The Conflict in Louisiana. Current with the adjournment of Congress without taking action to settle the issues presented by the rival governments of Louisiana came the crisis in the political affairs of the State, and the result is bloodshed. An attempt by the McEnery government to take possession of the police stations of New Orleans precipitated a conflict between the McEnery militia and the police, during Wednesday night, resulting in the killing of two men and the wounding of some ten or twelve others. The superior discip-line of the police, who, besides being armed with muskets, brough a cannon, charged with grapeshot, to bear upon the militia, gave them the advantage, which was secured by the eventnal interference of the United States troops in behalf of the Kellogg government, under instructions from the President at Washington. The legislative headquarters of the McEnery government was subsequently taken possession of, and the power of the Kellogg government further assured vesterday morning, but was rescued withby the distribution of Federal troops throughout the city. Quiet had been restored yesterday forenoon, when Gen. Emory, commanding the troops at New Orleans, telegraphed to Gen. Sherman, at Washington, "I think

Disinterested " Puffs." The purely disinterested character of the following notice, which we copy from an Arkansas paper, is respectfully submitted to all who value "Puffs": "Mr. Edward Phillips has painted a sign and presented it to the Democrat, for which he has our thanks. Mr. Phillips' reputation as a painter is too well established to require any comment at our hands. Parties desiring house, sign or ornamental painting done will make it prof-itable by calling on Mr. Phillips."

- Our young townsman, Clarence Low, has returned from New Orleans and will enter on his duties as Clerk in the Bank of New Hanover to-morrow.

We learn that one house in Petersburg received ten thousand pounds of dried fruit from the Western part of this State a few days since. Dried fruit is fast becoming an important article of commerce, vast quantities being shipped yearly from the Western counties to Virginia and the Northern cities, from which much of it eventually finds its way back in this direction. The completion of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, thus opening up a direct line of communication between this city and the west, will result in a diversion of this and many others of the rich productions of that region to our own market, which will be one of the great advantages that will accrue to our port by the completion of this important enterprise.

A Colored Legislator Fleeced. A colored member of the South Carolina Legislature, happening in this city on Friday, put up at the house of a notorious character by the name of Mollie Harris, well-known in police circles here. John E. Owens.

This famous comedian will once more appear before a Wilmington audience at the Opera House to-morrow evening, the programme selected being Tom Taylor's charming comedy of "The Victims" and Owen's famous specialty, "Solon Shingle." Referring to his appearance in these characters at Savannah the News of that city says:

"We have never been better pleased and delighted with any of Mr. Owens' persona-tions than we were with his Joshua Butter-by, in the "Victims," in which he was most ably supported by a company of no ordinary merit. As there was not a fault discernible in the representations of any of the characters, particularization were totally unnecessary. As Joshua Butterby, Mr. Owens was irrisistible, and never, within our recollections of Savannah, have we seen a more thoroughly amused audience. Throughout the piece the interest never flagged, the other characters being so ably rendered that the temporary absence from the stage at times of the principal personage was scarcely noticed. The combinatice and plot of the comedy are most excel-lently devised. The audience last evening was unusually large for the Lenten season, and was a substantial evidence of the high appreciation in which Mr. Owens is held by our theatrical public. The crowning glory of the play was the grand presenta-tion scene—"And when you wear it, think

Solon Shingle was, as usual, received with every manifestation of approval, and to such perfection has Mr. Owens carried his representation of the old Maryland farmer, that it would seem the public never will weary of witnessing it.

Accident on Shipboard. Mr. Frederick Hall, 2nd mate of the Schr Katie P. Lunt, who had his arm broken on the passage from Weymouth, Mass., to this port, brief mention of which was made in our paper yesterday, was taken to the City Hospital, where the broken limb was set by Dr. Winants, physician in charge. He states that in the midst of a gale of wind the vessel shipped a heavy sea which struck him with great force, drenching him to the skin and throwing him with much violence against the lee scuppers, breaking his arm in two places below the elbow.. The accident occurred on Monday last and the broken limb remained in that condition until vesterday, when, as before stated, the necessary operation was performed. He is now doing as well as could be expected.

Railroad Accident.

On Friday afternoon, between 3 and o'clock, as a timber train on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad was passing over a trestle between Rosendale and Council's Station, coming in this direction, by some accident three of the cars were thrown from the track and precipitated through the trestle. Fortunately there was no one on the cars at the time and the damage was slight. The accident is supposed to have been caused by the brake of one of the cars falling down on the track. The track was clear when the down pas senger train arrived at that point vesterday.

Judge Onderdonk's Loss. Referring to the late robbery of Judge Onderdonk the Washington Star of the 5th inst. says: "In such crowds the light-fingered gentry had a fine field for operations. and some lost by them. During the fever epidemic of last month, the stock of Ayer's Ague Cure in the Old North State became exhausted, and before a supply could be received from Lowell, the suffering from chills and fever became fearful. A few parties were so fortunate as to have it on hand, and in Iredell county the druggists eked out their slender stocks by selling doses—a spoonful each—for a dollar. Many paid ten dollars for a bottle, when the regular price is but one, and thought themselves favored at that, so valuable are the curative properties of this wrenaration, which thought themselves rayored at that, we valuable are the curative properties of this preparation, which not only expels the poison from the system, but leaves the patient with unimpaired health and vigor. —Raleigh (N. They lingered around until 11 o'clock when two of them left, the other remarking that he would stay all night. The next morning the negro who remained at the store went to Margarettsville and reported that Faison's store had been burned. Some gentlemen visited the spet and found nothing but a pile of ashes and the charred remains of the proprietor. It was known that he had several hundred dollars in the house, as he had shown it to the three negroes. It is supposed that he was murdered, the store rified and then burned.
