IMPORTANT ACTION OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

It will be seen by reference to the proceedings of the Chamber of Commerce, published in our local columns, that at the meeting of that body yesterday the question of railroad management on business principles was introduced. Other engagements prevented our attendance at this meeting, but we are informed by a gentleman who was present that the outrageous discrimination against local freights by the railways under the control of the Southern Railway Security Company was made the basis of some telling speeches; and a Committee, consisting of Mesers. Donald McRae, Chas. H. Robinson, D. R. Murchison and A. H. VanBokkelen, was appointed with instructions to confer with the railroad officials and demand relief; and, failing in this, to memorialize the Legislature on the

The meeting was characterized by a spirit of genuine determination, as was clearly shown by the remarks of all the speakers. The discussion was all on one side, not a solitary voice being raised in defence of the railroad patriots who are sacrificing so much of their time, talent and money in building up the commercial interests of Wilmington!

This action of the Chamber of Commerce is a triumphant vindication of the course of THE MORNING STAR in denouncing in proper terms the unjust discrimination made against Wilmington by those who now control the railway lines on which we are largely dependent for our trade.

Forbearance has indeed ceased to be a virtue; and the railroad raiders who have seized the lines of trade and travel in North Carolina will find that there is a power greater even than that of Tom Scott and his cohorts. That power is the voice of an outraged people.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The following amendments to the Constitution of the State have passed their third reading by the requisite two-thirds vote, and now awaits the action of the House:

Bill in relation to the Public Debt. Bill in relation to State University -taking it out of the Common School

Bill abolishing the office of Superintendent of Public Works.

Bill in relation to exemptions.

Bill in relation to State Census.

Bill in relation to Public Charities.

Bill in relation to Federal officeholders.

Bill in relation to biennial sessions of the Legislature.

The amendments in reference to the Judiciary department and the township system failed to pass their second readings.

On motion, the report was received and approved.

The following resolution, offered by Mr. Jas. A. Bradley, was unanimously adopted Resolved, That the exhibit made to the ochholders of the condition of this instituon, manifests the extraordinary zeal and kill accompanied by commendable pru-tence which has characterized the general management of its business since its first canization, and the success which has re-ted entitles the President, Isaac B. Grainger, and the other officials connected with the direction of its affairs to the unqualified approval and sincere thanks of the stockholders.

On motion of David Pigott the stock holders proceeded to the election of eleven Directors for the ensuing year, Messrs. J. A. Bradley and W. A. Williams being appointed Tellers to superintend the election.

The following Directors were elected on the first ballot, each receiving 5,141 votes, viz: I. B. Grainger, D. R. Murchison, H. Vollers, Jas. A. Leak, Silas N. Martin, B. F. Little, Chas. M. Stedman, Jno. W. Hinson, E. B. Borden, M. Weddell and R.

The Wrecked Schooner Maria C. Frye The steamer Waccamaw, with her wreckng party, returned from the wreck of the schooner Maria C. Frye last night. The eamer went down on Tuesday, when Capt. B. W. Beery, with his usual promptness and energy, immediately went to work and organized a bucket brigade, who soon succeeded in extinguishing the fire. On Wednesday morning the steamer returned to Wilmington for additional hands, which were secured, when she returned to the scene of the wreck. In the meantime the heavy sea which prevailed had washed the wreck well up on the beach. All the cargo that had not been destroyed by the fire was removed from the vessel, some of which was taken to Smithville and the balance brought to this city on the Waccamaw last

Recovery of the Body of One of the Lost Pilots. Yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, the body of Thomas Brinkman, one of the five infortunate pilots who was drowned off the Bar on the morning of the 11th of De cember last, was found on or near Battery Island, opposite Smithville. The body was, of course, badly decomposed, part of the head and face being entirely gone, and would not have been identified but for the fact that a pilot order with his name attached and his regular pilot branch or license were found in the pockets of the deceased. The remains were properly cared for and interred at Smithville yesterday afternoon. The pilots were drowned some six or eight miles out at sea, and it is a little remarkable that over two months after the disaster, the body of one should be recovered inside the Bar and so near the friends and relatives who were mourning his untimely end.

We are reques ted to state that there will be a meeting of those interested in the construction of water works for the city of Wilmington at the Commercial Exchange this evening, at 8 o'clock.

This is a step in the right direction, and we hope there will be a general response on the part of our citizens. An abundant supply of water in every part of the city is not orly a necessity as a matter of safety to the property of our people from the ravages of the destroying element, but, when rendered pure and wholesome by the processes usual in all well regulated water works, such as are proposed to be established here, is conducive to the good health of the community.

