The following officers were elected to hold their positions subject to the pleasure of the Board, except the President and Vice President, who are elected for one

President-C. H. Roberts of New York Vice President-Silas N. Martin of Wilmington, N. C. Treasurer-Watson Matthews of New

Secretary-W. J. Dewey of New York. Assistant Treasurer-I. T. Alderman of Wilmington, N. C.

Engineer and Superintendent-S. L. Fremont of Wilmington, N. C. Assidant Superintendent-V. Q. Johnson

of Lincoln, N. C. Audilor-Wm. N. Bowden of Wilming

Master of Transportation-W. H. Allen The salary of the President and Vice President was fixed at $2,500 each: Chief Superintendent $5,000: Assistant Superin tendent $2,500 (an increase of $1,000); As sistant Treasurer $2,000; Master of Transportation $1,760; Auditor $1,000.

The President was directed by the Board to make contracts immediately for the completion of the Road from Wadesboro to Charlotte by the 1st of January. The money is now and will be in hand to pay for the work promptly.

The capitalists declared and manifested a disposition to manage the Road so as to give satisfaction to the people of North Carolina interested. They expect to put on a line of steamers between New York and Wilmington and extend the Road to the Tennessee line and open direct communication with the great West, and in that way make their investment pay We were pleased at the manner in which the North Carolina Directors were treated. Their wishes were consulted and strictly respected by the New York and Baltimore Directors, and they were also hospitably and elegantly entertained. We were es pecially pleased at the election of Silas N Martin, Esq., of Wilmington, as Vice President. He will have control, mainly, of the work, and will now have an opportunity of doing something practical towards the completion of the Road, which he has not had heretofore. He has always taken a warm interest in securing the completion of the Road to Charlotte, and we know that he is competent and honest and will strive to do right.

The energy and industry of Capt. V. Q. Johnson, the Assistant Superintendent of the Western Division, was appreciated, and he was complimented by having his salary increased. Mr. Alderman, the Asstant Treasurer, was also complimented in the Locked Out; Or a New Way of Enter-ing a Boarding Mouse.

A boarding house on Market street was the scene of considerable excitement for s short time yesterday evening. A gentleman who rents rooms in the building returned home and found that he had been locked out. He made frequent attempts to secure an entrance, his family being on the inside, and failing he finally had recourse to legal advice. Acting upon this he returned to the house with two officers, as we are informed, and proceeded to batter the front does. door down with an axe, after which he er tered through the aperture. A large crowd of course, speedily gathered and specula tion was rife as to what would be the probable result of the affair.

The Concert. The concert given last evening by the Sunday school children of the Front street M. E. Church was attended by a large and appreciative audience, the church being filled to almost its utmost capacity. The entertainment was a fine one in every respect and was certainly enjoyed by those present, judging by the manner in which Besertion. Robert Selden, steward of the wrecking schooner John J. Housman, was arrested yesterday on complaint of his captain, charged with deserting his vessel on the 12th of March last. He was taken before Justice T. M. Gardner, who commit him to jail to await the requisition of the Captain. TREEXALLS VIEW

Another Day's Session of the Board solves to Have a Night's Rest, &c.,

Our report of the first day's session of the new Board of Aldermen, and their efforts to elect city officers, closed at 1 o'clock vesterday morning with the 16th ballot for Mayor. Subsequently another ballot was had with the following result:

17TH BALLOT .- Wilson, 5; Canaday, 2; Adrian, 2; Moore, 1.

Determined to fight it out on that line if it took them all night, the members decided to take things basy. They each chose a position or attitude suited to their respectve tastes and inclinations and dosed the greater part of the time; but ever and anon some excited member, startled from his un easy slumbers, would call for a ballot, which would be voted down and they would again relapse into the arms of Morpheus I is stollessood bas at

This state of things continued, without another ballot being taken, until 5:35 A M., when the Board unanimously agreed to take a recess until 10 o'clock A. M.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION The recess having expired, the Board re assembled at 10 o'clock A. M., and was called to order by the Chairman. Ald. Banks moved to ballot for Mayor. which was carried. 19TH BALLOT .- Wilson, 5; Canaday, 2

Nays-Wilson, Hankins, Banks-3. It being discovered by the opposition that they had committed a mistake-or, in other words, "put their foot in it"-Wise moved a reconsideration of the last vote, which was lost, a two-thirds vote being required for that purpose.

The Chairman requested the Aldermen to prepare their ballots.

Wilson advised his friends to vote blank tickets, which would not count. They thought it was a good thing, and complied The vote was then taken, as follows: 1st Ballot. For Servoss-Moore, Adrian

Ald. Fishblate, one of the tellers, an nounced as the result of the ballot, the unanimous election of Mr. Servoss as City Clerk and Treasurer.

