Speedy Justice-Trial of Jim Brown for the Murder of Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Dozier-Sentenced to Death-To be Executed the Ilth of July. [Special to the Richmond Enquirer.]

Suffolk, Va., June 11. Court opened this morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Peter B. Prentice, presiding; Jno. H. Wright, attorney for Commonwealth. The case of the murder of Mrs. Dempsey Jones and Mrs. Dozier was called and the prisoner, James Brown, was brought into court. He pleaded guilty. There was no counsel for the prisoner. A jury was empaneled from amongst the best citizens of the county, and it was decided ty try him on the plea of "not guilty," upon the suggestion of the judge. Several witnesses were examined, fastening the guilt upon the prisoner, which, together with his confession, was conclusive.

The Commonwealth's attorney, after merely stating the law and evidence in the case, gave it to the jury at five minutes to one o'clock. They retired to their room, and at one returned with a verdict of murder in the first degree. The Judge made a feeling and tender speech; told him there was no earthly hope, as he proceeded to pass sentence. When the prisoner was asked by the Judge if he had anything to say, he replied, "I did the crime." The Judge then sentenced him to be hang-ed on Friday, the 11th day of July, between the hours of ten and two o'clock. The most perfect order prevailed during the whole trial. Every fairness possible was shown the prisoner. The verdict gives general satisfaction. A guard is detailed around the jail to keep the prisoner safe.

Sketch of a Colored Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in American,

[Louisville Courier-Journal.] Bishop William Henry Miles is six feet or more in height, well propor-tioned, and weighs at least 200 pounds; of ginger-cake color, short bair, and very good manners. On Sunday morning he preached to a large audience of colored people in the court-house, and on Sunday night he preached to the white people in the Methodist church. The church was full, and all gave him their quiet attention. He preached from the 16th chapter and 24th verse of St. Matthew. His delivery was good and manner plain and practical; his ideas very good, his voice very well modulated. modulated. He made no attempt whatever at bombast or display. We believe we speak the seniment of every gentleman and lady who heard him when we say that his sermon was a very good one. Everybody was well pleased, and no one regretted his or her going to hear him.

Bishop Miles was born in Washington county, Kentucky, in December, 1828, as the slave of Mrs. Mary Miles. During his boyhood he learned the alphabet from an old colored man on the payment of 64 cents and learned to read at a col.

became a free man in 1864. He then went to Indiana, but in 1865 he returned to Louisville and set up a retail furniture house, but soon left and went to Lebanon, Kentucky, and went into the garden and fruit business. He was licensed to preach by Dr. Redford, of Nashville, in 1853; was ordained bishop in 1870 by Bish-ops Payne and McTyiere of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. His episcopal jurisdiction extends over this State, Tennessee, Missouri, Kansas and North Mississippi. When he was ordained the "M. E. Church in America" was organized with him-self and R. H. Vanderhorst (colored) as bishops. The white Methodists North have been and are now hostile to such an organizatian. Bishop Vanderhorst is now dead, and in March last Bishop Miles, aided by Bishop Pierce, of Georgia, ordained three other colored men as bishops in his church, viz: Jas. A. Bebee, of N. C.; L. H. Hosley, of Georgia; Isaac Lane,

We have seldom seen a more modest, quiet, humble, or less proud man than Bishop Miles, especially when we remember that he has something to be proud of-viz., his being the first man of his race to exercise the high office of bishop, and the first to labor in the organization of his people into a separate Church.

The Case of the Seconds in the Late Duel. [Special telegram to Norfolk Journal.]

RICHMOND, VA., June 11, 1873. Justice White to-day refused to allow bail to the seconds in the late duel, and they, waiving examination, were sent on to the July term of the Hustings Court to be indicted and were remanded to jail. Their counsel applied to Judge Guigon for a special grand jury for immediate indictment. He declined, as the case had not yet been certified to his court. For the same reason he refused to entertain a motion for bail, but fixed 12 o'clock to-morrow to hea the argument on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. It is expected that the accused will be bailed.

The Raleigh Sentinel of yesterday states that the cases below were argued in this Court on the previous day:

Willis H. Barnes et al., vs. W. J. Brown and wife, et al. N. A. McLean, M. L. Mc-Koy for plaintiff, and Robert Strange, Giles Leitch and N. A. McLean for defendant. H. W. Guion and wife vs. Jas. Melvin et State vs. W. H. Harrison, New Hanover. Attorney General Cantwell for plain-

- This city and vicinity was visited by an abundant rain yesterday and last night. - We are glad to learn that the excursion Wednesday netted Stonewall Lodge something over $100. - Remember that Rev. C. W. Warren is to lecture to-night at the Opera House on the subject of "Chain up the Dog." He will doubtless have a large audience.