Let us have the water works by all means, and at the earliest practicable mo-

The Tax-Bill Considered-The Discrimination against Local Freights Denounced-Committee Appointed to Demand Belief.

Pursuant to a call, the members of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday at the Commercial Exchange for the purpose of taking into consideration the City Tax Bill and other matters of importance. The neglect of local freights was brought up and after a lengthy discussion, in which the railroad management was handled without gloves, a Committee, consisting of Messrs. Donald McRae, Chas. H. Robinson, A. H. VanBokkelen and D. R. Murchison, was appointed to confer with the proper railroad authorities and demand relief, and if it could not be obtained from this source to draw up a memorial and resent to the Legislature now in session asking that they take the matter into consideration. The President stated that the Board of Aldermen had appropriated $200 towards the expenses of a Committee to visit Washington in the interest of the Bar and River Improvements, but the question of the necessity of such a step at this late day was a matter of doubt, and he thought it probable that no committee would be appointed for

J. N." to Visit Us.

The immortal philosopher and orator, "J .," is still engaged in his glorious mission "lifting the veil" of prejudice and relieving "the pressure" which bears so heavily on our once favored section. He proposes to accomplish this by standing securely on the great pinacle of Truth and by bringing all men to see that the South contended, in the late "unpleasantness," for principle rather than for power. By this course he hopes to reconcile the sections more securely and effectually than by any other means. The great philosopher writes us from Montgomery, Alabama, by the way, that he will address the Legislature of our State on the 15th or 16th of March, the people of Goldsboro on the 17th and the people of Wilmington on the 18th. It will be remembered that "J. N." visited this city in 1865 and delivered two addresses in front of the Market House, which did much towards "relieving the pressure" under which we were all laboring at that time.

Prot. G. R. Cromwell. Alluding to the Art Entertainments by this gentleman, a series of which our citizens will be treated to at the Opera House next week, commencing on Monday night the Religious Herald, of Richmond, Va. says: "Last week we had the pleasure of witnessing several Art Exhibitions of Mr. G. R. Cromwell's "Cosmorama," consisting of views of architecture, statuary, landscape and other views. The views are admirably developed from photographs, which give far greater accuracy of outline and shadow than any manual drawing could possibly do. The statuary especially resembles reality. These exhibitions are in excellent taste, of unexceptionable character and elevating, refining influence. In various ways, Mr. Cromwell evinced a kindy spirit, and deserves a generous patronage. Our space does not permit a description at length, but we depart from our cus-tom in such cases so far as to advise our friends who may have opportunity, to see this exhibition "Catalog at 1961,196

Collisions on the River.

Quite an excitement was created on the river early yesterday morning, coupled with apprehensions of a terrible disaster. One of the tug-boats with a vessel in tow collided with a schooner at anchor in the stream, shattering her bows pretty badly. A raft happened to be passing in the vicinity at the time and the tug, in [drawing off from the injured vessel, ran over the raft, sinking one end of it some distance below the surface of the water. There were several men on the raft, nearly all of whom were more or less injured, one of them -Mr. John M. Reaves, of Bladen countyquite severely. It was thought at first, by persons on shore, that they would all be drowned, and as it was they made an exceedingly narrow escape.

Annual Statement.

The Annual Statement of the Bank of New Hanover, published in our advertising columns, shows a degree of prosperity during the first year of its existence almost unexampled in the financial history of North Carolina. Its deposits are the largest, we think, ever shown in any Bank Statement in Wilmington, either before or since the war; while its net profits for the year, exceeding 21 per cent, on the capital stock, show a degree of financial healthfulness that must be-very encouraging to the stockholders. The profits for the year just closed, after paying the recently declared dividend of six per cent., will be used in the construction of a bank building suited to the growing busi-

Marine Disaster. A dispatch from Boston, received last night, states that during the thick weather vesterday morning the Schr. Helene, Capt. Adams, bound from this port to Boston, ran ashore on Point Alderton and bilged. The crew were taken off by the life-boat and landed safely at Hull. Nothing can be done towards saving her cargo until the sea subsides. The weather is very rough. The Helens was cleared from Wilmington on the 24th of January by Messrs, E. Collision Among the Drays. During a fierce onslaught upon a somewhat dilapidated wood pile at the foot of Princess street yesterday morning two drays collided, one of the wheels of the hindmost one running into the other until it came in contact with the haunches of the animal attached to it. A correspondent writing from Athens curiously contrasts the mixtures to be found there of ancient and modern civilizations. Railroads spin their trains amid the temples of three thousand years; steamers dash their swells upon the Pireus, and the acream of their whistles resounds from Athos, Pentelicus and Cytheron to Olympus and the heavens beyond their gods.
