THE FRENCH DUEL.

Paul Cassagnac, the veteran fighting journalist of France, and a violent monarchist, was seriously wounded vesterday at Paris in a duel with Rane, the Radical deputy in the Assembly from Lyons.

By the death of this man Cassagnac, especially at this time, no true interest of France would suffer. Living, he would agitate for the restoration of the Bonapartes; and dving, there would be one run-mad duellist the less in Europe. That is all. With his adversary, M. Ranc, we have very little more patience. In the days of the Commune, be sympathized with that bloody faction, though he was regarded by them almost as a conservative. He is still an extremist.

FIRE AT FROG LETEL, S. C.

Destructive Fre at Frog Level-Sixty Thousand Dollars' Worth of Preperty Destroyed. By Telegraph to the Charleston News and Courier. Frog Level, July 6. A destructive fire visited this town last night, resulting in the almost total destruction of the place. The origin of the fire is not known, but is supposed to have been the act of an incendiary. The flames devoured everything that came in the way. and in a few hours had consumed almost the entire business portion of the town, involving a loss of nearly sixty thousand dollars. The following is as accurate a list of the losses incurred as can be obtained at this time: F. Bobo, loss, $3,000; Wheeler & Moseley, loss, $4,000, insurance $2,-500; Wise, White & Co., loss, $10,000,

A telegram from Bombay reports the occurrence of an agrarian Com-munist rising, or revolt, by the Hin-doo peasantry of the Poonah district. The disaffected people refuse to pay their rent. They have congregated together and proceeded to the commission of overt acts against the constituted authorities. Several houses have been plundered and burned. The police have been engaged with roving parties of the agitators and succeeded in dispersing the bands at different points of collision. That the mind of the Anglo-Indian nativist population is deeply agitated, and that it has been so during some years past, is patent to the world. That distinguished soldier, Lord Napier, of Magdala, has confessed the fact officially, and warned the government in Downing street of the danger which attends its existence. Great Britain has to deal with a most inflammable mind in her Asiatic territory. War statements such as those which must result from the progress of the Russian advance on Khiva are likely to be extensively circulated and vastly and dangerously exa regerated in India, a country in which socialism of the most radical class is making great progress. It may be, also, that Russian propagandists, of a politico-religious stripe, have been active among the people

The editor of the Montgomery (Va.) Messenger has had a, interview with Col. Mosby had served the party in the Grant campaign, and as Grant did not wish to be in his debt, had paid him an equivalent, and the future would prove the balancesheet struck and receipts passed.

SUICIDE OF A BRIDE. A Tragical Close to a Honeymoon in Graniteville-Fires. telegraph to the News and Courier.]

AIKEN, S. C., July 7. Mrs. Wesley Shelly committed suicide in Graniteville this morning, by shooting herself through the head Her maiden name was Blum, and she had been married less than month. Domestic unhappiness was the cause of the rash act. There were two fires in Graniteville this morning; one was insignificant, but the other destroyed the residence of Edward Macham.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. T. C. SERVOSS. - Dog Ordinance. RANSOM PERKINS.—Tonsorial.

An Important Matter-Lime Deleterious to Health. It has been indisputably settled tha cleanliness in the largest sense, free air, pure water and wholesome food are the essential conditions of immunity from epidemic disease. It is therefore imperative that the earnest attention and efforts of our citizens be given to this important matter, and it is the duty of every one to inform himself upon the subject. It has generally been considered that lime is an excellent disinfectant and its use has universally been adopted.

A correspondent of the Louisville Cour ier Journal, in a communication regretting that such is the case, says :

In spite of the popular opinion in its fa-vor, probably no substance could be suggested less adapted to the end in view. Not only has lime, in a caustic state, no disinfecting properties, but, used in the way re-commended, it would be likely to become exceedingly deleterious. Its effect upon decaying vegetables and animal matter, as every chemist knows, is to hasten decom position, to liberate ammoniacal and other noxious gases, and if sprinkled along the gutters and alleys of the city could hardly fall to greatly increase the evil it was de signed to prevent. Indeed, not a few unfortunate experiments in this and other cities attest the fearful harm that may be done by its indiscriminate use.

Probably the most efficient, cheap disinfectant for outdoor and general use is to be found in the ordinary crude coppers or protosulphate of iron. It can be had in quantity at about two and a half or three cents a pound, and if made use of freely in the gutters, alleys and vaults of the city would do more to arrest the germs of disease than the same amount of expenditure in any

Probably the most effective arrangement would be for the city authorities to send water carts, filled with a moderate strong solution of coppers, to sprinkle the gutters and filthy alleys of the city. If this were repeated at intervals of a week of so, and proper attention were given to abating nuisproper attention were given to abating nuis-ances, disinfecting vaults and cleaning up-things generally, we might reasonably ex-pect immunity the coming summer from cholera and every form of epidemic. The tendency of modern investigation is entire-ly in the direction of the absolute preven-tability of most forms of zymotic disease. The past decade has given us the clew to the solution, if it has not given us the solution itself, of the mysteries of infection, contagion and malarial poisoning, and we are probably even upon the mere threshold of important pathological discoveries.

The following cases were disposed of yes terday morning:

John Merrick, charged with fighting Wm Phinney, Jr., at Hilton, on the Fourth of July, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

John Merrick, charged with resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty, and with cursing and abusing him, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25

John Merrick, charged with drawing a deadly weapen on Wm. Phinney, was required to enter into bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court and to keep the peace.

John Nichols, charged with insulting police officers VanSoelen and Statcher. Judgment for one-fifth of the penalty and costs.

The Drowning of Jimmle Mitchell-The Inquest. In the case of little Jimmie Mitchell whose unfortunate drowning was referred to in our last issue, Coroner Hewlett summoned a jury on Monday evening and proceeded to view the corpse. Only one witness was present at the investigation, and as there were others whom they wished to examine, but were unable to procure their attendance at that time, it was finally decided to postpone the further consideration of the case until yesterday morning. At 10 o'clock the jury met at the Court House, as per adjournment, when a full investigation was had, the jury returning a verdict that deceased came to his death from accidental drowning. The circumstances of the unfortunate accident, as developed on the inquest, vary but immaterially from the statement as published in the STAR of yesterday

The face and shoulder of Capt. Brady were first caught by the paddles, and but for his full and stout frame which caused the paddles to break, he would have been instantly crushed to death. As it was, his nose and the skin to the bone, on its either side were torn off and hung as a cover over his mouth; his shoulders and arms were dreadfully mangled and bruised, and he was taken from the river where he was thrown as a dying man. At the latest accounts, yesterday morning, Capt. Brady was improving and strong hopes of his recovery entertained.
