The grave situation in Spain, as indicated in late cable dispatches, is altogether incomprehensible. Only two or three days since, the Cortes gave almost a unanimous vote of confidence in the Government. Why then should the young and amiable King desire to abdicate! He has not the age and the honors of Diocletian and Charles V., and Spain is comparatively quiet.

The Killing of a Negro Man and Cutting of Another.

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff W. L. G. Kent, of Norfolk county, reported at the police station that a murder had been committed on the Princess Anne road, about 41 miles from the city, and that the murderer had made his escape and was supposed to be concealed in the city. His call was to receive the assistance of the police authorities here, in order to ferret the

We were unable to learn the particulars of the affair. It seems, however, that a difficulty occurred between two negroes named George Moran, - Steven, and another whose name we could not hear. In the affray the man Stevens was stabbed and killed by the negro Moran, who also wounded the other, and then made his escape. Moran is stated to be a very large and powerful man. On hearing the report from Sheriff Kent instructions were at once given to the police to be on the lookout for the murderer.-Norfolk Virginian.

Railroad Accident.

An accident occurred on the Wilmington. Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad on Sat urday evening last which narrowly escaped proving disastrous in its results. A timber train was crossing the bridge over the Pee Dee River when the engine and tender ran off the track, going for some distance on the cross beams, jumping from one to the other and coming within six inches of running off the side, in which case the engine and tender and in all probability the entire train would have been precipitated to the rocky bed of the river, at least 50 feet below. The engineer and fireman stuck to their posts and to their skillful and heroic efforts is due the safety of the train, as well as of themselves. The up passenger train was close behind the timber train, and Capt. Leggett, the Conductor, found it necessary to secure another engine and some spare cars, to which the mails and passengers were transferred and taken to Lilesville, where they arrived only about an hour behind the usual time.

An exciting runaway occurred near the corner of Eighth and Chesnut streets, yesterday afternoon. A horse attached to a dray, which was driven by a colored man, got frightened at something and dashed up and down the streets and alleys in that vicinity at a fearful rate, throwing the driver out, frightening the women and children, knocking down fences, etc. He was finally arrested in his mad career with but little damage to himself or vehicle.

Trouble in the Camp. A very prominent colored Republican of tfis State has lodged a statement with the the Secretary of the Treasury, in which gross charges are made against the Supervisor of Revenue in regard to his moral conduct, etc., etc. Whether or not the charges will be made good is a question, but from what we know of the individual who makes them we are satisfied that everything that shrewdness and energy can accomplish will be brought to bear in the case. Look out for war among the faithful.

Running Bown a Lamp Post.

A colored man by the name of Riley Burnett was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of driving his vehicle against one of the street lamp posts and knocking it down. He was taken to the Guard House, but released by the City Marshal on the payment of costs.

Thos. Conner, charged with keeping a disorderly house at the corner of Nutt and Mulberry streets, was found not guilty.

In the case of Wm. Brooks, convicted of keeping a disorderly house, a motion was made for a new trial, which was overruled by His Honor, when an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, defendant being held in the sum of $200, said security to be approved by the Clerk.

In the case of Wm. H. Harrison, convicted of forgery, a motion was made for a new trial, which was overruled and an appeal taken.

Henry King, charged with larceny, was found not guilty.

The civil docket will probably be reached by Wednesday or Thursday.

The Cantata To-Night. The Cantata of New Year's Eve, in which sixty performers are to appear, will come off at City Hall this morning. The most elaborate and thorough arrangements have been made to secure for this entertainment a degree of excellence which has seldom if ever been attained by any similar performance in this city. The staging of the Hall has been enlarged so as to adapt it to the occasion and will be beautifully and appropriately arranged by the ladies, who have charge of the matter, assisted by Manager Spalding

The tickets, which are for sale at Heinsberger's Bookstore and Mebane's drug store, are being taken very rapidly, and we predict a crowded house this evening.

Backed Into the River.

A drayman attempted to back his horse and dray to the end of the wharf foot of Princess street, yesterday morning, to take in a load of wood, but in doing so the animal gave the vehicle a little more impetus than was intended and dray and horse plunged backwards into the river. The drayman, together with a few friends, rushed to the rescue and finally succeeded in getting the animal into the dock and from thence safely on to the wharf. No dam-

Serious Result. We regret to learn that the blow received by Capt. B. G. Bryan, Conductor on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, near Whiteville, on Thursday morning last, caused by some scoundrel throwing a missile through the window of the car, is likely to result in the loss of his eye.

The cowardly villain who perpetrated the act should be hunted up and awarded the punishment he deserves:

Last night, about half past 9 o'clock, a colored man, by the name of William Ellis, engaged in unloading a flat at the wharf of Messrs. Worth & Worth, accidentally fell overboard and was drowned before any assistance could be rendered him. He arose to the surface once, but after slapping the water two or three times with his hands, showing that he was evidently unable to swim, he disappeared beneath the waves and was seen no more. The other hands on the flat made every effort to rescue their comrade, but without avail.

Mr. Flanner was well known in this city, where he has many relatives and friends, who will be grieved to hear of his death.

Deceased was a native of Ireland, and was about 36 years of age. He was interred in Oakdale Cemetery yesterday.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so wide ly known as Upolpho Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, ly known as Udolpho Wolfe's Schiedam Schnaffs, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession, some twenty years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters and imitators, to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirits ever manufactured. Its pudifficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirits ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for the purpose of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be piaced on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medicinal purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingradients of the Schnappa, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty; a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diurctic, tonic and restorative.

DIED. MOTT.—In this city on the afternoon of the 9th instant, of dropsy, Mr. Benjamin Mott, aged 43 years. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this

North Carolina Legislature.

[Condensed from the Raleigh Sentinel.]

SATURDAY, Feb. 5, 1873. SENATE.

President Brogden in the chair. Mr. Respass rose to a question of personal privilege, and said: Mr. PRESIDENT, I see in yesterday's Era a communication under the head of "Have we a Republican Party in N. C.?" in which the insignificant author attempts to cast reflections upon the course of Republican members of this General Assembly, and especially upon certain Senators, myself included, for voting for certain of the constitutional amendments. Sir, as a Republican, I challenge a single step of inconsistency in my whole political life. The Republican party, if the writer knew anything of their past history, have pledged themselves in their State Convention in favor of many of the proposed amendments to the constitution, and in the campaign of 1871 on every political hustings, they pledged the peo-ple their support in changing the constitution by legislative enactment; and there are many Republicans who are in favorable to some of the proposed amendment and would vote for them but for such small-minded demagogues as "Linville, who only can or will be known as Republicans of doubtful value and of as little honor, integrity or consistency as he has common sense or wish for the success of the Republican party. And when he says that I am afraid to express my honest convictions on this floor, or that I have been made by Democrats or by anything else above an honest conviction, his scurrilous article included, to support any measure except for the good of North Carolina and the best interests of the Republican party, the least I can say of him is that he is a base liar.

Mr. Cramer endorsed the remarks of Mr. Respess as a Republican. Mr. Love said it would be remembered that recently a question arose in the Senate as to which was entitled to precedence, a 'special order," the hour for its consideration having arrived, or another bill then under consideration, on which the "previous question" had been called, the call sustained, and the ayes and noes ordered. The chair decided in favor of the special order. Mr. Love appealed. The chair was sustained, by a very decided vote-Mr. Love and three or four others, voting in the negative. Mr. Love stated that he was so well assured he was in the right that he had written to Washington, and now held in and Speaker Blaine, accomplished, thorough parliamentarians, endorsed his posi
