tity of peanuts. An entrance was effected by tearing off a plank from the barn, after which the door was broken open from the inside for the purpose of getting the peanuts out. The amount stolen cannot be definitely determined, as the peas were loose in the barn, with the exception of a few sacks. Of the sacks there were only about five missing. About one week later the barn was again entered in the same way,

Mr. MePherson being absent at the time in attendance upon Court, and this time, from the confession of one of the parties subsequently arrested, seven sacks, or about twenty-five bushels, were taken. No alarm was made and no suspicion of any particular party or parties was entertained, but for certain reasons Mr. McP. and tenants had been led to the impression that the barn would be entered again on Tuesday night last, and a guard was placed near the building to watch for the unknown intruders. About dark Henry Willis and Chaney Huffham came with a horse and cart, and the latter held the horse while the former broke open the bain and loaded the vehicle. The guard, after witnessing
