We have received two numbers of the Rocky Mount Expositor, a new paper published in the interests of the Republican party. The Repositor is an energetic newspaper, we should judge from the specimens we have seen. Mr. C. C. Stilley is editor.

The long expected proclamation has been issued. In it the President of the United States abases himself by stooping down to fix a foot stool for Kellogg. The proclamation is a tissue of falsehoods.

The horrible atrocities of the Carlists in Spain would seem to demand the condemnation of all christendom. The world is appalled at the shooting of prisoners in cold blood.

age-Serious Damage to the Crops. [Raleigh News, of Yesterday.]

From the East, West and Central counties, we hear the same reports, and it is beyond our power to form any idea of the hundreds of thousands dollars of private property which have been destroyed.

From an intelligent gentleman who reached this city from Louisburg yesterday, we learn that the classic Tar has been cutting some fantastic capers, and has been overflowing its banks to such an extent as to carry dismay to the hearts of the farmers. Our informant, who is a very predent gentleman, says Franklin county alone will sustain at least a loss of one hun-dred and fifty thousand dollars by the recent floods.

A gentleman just from Halifax re-ports even greater damage along the course of the turbulent Rosnoke. The water rose higher in that river than was ever known before. The damage to the crops is very great, and will reach several hundred thousand dollars. He gives us some details which will serve as a sample for the rest.

Not a plantation on the Roanoke from Weldon to Hamilton but has been more or less damaged, in some in-stances the damages to individual farmers footing up thousands of dol-

Near Weldon, the plantation of Col.
N. M. Long, and those of Jno. Long and John Long, Jr., have sustained serious losses. These gentlemen had each several hundred acres in cotton, corn and oats, which were under water for several days. At Halifax Ferry the water rose in the storehouse and destroyed $2,500 worth of goods. At Pollock's Ferry shops were drowned, houses washed away, &c. At Polenta, the valuable plantation of Major John B. Neal, of Norfolk, of the firm of Jno. B. Neal & Co., was completely submerged. The cabins for the hands, the overseers' houses, and the gin house were badly injured, and a crib containing four hundred barrels of corn was submerged and it is thought the corn will

All the Scotland Neck plantations, lying in the vicinity of the river, came in for their share of the disaster. At Hill's Ferry, on the plantation formerly owned by Maj. John Devereux, of this city, the dwelling was raised four feet and a half above the ground. The stock on the plantation were saved by being taken in the house and kept on the first floor, while the inmates sought protection on the second floor. One vast expanse of water spread from the Ferry to the highlands, a distance of several miles, between which is the plantage of several miles. miles, between which points not a foot of land was visible.

From the West, the accounts are der, live stock and houses have been charged with disordering so floated down its swellen current, while the growing crops of wheat, the same instances irretrievably damaged. damaged.

OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. Barnes' Lecture, As was to be expected, there was a large attendance at the Opera House last night to listen to the lecture of Mr. Wm. H. Barnes on the subject of "Entertaining an Audience." The speaker was introduced by our fellow-citizen, Col. Wm. L. Smith. in a few remarks. Mr. Barnes treated his audience with a sketch of the origin, rise and progress of American Odd Fellowship in chaste and beautiful language, which occupied about fifteen minutes, at the conclusion of which he recited with great pathes "Bingen on the Rhine," by Mrs. Norton which drew forth various evidences of appreciation. The halance of the programme consisted of delineations of character, anecdotes, comic ballads, &c., during the rendi-

by bursts of loud and vociferous applause. Mr. Barnes certainly has a fine conception of the manner of "Entertaining an Audience," a fact which had its practical illustration in his effort of last night. The speaker concluded his entertainment by mimicing fowls, animals, &c., which was very amusing. The lecture abounded in wit, humor and pathos, and was also instructive and entertaining in the highest degree, to his large and appreciative

Better Late Than Never."

A worthy old colored man of this city informed us of a rather singular circumstance yesterday. He says that twenty years ago and asked the loan of $12. The woman was in needy circumstances and out of sympathy for her condition he let her have the amount. Time passed on, but seemed to bring no improvement in the worldly prospects of the woman, hence her creditor nued from month to month and from year to year to put off the unpleasant duty of asking her for the money. Recently, however, he has become aware of a change in her prospects for the better, and so some time in April he sent her a note, reminding her of the circumstances of the transaction and requesting the payment of the money, without interest, which was sent to him yesterday morning, with expressions of gratitude for the favor she had received at

A difficulty occurred between two white men at Measrs. Hart & Bailey's establishment, yesterday, which came near resulting seriously. One of the parties was an employee of the firm, and was attending to his work, when the other, with whom he had previously had some misunderstanding, entered the room and commenced an assault upon him, finally drawing a pistol and discharging it at his antagonist, but without doing him any damage. The one that had been fired at then sprang upon his adversary, kneeking him down and inflicting considerable injury upon his person before they could be separated. The man who made the assault in the first instance is said to have been partially intoxicated at the time.

