MCIVER TRIUMPHS.

Decision of the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court on Monday, delivered the following opinion, settling the Battle-McIver case:

Consider the case as if Ashley had not resigned. His term would have expired Jan. 1, 1873, if his successor disappearance had been noticed and his had been elected and qualified. As his successor was not elected and qualified, he would have held over. of industriously circulating the report of Constitution, Article 3, section 1. Up to Jan. 1, 1873, he would have held as filling his own term, and after that time as holding over for the election and qualification of his successor.

As Ashlev did resign, and the defendant, McIver, was put in his place; he was put in his place to all intents and purposes, and up to January 1. 1873, filled the vacancy caused by Ashley's resignation, and after that time, as holding over for the election and qualification of his successor. How long he may be entitled to hold over, or when and how his successor is to be "elected and qualified," may be beyond the purposes of this decision; but it would seem that it will be only until the people can elect his success or at the next "general election," to-wit: August, 1874, Article 3, sections 1 and 3. It has been suggested, that as the term for which Mr. Reid was elected was four years, from and after January 1, 1873; and as the defendant, Mr. McIver, is in to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Reid's failure to qualily, he is in Mr. Reid's place to all intents and purposes, and is entitled to hold for the whole four years. But the Constitution is express that Mr. McIver shall hold only until the next election, "and the person then chosen shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term fixed in the first section of the Article," to-wit: four years from Jan. 1, 1873, Article 3, section 13.

It has been suggested that the Governor, instead of appointing Mr. Battle, or allowing Mr. McIver to hold over, ought to have nominated some one to the Senate to fill the vacancy on Jan. 1, 1873. The answer is, that the Governor never nominates to the Senate to fill vacancies. He does that alone in all cases. But where officers have to be appointed to fill a regular term, then he nominates to the Senate, unless it be an offi- of the prowling vagabonds who are concer who is elected by the people; stantly on the watch for an opportunity to and then he never nominates to the Senate but fills the vacancy or term by his own appointment, [unless there is an officer holding over, | until the people can elect as in this case. Besides, the provisions of the Constitution already quoted refer to the numerous authorities cited by defendant's counsel which were to the point and conclusive. See also People vs. Bledso et al and People vs. McKee et al, at this term. There is no error. Judgment affirmed. READE, J.

- We regret very much to learn that Prof. M. Fetter, formerly of the University, now principal of Vine Hill Academy, Halifax county, was thrown from a buggy on Saturday evening last and had his left thigh broken. The horses of Mr. R. H. Smith, Jr., also became unmanageable and ran off, breaking his carriage badly and severely injuring Mrs. A. H. Smith, who attempted to jump from the carriage.

Wreck of the Steamship Volunteer.

From the Norfolk Virginian of yesterday we have full particulars of the wreck of the steamship Volunteer, Capt. Crossman, bound from New York to this city. The steamer went ashore on Kitty Hawk beach, twelve miles from Body Island and three miles from the wreck of the steamship Adriadne. From Capt, Crossman, who arrived at Norfolk on Tuesday evening, the Virginian has the following particulars of the disaster: "The steamer left New York on the evening of Saturday, the 22d, at 7 o'clock, with an assorted cargo, bound to Wilmington, North Carolina. The voyage was a very pleasant one up to midnight of Sunday, when a very heavy anow storm and gale sprung up, which increased in intensity as the night wore on. About 3 o'clock on Monday morning she struck the beach. Efforts were made to work her off, but without avail, the surf being so heavy, and the wind blowing from the northeast, rendered the efforts fruitless. About twenty minutes after the vessel beached, she began to leak. Captain Crossman then concluded to land, for the purpose of coming to Norfolk to get necessary assistance. The crew remaining on the vessel for the purpose of endeavoring to save what portion of the cargo they can, with the assistance of the residents on the beach, and may possibly be gotten off, should the weather prove favorable. On arriving here he reported to Captain Thomas Crellin, Agent of the Underwriters, who will depart with the captain for the vicinity of the wreck to-day.' Messrs. Barry Brothers, Agents of the Lorillard Line in this city, received a dispatch from Capt. Crossman yesterday, stating that he hoped to get the steamer off and bring her to Wilmington.

Henry Berry Lowrey.

the Lumberton Robesonian has the following: "A 'reliable gentleman from Robeson' has been practicing upon the credulity of the Florence (S. C.) Pioneer about the outlaws of this county. The statement published by the Pioneer we know to be inaccurate in some respects, and have reason to belive that it is wholly fictitious. The Pioneer states that Henderson, the Herald correspondent, went into Scuffletown on Monday following the safe robbery in this town, and that a 'colored man' saw Henry Berry Lowrey in Scuffletown during the stay of Henderson in that region. But the truth is that Henderson's arrival took place several weeks after the safe robbery, and Lowrey's death pretty well ascertained before the Herald correspondent came. Again, instead his death, as stated by the Pioneer, Lowrey's friends stoutly denied that he was dead until the fact became so well known that further efforts at concealment were useless. The remainder of the story of the 'reliable gentleman' referred to, that Mrs. Lowrey receives 'pecuniary aid' from Henderson, &c., &c., we regard as extremely doubtful. In fact, we may say that we don't believe a

The Proposed Ship Canal.

