RESIGNATION OF GLADSTONE.

The resignation yesterday of the great Premier of England is a public misfortune. Of noble intellect, exalted character and tried patriotismardent, zealons, sincere-Mr. Gladstone has done more for the advancement of the substantial interests of Great Britain than any leader of the century, if we except Cobden. The mighty Liberal party has had in him a splendid exponent of its views and policy; and the whole people, a minister of extraordinary ability and integrity. The subtle, brilliant, highly gifted Disraeli, who succeeds him at the head of the government, will not have the confidence of the people in the same degree. Gladstone and Liberalism are necessary at this time to English prosperity and

In New Hampshire the Democrats carry all three of the Congressmen. There is probably no choice by the people for Governor. The Legislature is Republican. Of course this ensures the election of Straw, Radi

Real Estate and Loan Association.

The full amount of stock (500 shares) with which the corporators of the Real Estate and Loan Association proposed to commence operations, was subscribed within twelve hours after books of subscription were regularly opened. As there are still a large number of persons, however, who desire to become stockholders, it has been decided to keep the books open until Friday evening at 71 o'clock, at which time they will positively be closed.

The popularity of the Real Estate and Loan Association is clearly shown by the promptness with which the stock is being taken. Five hundred shares of stock in this Association are equivalent to two thousa d shares in either the "Wilmington" or the "Mechanics" Building Association, if we consider that the monthly instalments are four times as large; so the success of the new Association in securing subscriptions to the extent of five hundred shares in so short at time is far greater than was

We are glad to find that many of the young men of our city are taking from three to ten shares each in this popular enterprise; and it is to this class of our people especially that we recommend it. They will find it a profitable investment, we feel assured, whether viewed as a Savings Bank or in its other admirable aspects.

I'ps and Downs. Persons having cellar doors opening on the street should keep the covering in good repair, as on a crowded sidewalk it sometimes becomes necessary to step on them. This was the case vesterday morning, on Front street, near the corner of Market, when the individual who tried the experiment instantly found one foot on the pave ment and the other about three or four feet below on the floor of the cellar, to the imminent danger of breaking his neck or of dividing his body into two parts like an apple. The cause of this was a decayed and rickety covering. A Cool Bath.

We learn that one of our prominent Water street friends had the misfortune to tumble overboard near the corner of Dock and Water streets yesterday morning. It is reported, however, that he didn't remain in the water any longer than was absolutely necessary, which shows that he was "sensible to the last."

Cape Fear Academy. We cheerfully publish the following communication from General Colston: CAPE FEAR ACADEMY, WILMINGTON, N. C., March 11th, '72.

Having accepted an appointment in the Egyptian service, my connection with the Cape Fear Academy is now terminated, but before leaving it, I wish to render a sincere and emphatic testimony to the efficiency, the merit, and the zeal of Mr. Frank H. Alfriend, who, for the last three years and a half, has assisted me in the instruction of the Academy. Bringing to his task the powers of a gifted mind, he has been indefatigable in the discharge of his duties. His classical attainments, his profound English culture, his high reputation as an author and a journalist, are too well known to need eulogy. He has taught the senior classes of this Academy a thorough college course, so far as they were able to receive it. His pleasing and polished manners, equable temper, combining firmness with gentleness, have endeared him to the youths, who sat under his instruction. I do not hesitate to express it as my decided opinion that Mr. Alfriend will reflect lustre upon any Institution with which he may be

R. E. COLSTON, Late Principal of Cape Fear Academy.

A Serious Affray.

A difficulty occurred yesterday morning between two colored boys by the name of Elijah Martin and Henry Williamson, during which the latter seized a rock and struck the former on the head with it, inflicting a dangerous wound. Martin, who is about 18 years of age, was taken to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, where his wound was dressed. There was a gash over the left eye of about three inches in length, penetrating to the skull, which was fractured by the blow. The injury is considered by the physician to be very serious one and may prove fatal. Henry Williamson, who inflicted the blow, was arrested and lodged in the Guard House to await an investigation. The wounded boy was employed in one of the distilleries on the wharf.

A Newspaper Reporter Makes a Balloon Ascension. The Sunday Chronicle of San Francisco California, gives an interesting account of a recent balloon ascension at that place by one Prof. Lay, who was accompanied in his ærial flight by a Chronicle reporter in the person of Mr. W. W. Davis, formerly of this city and a son of our fellow citizen, Dr. W. W. Davis. The balloon went to the height of about 4.000 feet, and the ascension was a very exciting but successful one, affording our young friend ample material for an excellent item, which was used to advan-

On the Path.

Tuesday night, about 8 o'clock, as Mr. J. H. Mann, who runs the lightwood factory for Messrs. Marks, Smith & Co., was passng the corner of Mulberry and North Water streets, he was accosted by a colored man who followed him up and endeavored to force him into one of the low dens in that neighborhood, evidently with the intention of robbing him. Luckily, he had a heavy cane in his hand, and, by indicating his purpose to use it if further molested, he finally succeeded in convincing the fellow that he had better try some other scheme to 'raise the wind."

Ussery, Thompson and McDonald are the names of the three men arrested and lodged in Rockingham jail on the charge of implication in the murder of Jim Wooten, alluded to by us a few days since. At. Lewis was the name of the prisoner who escaped from the train. The Robesonian says Jim was in the habit of getting drunk, and while in that condition, was very quarrelsome and overbearing, and that paper is inclined to think that his death is directly chargeable to whiskey.

Enthusiastic Meeting.

Last evening we called at the City Hall and looked in for a moment on the assembled wisdom of the Republican party. Col. Josephus Constable Hill was expiating in a subdued manner to about a baker's dozen of the unkidnapped "fire-tried," while Marshal Canaday, like "one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted," walked to and fro in the passageway, evidently meditating on the uncertainties of political

No Lecture Last Night. The anticipated lecture from Hon. S. S. Cox, of New York, which was to have been delivered at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association last night, did not take place. The cause of this disappointment was the failure of the trains to make connection, in eonsequence of which he was unable to reach here in time. Our citizens missed a rich treat in not being able to hear this distinguished gentleman.

- There will be a dearth of amusements for a few weeks, unless some of our amateurs take a notion to "give us a lift" in that direction. The next engagement at the Opera House, as it now stands, is for the 9th and 10th of April, when Cal. Wagner's Minstrel Troupe will appear here.

> Highway Robberies. Highway robberies are becoming alarmngly frequent here and it behooves our citizens to be prepared for emergencies. No less than three are reported to have occurred on Tuesday night. There are two or three competent detectives in the city and the authorities would do well to employ them to ferret out these midnight marauders and bring them to justice.

Water Works.

Mr. R. D. Guerard, Engineer of the Savannah Water Works, is here on a brief visit. In company with several of our citizens he took a view of the surroundings vesterday, and we learn that he expresses the opinion that the proposed Water Works in this city can be constructed at a moderate cost. Mr. Guerard is stopping at the Pur-

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to receive a call, during the past week, from Dr. AYER's traveler, who was in our town devoting his time and attention to the preparations of the great medicine man. This call has become a pleasant annual to us from the able and reliable business character of the accomplished gentleman whom this firm send out to transact their business. No house is better known or valued by the press for its promptness in settlement than the well established and popular J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., whose medicines have become a household necessity, and won the confidence and praise of all. Our own acquaintance with them has extended over a series of years, and we them has extended over a series of years, and we have invariably found them, their travelers and their medicines worthy of the commendation they every-where receive.—Jackson (Tenn.)