- The George Poisson, alluded to elsewhere, is not the individual who broke out of the Work House sometime since and was sub sequently recaptured, as he is now in that institution and sports a ball and chain.

Telegraphic Rates.

A new schedule of rates for the Western Union Telegraph Company will go into effect on the first of July. By this new schedule there will be a reduction in tolls over the continent, averaging about fifty per cent. from the old rates. In some instances the reduction will be 331 per cent. while in others it is much greater.

If the company keeps on at this rate it will soon have its tolls reduced to within the reach of every one who may have occasion to use the wires, and they will find it profitable in the end. The lower rates become the more wires will be used until the aggregate of small profits will be more valuable than the aggregate of larger profits

Quo Warranto.

Our advices from Raleigh sustain us fully in our predictions concerning the expeditionary movement of our eccentric ex-Judge on the Supreme Court at Raleigh. We are reliably informed that nobody at the capital will quo warranto worth a cent. and the counsel for the five Wise Wilson nen is doomed te inglorious defeat

We would advise the learned counsel to apply now for a writ of habeas-rari corpus matchem. We think that will get somebody "where the hair is short."

About Dogs.

No little trouble and worriment has been caused by the placards which adorn the walls and fences, upon which appear the words "Chain up the Dog," referring to a lecture to be delivered this evening by Rev. Mr. Warren. Many, supposing it to be a hint from the authorities that their dogs were in danger of death or capture, hastened to follow the supposed advice for fear of losing their favorite "purps." As a consequence the howls of the fettered animals are heard in every quarter of the city. an annoyance to which we are subject at the present writing by a "cur of low degree" but strong lungs in the vicinity of

We wish the Enquirer under their auspices the most abundant success.

Cumberland Prisoners. Three colored prisoners, convicted at the late term of Cumberland Superior Court, and sentenced to imprisonment for various terms, arrived here yesterday to be confined in the county work house. Their names, crimes and terms of imprisonment are as follows: Wm. Menno, manslaughter, 4 months; Cato Potts, larceny, 12 months; Wm. Rav. forgery, 12 months.

Fun Among the Railroaders.

A number of the employees of the Wil mington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad were having a merry time on Market street yesterday afternoon over an amusing event which has been developing itself in the shops for several days past. The denoue ment is expected to-day, when somebody will feel like squeezing himself through a conveniently located auger hole !

Held for Trial. George Poisson and Hannah Poisson, arrested on Wednesday, the former for stealing $10 and the latter for receiving the same, knowing it to have been stolen, had a hearing before Justice J. J. Cassidey yesterday afternoon, who required the parties to give bond in the sum of $10 each for their appearance at the next term of the lar bone was broken atom sometimes and Superior Court.

This in all would show business of half a million for the labor and capitalists of that county. At lowest estimate 1500 bales cotton was made there last crop, or equal to about $100,000. - Greensboro Patriot: We have had another stabbing case. Jackson Hunt, colored, stabbed Elizabeth Moody, also colored, yesterday near Friendship. It seems the difficulty arose concerning Hunt's wheat which Elizabeth Moody trampled down while gathering cherries in the field. They met near a fence on the farm, and a quarrel ensued, Elizabeth daring Hunt to strike her. He advanced, and she hurled a stone at him. He then, with a hellish design of murdering her, rushed up to her, and stabbed her five times severely. He was arrested by J. F. - Greensboro Patriot : On Saturday last Col. D. Wyatt Aiken, of South Carolina, Grand Deputy of the National Grange, addressed quite a large number of our farmers and those directly interested in agriculture, in the grove of Messrs. Buchan-an & McDonald. The Colonel made no attempt at a speech: but, explained the objects and aims of the Patrons of Husbandry in a plain and impressive manner. He not only told what good it was intended to jections that had been urged against it. Af-ter the address an invitation was extended, to those desirous of joining, to meet at Odd Fellow's Hall, at 21 o'clock P. M. The result of this meeting was the formation of two Granges—Greensboro and McLeansville which elected officers and at once entered upon the great, glorieus, and, we trust, successful mission of the order.