This announcement fell among the opposi tion like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. Wilson's friends all sprung to their feet and with fearful gesticulations and in an excit-ed manner, declared that it was no elec-

Hankins put a question. He wanted to know if this Bode had a subsiding officer. Ald. Fishblate had in his hand a copy of Jefferson's Manual and proposed to cite a case in point to show that the election was a legal one.

Ald. Brewington didn't care for Jeffer son's Emanuel or enybody else's Emanuel dev was no croterian in this case.

In the meantime Mr. London, the City Attorney, who had been sent for, appeared before the Board, when the Chairman stated the case to him and asked his opinion as to the legality of the election.

He unhesitatingly answered, "Unquestionably it is."

One of the oppositions wanted to know if he had not previously stated that it required six votes to make an election. He said he had; and asked if this election had not taken place in a full meeting of the Board? This, of course, could not be denied, and the matter was dropped.

The Chairman then announced that Mr. Servoss, having received a majority of the votes cast, was duly elected City Clerk and Treasurer for the ensuing year. Ald. Brewington moved to ballot for

The Fair. The Lutheran Fair given by the German ladies at City Hall is a decided success The Hall was filled with visitors last night and all were highly delighted.

The decorations of the Hall and the tables are pronounced by all to be verhandsome, and the display of useful and fancy articles offered for sale is very fine Refreshments abounded and seemed to be highly relished, judging from the patron age they received. Everything is conduct ed on strictly fair principles, and no exorbitant prices are charged.

Let all go to night, judge for themselve and spend a pleasant evening. They will not regret it.

The Lecture.

The lecture of Rev. C. W. Warren, o the subject of "Snobs and Snobbery," de livered at the Opera House last night, wa largely attended. We have heard but on opinion expressed as to the merits of the lecture and that-was couched in terms of unqualified praise. The entire audience which was as a general thing very apprecia tive in its character, appeared to be exceed ingly pleased with the manner in which he treated the subject and the applications made to the various classes and conditions of society.

A Boat Upset. A sail boat containing two persons, who were having a "good little time all alone to themselves," was accidently capsized off Messrs. Northrop & Cumming's mills, yes terday afternoon. A boat put off from the shore and the party were rescued from their perilous position. They appeared to be very happy upon reaching land once more, showing that they are willing to trust themselves on this mundane sphere a little longer, Mayor or no Mayor.

WILMINGTON, N. C., 12th May, 1873. Col. Wm. L. DeRosset, President of the Cham-

Sin:—On Friday, the 9th instant, we made a visit to the public works for the improvement of our Harbor, on board the tug Jas. T. Easton, Capt. Leary, Capt. Phillips, Assistant Engineer in charge of the works, being on board.

Owing to the heavy tow of loaded light ers down, and of empty ones up, the ful tides both ways was required to facilitate operations, consequently, no time was left us for anything like an extended or thor-ough inspection of the beach and its sur-roundings. We were, therefore, confined to an examination of the breakwater only, and its immediate surroundings.

Since our last visit, on the 27th of Febru ary (reported on the 13th of March), com prising a period of ten weeks, there has been about 530 feet of foundation cribs placed in position, which aggregates about forty-four hundred feet (4,400) to its final terminus at the old jettee of rocks in front of Zeke's Island. Of this 4,400 feet, about 2,600 feet only are what we call comple finished by covering with plank. Work rapidly progressing on the remaining 1,800 feet, a considerable portion of which is at full height above high water, and the balance in sections of five, three and two feet above low water, with a fair prospect (with-out unforseen disaster) of making a full and final completion of the breakwater within the fiscal year ending the last of June.

The beach and shoals in front are closing in upon the work in the most approved manner; in fact, we could hardly direct it better, even if we had the power of doing

Zeke's Island is extending its borders in every direction, even to invading the main inlet on its north side, meanwhile stretching its arms westward into the barbor, and eastward into the ocean, curving south-ward, apparently courting alliance with the beach south. Everything connected with the work in hand, wears an encouraging

One of the most satisfactory features connected with the prosecution of this work, and to your Committee the most unaccountable, is, that as the break-water progresses, contracting the general opening that Federal Point don't wash entirely of instead of an almost imperceptible wear, and that the reef or shoal from its point southwestward into the harbor, is not en-tirely swept away by the ebb tides, but continues to grow, for we are informed that there is less water upon it now than there was a year ago, when last examined by the Coast Survey party.

And again, that Zeke's Island is growing so rapidly, instead of being swept away with its surroundings, mind might suppose.

Without a knowledge of the laws of nature, which governs such matters, it appears one of its mysterious freaks.