A Matter of Importance, of

If immediate steps are not taken to im prove the sanitary condition of the city we may expect an abundance of sickness dur ing the heated term. The streets are in a terrible condition, while stagnant pools, filth and corruption are to be met with on every side. The very atmosphere, at times, is freighted with death-dealing odors. We hope our new city authorities will take this matter into immediate consideration and act with the promptness which its importance so imperatively demands.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN. The undersigned members of the Board of Stewards of Front Street Methodist Episco-pal Church South, deem it due to ourselves and the public generally to publish the fol-lowing letter, and an extract from another lowing letter, and an extract from another letter, having obtained the consent of the letter, having obtained the consent of the gentlemen who have received them. The extract is from a letter just received by the Rev. Dr. Moran from the Rev. Geo. E. Reed, Pastor St. Pauls' M. E. Church, Fall River Mass., the letter from which it is taken, being a reply to inquiries made in reference to the Rev. C. W. Warren lately from Fall River and now living in this city. The letter is from Rev. Dr. Young, Unitarian minister, Fall River, to a responsible gentleman of this city, not a member of our church, and will explain itself. It is due to the public and especially to the Rev. Mr. Reed, that we should do this, since, in order to prop up his own bad character, Warren has referred so many persons in this city to that gentleman whose name has been so freely, but so falsely used in vindication of his (Warren's) character. It is also due to ourselves and our Pustor since we have been so wrongfully accused of persecuting him (Warren) as an innocent man, because as friends of religion and purity, we have felt it to be our imperative duty to expose him. Let it be distinctly understood that we do not now propose to duty to expose him. Let it be distinctly understood that we do not now propose to make a full and formal statement of the numerous charges and specifications which we have evidence to prove against him; and which would have been established by this time, if Warren had submitted to trial before our church tribunal. Our ject at present is simply to show by the aforesaid letters (one of which is from a gentleman whom Warren himself has re-peatedly declared to be his "best friend") that he is at least as bad a man as we have reprepresented him to be; and that as such w are, and have been, perfectly justified in taking the position which, on conscientious grounds, as members of the Church of Christ, we have been compelled to assume in this whole matter. The following are true copies of the letter and extract referred to:

MAY 19, 1873.

LETTER FROM REV. DR. YOUNG. My DEAR SIR: About ten days since I re-ceived a letter from Miss Bradley, Principal of T. N. School in your city, inquiring into the character of the "Rev." C. W. Warren. I then gave my belief that he was the object of unjust and malicious aspersions.
now believe him to be an imposter and complished rough—every way base and rotten—and I wish to undeceive Miss Bradley and warn her to have no manner of confidence in the miserable fellow. A of confidence in the miserable fellow. A mysterious telegram which came to me Saturday last, signed C. W. Warren, makes me fear that he has her confidence still, and that a letter from Fall River to her, sent in the usual way, may fail to reach her. I therefore send this enclosed to you with the request that as a friend of purity and virtue you will take the trouble to see that it is without any chance of mistake put into Miss Bradley's hand, that she may not be caught in any of the villain's snares. He is playing the very devil—excuse the seeming prefanity, but the expression is most appropriate to his case. When he left here, not being of his communion, I did not then know of the stories that were already circulating.

Yours respectfully,

JOSHUA YOUNG,

Minister of the Unitarian Church in Fall River.

"FALL RIVER, Mass., May 17, 1873."

"Dear Bro:"—"Your letter has been received. I am greatly obliged to you for your long and circumstantial account. It served to clear up several points in regard to which, I have been in the dark." I saw Miss Tripp's aunt last night; she called upon me to inquire in regard to Warren; she stated that she was present when Mr. Warren asked the girl's father for his daughter as early as last June, and and that Miss Tripp expects to marry him now, (see note A.) has her trousseau all ready. She has received letters from Warren constantly and he has fooled her so completely that she has retained confidence in him. He has within two or three weeks written her—so Miss Deane says—that his banker in New York had failed, and therefore the marriage must be postponed. Warren has told me repeatedly that he was under no obligations to Miss T. and that he had no intention of marrying her, yet she expects him to.

to Miss T. and that he had no intention of marrying her, yet she expects him to.

Now, sir, I have this to say—I have stood by Warren in this city when it has cost me something to do so, because I have been loth to believe him guilty, and I could find no definite proof for the charges against him. He seemed to stand alone, and his case excited my sympathy. I know that, as his "best friend," my name has helped to prop his failing fortunes. But that must end. I told him that I should stand by him until I was convinced of his guilt. Inforuntil I was convinced of his guilt. Information has come in from so many quarters of late—evidence so full and trust-worthy—that I am forced to the conclusion that he is as unmitigated a scoundrel as can be found. You are at liberty to use this statement as you may see fit. In regard to his trip to Europe, his falsehoods have been of the most outrageous character, (see note B.) I have now no reason to disbelieve other charges brought against him while here—charges of immoral conduct—charges of falsehood.—I wish it distinctly understood that I have lost every shred of confidence in him—that I am convinced of his villainy. When I received Mr. Walker's telegram until I was convinced of his guilt. Inforhim—that I am convinced of his villaing When I received Mr. Walker's telegran When I received Mr. Walker's telegram and letter I wrote to Warren that I believed him to be a complete FRAUD and a base deciser. If he pretends to have received any communication from me within two weeks of a different tenor, he utterly falsifies. Miss Deane told me last night that Miss Tripp said she was pursuaded by Warren to make her statement to me denying any expectations from him.* I shall be glad to hear of his whereabouts and of his past history if you have ascertained it. I need not say a word as to his infamous slander on our Northern women.* Let me hear from you at once.
