OUR UNIVERSITY-SHALL IT BE REVIVED !

Much has been said about reviving the University of North Carolina. It is a subject of great importance. Without a University the system of education in this State will remain incomplete. We must have a great school where all the liberal studies can be pursued with all the advantages possessed by other institutions in the land of the same MATERIAL CONTRACTOR

The Tarboro Enquirer, speaking of a movement by the Alumni for a resuscitation of our University under

In relation to the subject of the Universi-In relation to the subject of the University, introduced in our last number, we feel authorized to name Judge James Grant, of Davenport, Iowa, and James M. Williams, Esq., and Hon. Jacob Thompson, of Memphis, Tennessee, as having manifested a very warm interest in the resuscitation of their "Alma Mater," and as desiring to inaugurate steps toward the accomplishment of that object. We respectfully recommend to the Alumni in North Carolina to open a correspondence with those lina to open a correspondence with those gentlemen, who are expecting to meet and confer early in June.

From trustworthy indications that we have received we regard this as a mast pro-pitious time for the friends of the University to strike, and if the matter is earnestly and urgently pushed, great good may be accomplished

OUR AGRICULTURAL JOURNAL. Mr. C. W. Westbrook, formerly of Greensboro, but now of Wilson College Nurseries, Wilson, and Thomas R. Purnell, of Salem, N. C., have accepted editorial positions on the State Agricultural Journal, at Raleigh .-They will assume the duties assigned them next week.

With a full corps of editors, some of them gentlemen of considerable experience, the State Agricultural Journal will doubtless succeed in es tablishing itself in the affections of the people. It would seem that one agricultural paper could live in North

We approve of this movement and will give Prof. McIver's instructions a place in our columns in a few days.

We are glad to learn that a number of young gentlemen of this city have at last got into the notion of organizing a Brass Band, and that a meeting will be held some-time during the present week to complete the necessary arrangements to that end. This is a step in the right direction. We have evidently a fair amount of musical talent in the community, and why not use it to some advantage? Besides, we have an experienced performer of instrumental class band. We hope the movement will Cronley, L. H. Walker. prove a success, as there are few cities of the same population of Wilmington that cannot boast of one or more brass bands composed of white members.

Case of Assault. The case of Charles Mallett, charged with mitting an assault upon Mash E. Walker on Thursday night last, came up before Justice Woodford yesterday, but it was finally compromised, the defendant paying the cost, when the matter was dropped.

Personal. Maj. Gen. Irwin McDowell, U. S. A., of the Department of the South, arrived in this city last night, and registered at the Purcell of it at some of the way stations, which is House. He is understood to be on a tour not very likely. It is understood that her of inspection.

The Storm Yesterday. Seldom have we witnessed a more sever storm than was experienced in this city an vicinity yesterday. All day long the wind swept through the streets, hurling the due in volumes through our prominent thorough fares and almost blinding those whose bus ness required them to be on the streets. T give some idea of the extent of the gale we learn from the Weather Observatory tha the mercury fell one-half inch from mic night Friday night to 5 o'clock yesterds morning. The storm attained its height 11:20 A. M., when the wind was travelling at the rate of 48 miles per hour. The ave age velocity of the wind between 8 A. I and 2 P. M. was 36 miles per hour. Th gale travelled Southward from Dakota. The damage from the gale here in th city was not as great as might have bee expected. The tin roof of the building at the Southern end of Lippitt's block, on Front street, was blown off, carrying with it a portion of the wooden roof underneath. The tin roof of the Seamen's Home, which building is now in process of demolition, was also blown off and hurled into Dock street, causing considerable excitement in that locality. This, with the blowing down of several shade trees, fences, &c., was all the damage in the city so far as we could ascertain.

> Sudden Death. We regret to learn that the wife Mr. W. S. McDiarmid, Editor of the Lumberton Robesonian, died suddenly in that place on Friday night. Mr. M. and his daughter were absent in this city at the time, having. started home yesterday morning. As the wires between this city and Lumberton were not in working order during the interval between the death of Mrs. McDiarmid and the time her husband left here, it is presumed that he did not hear of the sad calamity which had befallen him until he reached Lumberton, unless informed death was caused by heart disease.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, MARCH 30, 1873.

To-morrow evening, at the Opera House, e are to have the great sensational drama. 'Across the Continent," with its strik-ng situations, thrilling scenery, &c., as perormed by the talented young artist, Oliver Doud Byron, supported by a strong combi-nation. As the sensational drama is a novalty to the greater portion of our play-goers we have no doubt that curiosity, if nothing more, will draw out a large audience to witness the exciting and interesting performance. To judge from the comments of the Richmond press, they were highly highly appreciated there. Reserved seats to be had at Heinsberger' without extra charge.

We learn from the Weldon News that Capt. J. M. Howell, who was injured by the run off on the W. & W. R. R. on Wednesday last, is improving. He thinks he will be able to go on duty this week, although at present he is compelled to use crutches.
