Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive without addi-tional charge a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the eminent English painter. The pictures entitled "The Village Belle" and "Crossing the Moor" are 14x30 increas—are printed from 95 differ-ent plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to per-fected by high some chromos are sold for ent plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to per-fect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determi-nation of the conductors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of competition in every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every sub-scriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos de-livered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribu-tion of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers T. C DEROSSET agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribu-tion of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers of a $5 periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of art, and considering the unprecedented cheapness of the price for THE ALDINE itself, the maryel falls little short of a miracle, even to those best acquaint-ed with the achievements of inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances.
