DEATH OF MANZONI.

A dispatch, dated Friday, from Rome, announces the death at the ripe age of 89 of the great Italian novelist and poet, Count Alessandro

The work by which Manzoni is best known is his famous historical novel. "I Promessi Sposi," a tale of Milan in the 17th century, which Henry T. Tuckerman, in his "Characteristics of Literature," pronounced one of the noblest work, if not the very noblest works of fiction ever written. By the publication of this book Manzoni created a new fictional literature in his country. He was also a poet of great eminence, publishing his first volume at the early age of twenty-one.

Manzoni was born at Milan in 1784, and studied at the University of his M. city and at that of Pavia with distinction. The Legion of Honor was given him in 1840, and in 1860 he was made Senator. Manzoni was much beloved by the Italian people who regarded him justly as one of the greatest men of letters Italy had ever

SADVERTISEMENT. T

To the " Late Members of the Official Episcopal Church South."

We, the undersigned members of the Board of Stewards of Front Street Methodist Episcopal Church, desire to call your attention to the following points in your "Advertisement" published in this morn-ing's papers:

to your "Pastor" that he "had refused to gained "access to ANY of the facts in this case," and acquired "any information whatever" in regard to it, you would then heartily regret and honestly revoke your hasty conclusion as to Warren's innocence; and give us credit for better motives than you lave attributed to us, in our efforts to expose the imposture of the man who had so deceived and deluded you. We now see, however, but little ground for these hopes.

for when we compare your own acknowledgment above with the following declara-

Now, how could you, "yourselves" have having "any information whatever as to this case as officials?" How could you as honest Christian men go into such an investigation "of these matters" for yourselves, and conclude that there was "nothing to charge against" your "Pastor whatever," when you knew, or might have known that we had unanswerable and overwhelming evidence of his guilt-evidence that can'be, and if nec essary will be, supported by the sworn affi-davits of the most unimpeachable witnesses both in Wilmington and Fall River. As the remainder of your "advertisement" consists mainly of a rude attack on the Presiding Elder, we will not, of course, undertak his defence, but let him answer for himself man whom you can no more vindicate, not intend at first and do not now intend to make any issue with the "late Official Board of Fifth Street." Our sole object is accomplished by the exposure of a bad man, and when we shall have done this, our duty ends. Those who are determined to stand by him still, may do so if they will but they cannot attach blame to us, should they discover by and by what we already know to be true. We are requested to furnish evidence of Warren's fraudulent pretence of going to Germany, when in fact we knew he was in Wilmington. The fol-lowing extracts taken verbation from letters now in our possession will be sufficient for

The first intimation we had of it was furnished by a letter from Mr. C. Hargraves, Fall River, Mass., (a leading member of the Board of Stewards of Werren's Church there) dated April 25, 1878, in which he ment to him (Warren) on the 15th January, 1873, the day he started to go to Germany, as he said he had lost his wife and had a sick child in that country." In a letter after-wards received from the same gentleman, dated May 12th, 1878, when he had found out that Warren had come to Wilmington, direct, instead of going to Germany, as he had pretended, he (Mr. Hargrave) says: "Only just think about him telling the Church here that his child was very sick in Germany and he must go and see her; and then pretending to return and all that time in your city!" In a letter from the Rev. Geo. E. Reed, Fall River, dated May 9th, 1873, the following passage occurs in reference to this matter: "You state that Warren was in Wilmington on January 18th, 1873, and he represents that he was then on his way to Europe, and returned about a month later. If you are sure that he was there at that time, then the gentle-man is the most unmitigated scoundrel it has ever been my chance to meet." In another letter received from him, dated May 17th, 1873, from which we published a long extract, yesterday, he says: "I have for sometime had the impression that there was some fraud committed with that Berlin letter his 'best friend' received. I have

The Convention was called to order by the President, Dr. Whitehead who stated that it was an adjourned meeting for the purpose of continuing the discussion on the subject of acute-internal inflammation. The discussion of this subject was continued at considerable length by Drs. Norcom, Kelly, O'Hagan, Foote, Jones, Hines, Sharpe and others.— Pending the discussion the Society adjourned.