It will be remembered that a bill incorporating the proposed Wilmington Ship Canal Company was introduced in the Legislature a short time since and referred to a Committee for a report. The Committee subsequently submitted a report favoring the enterprise, but after some consideration it was finally recommitted. A few daps since Col. W. L. DeRosset, President of the Chamber of Commerce of this city. visited Raleigh, had an interview with the Committee, and discussed the matter of the feasibility of the scheme with Major Young in their presence. Subsequently the Committee, with unanimous voice, submitted a report unfavorable to the granting of the said act of incorporation. Should the bill ultimately pass, however, it is understood that it will be with the following

That it shall not be lawful for the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Wilmington to submit to the popular vote of the citizens of Wilmington the question, whether the said city shall or shall not take two hundred thousand dollars stock in the Wilmington Ship Canal Company, until said company has made a survey of the route of proposed canal; and further, said company shall procure an estimate of the cost of constructing said canal, and said estimate shall be signed by three competent officers of the United States Engineers. And the cost of said canal shall not exceed - dollars, and upon report of said survey and estimated cost of constructing said canal being made to the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Wilmington, being made by said Canal Company, the said Chamber of Commerce may request the Mayor and Aldermen of said city of Wilmington to submit to the popular vote of the citizens of Wilmington the question as to whether the said city shall take two hundred thousand dollars stock in the Wilmington Ship Canal Company. The Mayor and Aldermen may then submit to the popular vote of the citizens of Wilmington the question as above cited in above sec-

Sam. Perry, the Wife Murderer.

Officer Isaac H. Brown, who was sent by Sheriff Black to capture Samuel Perry, the wife murderer, returned to this city last evening. Mr. Brown states that he spent several days in the neighborhood where the murder was committed; that he made a diligent effort to capture the murderer; that his usual haunts were visited; that suspected places were watched by day and by night, and that he raised a posse of over fifty men to scour the neighborhood. He says that there is no evidence that the murderer has been in the neighborhood since the crime was committed. On the contrary, it is believed by the best informed that he left the vicinity of Burgaw immediately afterwards. When he shot his wife he threw down his gun and ammunition, and was heard to remark that he was going back home to Georgia, and it is the general impression that he has done so.

THE RAILROAD QUESTION.

Reply of the Chamber of Commerce, Through Their Committee, to Mr. Bridgers' Communication.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Feb. 27, 1873. The Committee recently appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to remonstrate with the Railroad authorities deem it proper to submit the following by way of re-ply to the letter of President Bridgers, pub-lished in the city papers of the 26th instant: Although the Associated Press dispatch, to which reference is made, substantially expresses the feeling and action of the Chamber of Commerce, the Committee disclaim all responsibility for its publication. The resolution of the Chamber of Commerce grew out of the report of a former committee-setting forth that the President of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Road had been "interviewed" concerning the grievances of which our merchants complained, and had vouchsafed neither reply nor redress; as he was absent from the city at the time of our appointment, we awaited his return, and on the

R: GENTLEMEN:-At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the undersigned were appointed a committee to call to your attention the serious discontent existing in the mercantile community of our section, and of the State at large, in consequence of the discrimination in favor of what is known as "through business," and we respectfully appeal to you for such a change of the resent system as shall secure to the local ousiness that precedence to which in our

In conclusion, we wish respectfully to state that the feeling of dissatisfaction is so universal that the body we represent saw proper to instruct us, in case this application is disregarded by you, to employ counsel and appeal for redress of our grievances to the Legislature of the State. We deem it unnecessary to go into detail as to the ground of complaint, but are prepared to do so if desired. A. H. VANBOKKELEN, DONALD MCRAE, D. R. MURCHISON,

CHAS, H. ROBINSON. The Committee would explain further that they have heard no complaints as to rates charged; but only as to the inexcusable delay in the movement of local freights. They feel that it would be unjust to Mr. Bridgers to cast all the onus of delay upon him, as he has not been furnished by those higher in authority with the transportation requisite for the rapid clearing up of both through and local, and from the nature of his duties, is so frequently absent from the city as to render it impossible that complaints should have always his personal at-

Mr. Bennett, from the special commit-ee appointed to consider the case of Mr. Anderson, of Clay, submitted the following

The committee appointed by this House to investigate the matter of the letter written by J. S. Anderson, a member of the House of Representatives, to J. W. Norwood, Senator in this General Assembly report as follows:

The committee have examined Mr. Anderson in the premises, and his evidence, together with that of other member of the House, is herewith submitted for the action

It will be seen by the testimony adduced that the letter in question was sketched by Mr. Josiah Turner, at the instance of Mr. Anderson, and re-written with possibly a verbal amendment by Mr. Anderson. Your committee are of opinion that Mr. Anderson had no purpose to infringe the privileges of Senator Norwood by writing the letter and that he really did not know that the contract already made in reference to the public printing was protected by the safeguards of the Constitution and the United States

In his anxiety to serve Mr. Turner in this case, he has exceeded the bounds of sound discretion, and put himself, to say the least of it, in a very awkward position We recommend that the House judge him with as much lenience as it deemeth consistent with the facts submitted.

Mr. Maxwell, a bill to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors near Mayer's church and White Oak church, in the county of Mr. Bryson, of Swain, a bill to amend the charter of the Western Division of Western

Special order being the bill to grant amnesty and pardon, was taken up and discussed at length. Messrs. Watson and Morrison advocated the passage of the bill. Messrs. Bowman, Trivett, Marler and Bryan of Alleghany spoke against it. At half-past two o'clock the House adjourned without a vote being taken. The question comes up to-night, first on Mr. Badger's amendment which reads: Provided that nothing herein contained shall extend to pardon any person or persons guilty of de-liberate and wilful murder, robbery, arson, burglary or other felony, or any deliberate and wilful misdemeanor, anything to the contrary notwithstanding; Provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall extend to pardon any person or persons against whom indictments have been found.
