded at the apparent honesty of the stranger, a quality so rare among the human family in these degenerate times, and proceeded to lecture his book-keeper for his carelessness and neglect in not entering the sale at the time. He then made out the bill and receipted it, when the amount was paid over .--The stranger then sauntered about of goods.

- We learn that the dried fruit referred to in our editorial columns a few days since has been found in a warehouse on the Greenville and Columbia road. This information, we hear, comes from the freight agent of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta railway. - The outside plastering of the county jail is gradually becoming loose and tumbling down. Quite a large piece became detached from the building a few days since and fell among a party of gentlemen standing near the wall, striking one of them on the head and hurting him considerably. It should receive attention from the authorities.

Superior Court.

A good portion of the day, yesterday, was consumed in the trial of Essex Hill, charged with the larceny of a trunk and contents during the fire on North Water street last Fall. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The following cases of submission were entered:

Samuel Williams and Sophia Moore, F. and A., were discharged on the payment of costs. Annie Hill, for keeping a disorderly house. Discharged on the payment of costs. Lewis Gause, charged with larceny, was found guilty. John Divine and Wm. Brooks," charged with keeping a disorderly house at or near the corner of Mulberry and Water streets, were found guilty.

The Grand Jury was discharged yesterday, after performing a large amount of business. A large number of true bills were returned, many of which have not yet found their way on the docket. The cases against the city in reference to the Market House and the condition of the streets have been continued over to the next term, as also a number of cases against merchants for non-compliance with the law requiring them to have their licenses and tax receipts registered and countersigned by the Register of Deeds.

Floral College.

The next tern of this excellent institution of learning for females commences on Monday, with Rev. Archibald Baker as Principal. This school was first organized at Charlotte in 1841, since which time, under of the latter, advertisers will find it an admirable medium of communication with the farmers and planters of the two Carolinas.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as UDOLPHO WOLPE'S SCHIERAM SCHNAPPS, was introduced into the world under the endorse-ment of four thousand leading members of the med-ical profession, some twenty years ago, its proprie-tor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful prepara-tions. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the strongest possible safeguard against counterfeit-ers and imitators, to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distin-guished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirits ever manufactured. Its pu-rity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thou-sand physicians, including all the leading practition-ers in the United States, for the purpose of experi-ment. A circular, requesting a trial of the prepara-tion and report of the result, accompanied each spec-imen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical y known as UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, tion and report of the result, accompanied each spec-imen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opin-ions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which wer more or less adulterated, and therefore unit for me nore or licinal more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for me-dicinal purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative. feb 6-1w ADRIAN & VOLLERS, Agents.