THE NEWKIRK CASE.

Duplin Court-Trial of Mrs. Mary C. Newkirk on a Charge of Perjury-

She is Triumphantly Acquitted. We are happy to announce that the trial of Mrs. Mary C. Newkirk, on the charge of perjury, before Duplin Court, has resulted in her triumphant acquittal. No case, within our recollection, has attracted such interest for years. The defendant is over 70 years of age, and has a large and refamilies of New Hanover, Duplin and Sampson counties; and, as a consequence, there was a very large crowd in attendance during the trial.

Judge Clark held the Court. The State was represented by Mr. Solicitor Cantwell and Col. W. A. Allen. John L. Holmes. Esq., and Col. A. A. McKoy appeared for the prisoner. Col. McKoy, we regret to state, was prevented by severe illness from attending during the whole trial; and although this threw the burden of the defence upon Mr. Holmes, he discharged the duty with signal ability, we are informed.

The following gentlemen were sworn and empannelled as a jury: Stephen Graham, D. K. Kornegay, Isaac B. Kelly, A. D. Black, A. D. McGorom, Lewis Herring, L. A. Merrimon, I. J. Stricklin, Major Beasley, J. E. Cavenaugh, B. W. Burton and William Bevette.

A large number of witnesses were examined; and at the close of the testimony the Solicitor rose and said:

"May it please your Honor, I have consulted with the gentleman who assists me in the prosecution of this case, and with his approbation, I propose, on behalf of the State, that this case go to the jury under your Honor's instructions, but without remarks from counsel." Mrs. Allen said: "That meets imy approval." Mr. Holmes said: "And mine; the course suggested meets my hearty approval."

His Honor charged the jury briefly and eloquently, recapitulating the testimony. and stating the law. The jury retired and after an absence of about five minutes, returned with a verdict of "Not Guilty."plause by the audience.

Thus has ended this important case; and ended, we trust, to the satisfaction of all

with the Frying Pan Light Ship. Relative to the Frying Pan Shoals Light Ship being run into on the morning of the 6th inst. by the Norwegian Barque Mimi, some mention of which has been made in our paper, the Collector of the port, on Friday last, received instructions from Washington to libel the vessel. Subsequently, however, he was informed by the Vice Consul for Norway, that, as he did not wish to be paid the amount of the damages sustained. The Collector so informed the Department and afterwards received instructions to appoint three ship carpenters to assess the damages. Accordingly Collector Rumley and Mr. Consul Heide, together with Messrs. B. W. Berry, R. G. Ross and F. A. L. Cassidey, the appraisers selected, went down on the steamer Wm. Nyce on Friday afternoon for the purpose of examining the light ship and appraising the damages sustained in the collision referred to. They returned to the city yesterday afterneon and it is understood that they will report on Monday.

The Carolina Outlaws on the Stage. The histrionic muse seems resolved to make the names of the now nearly defunct Lowery gang imperishable, and to trans mit to coming generations the names of Henry Berry Lowrey, Boss Strong, and the rest, along with those of Rob Roy and others similarly famous in song or story. The latest attempt of dramatization of the thieving and murderous achievements of these marauders, and blood-thirsty wretches, has recently been presented at the Holliday St. Theatre, Baltimore. A friend in that city sends us a copy of the Baltimore Programme, containing a full cast of the dramatis persona in the drama of the Swamp Angels, or the Outlaws of Carolina: The cast is quite an extensive one, embracing twentynine names, and among them are those of several actors of merit and reputation. Mr. C. M. Walcott represented Henderson, the long-haired Herald correspondent, who figured for several days in Wilmington and Scuffletown, and has since had numerous hair-breadth "scapes" in Cuba, where he has acted as 'a "Herald Commissioner." Other prominent persons of the cast are well-known to theatre-goers all over the

to your "Pastor" that he "had refused to submit his case to the proper tribunal for trial," and then you declare that this statement "is an absolute falsehood." The statement to which we suppose you must here refer, and which you thus profess to quote literally is only a hypothetical clause of a sentence of ours, consisting of the following, to wit: "If Warren had submitted to a trial before our Church tribunal."
