CLARKE COUNTY HORROR.

Detailed Account of the Terrible Family Bend and Tragedy. [Correspondence Baltimore American.]

TICHLO HETEWINCHESTER, July 7.

In Clarke county, Virginia, about twelve miles from Winchester, resides Franklin Littell, with a large family, on a fine estate, said to belong to his wife. All of the children, numbering six or eight, are grown. Two of them Oscar J. (a physician) and Lycurgus, until recently have been living in one of the Western States, where they spent their patri-mony, and returned, however, to find one of their brothers, younger than themselves, flourishing as a farmer on the old homestead, the owner of quite a number of valuable cattle, and a good stock of farming utensils, etc. Disappointed in the bootless result of their business efforts in the West, and jealous of the thriv-ing condition of Clinton Littell, their brother, who remained at home, they became troublesome, bitter, and and bethought themselves how they might better their own condition by impoverishing him.

By some means the two discontented sons became suspicious that their mother was about to vest all her property in her most worthy son, Clinton, which greatly increased their rage. But when, in a short time, they found that their suspicions were not ill founded, they concluded to put the old woman, her favorite son, and such others of their brothers and sisters as adhered to them, out of the way entirely. On Friday one one of them went to one of the neighbors and borrowed a Colt's navy revolver, remarking that he his family. wanted it to show his brother that he. Twenty-four cholera deaths up to could not beat him.

"SHOOTING AT A MARK."

The father of the family was at Washington, and did not return until Saturday evening. Early on Satur-day morning, while the rest of the family were sitting at the breakfast table, Oscar and Lycurgus walked deliberately into the dining-room, locked the door behind them, and one of them took out the key and put it into his pocket, and then commenced firing at the party at the breakfast table. Oscar's revolver, which Declining in the Southwest. The Southwestern papers of Monday furnish the following particulars. It will be seen that the ravages of the terrible disease are on the decline: CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 4.

The total number of deaths for Wednesday eighteen, and for Thursday twelve. Nearly every case of vesterday can be traced to some imprudence in diet. The greatest mortality has taken place where the imestone rocks are near the sufface. 8 P. M.-Twelve deaths from cholers to-day. It is reported that Postmaster Kendrick and Ed. Blon-dell are dying. July 5-6 P. M.-Only two deaths to-day. Kendrick and Blondell are much better. We think the worst is over, and that the epidemic will rapidly disappear. All the whites who have been attacked are recovering. A hopeful feeling pervades the entire city to-night. MEMPHIS, July 5. There were thirteen cholers interments yesterday. The disease is spreading in the country.

OTHER POINTS IN TENNESSEE. Twenty-one deaths occurred in Nashville on Wednesday-eleven cholera and ten of other diseases; eight cholera deaths and five from other causes on Thursday. The Rob-ertson Association has been disbanded, and the physicians employed by the city and county discharged. Business is reviving, and the refugees and country people are coming in. The epidemic is considered over in the City of Rocks. But it is worse in the surrounding towns. Nine deaths in Murfreesboro on Monday. Four deaths in Greenville. Among the recent deaths was the wife of Dorsey, the tailor who occupies ex-President Johnson's old shop. Only six or seven white families are left in the town. Ex-President Johnson has so far recovered as to be able to flee with the 1st in Lebanon, and ten cases under treatment.

Twenty-two deaths in Goodlettsville up to the 3d-eight white and fourteen colored ; two deaths in Bellevue on the 1st, and five in Nashville:

The disease rages fearfully at Shel-byville ; not less than two hundred cases and forty-six deaths had occurred up to Thursday. At that time nine colored persons awaited burial. In short, the epidemic is abating in Memphis and Nashville, and ext 8 o'clock. Keep sweating, and you are probably not in immediate danger; but when, on a July or August day, a man's head begins to throb and the surface grows dry and hot, whilst unwonted restlessness and lassitude come on, as he values his life let him leave his work, however imperative, and take at once a cold bath. There should in this disease be no waiting for the doctor. The remedy is so simple, the death so imminent, that the good Samaritan passing by should save his brother. The good Samaritan must, however, have a cool head to be useful. Not every man that falls unconscious on a hot day has sunstroke. There is for-tunately one criterion so easily of applica-tion that any one can use it. Go at once to the fallen man, open his shirt bosom and lay the hand upon his chest; if the skin be cool you may rest assured that, whatever may be the trouble, it is not sunstroke. If, on the contrary, the skin be burning hot, the case is certainly sunstroke, and no time should be lost. The patient must be carried to the nearest pump or hydrant, stripped to his waist, and bucketful after bucketful of cold water be dashed over him until conciousness begins to return or the intense-heat of the surface decidedly abates. ADD A SHOULD AND Cattle Disease. A gentleman from Bladen county inform ed us yesterday that the cattle disease is prevailing to a great extent in that and some of the adjacent counties. The symptoms are inflamed and swollen eyes, rendering them entirely blind, accompanied with a cough and running at the nose. The disease is not very fatal in its character, but very few of the animals are fit for service after having had the disease. Will some one familiar with stock raising and the diseases to which they are subject suggest a remedy for the disease alluded to? Safe and Substantial. It having been reported that the building being erected by Dr. T. B. Carr is constructed of bad matirial and that the walls are not of sufficient thickness, rendering it unsafe and dangerous, we would state in justice to that gentleman that we were hown a certificate yesterday, signed by a number of master masons, bricklayers and master mechanics of this city, who have examined the work and who testify that the quality of the material is good and that he walls are safe and substantial.

Child Smothered. A colored infant, about two months old.

by the name of Edward Knox, was found dead in its bed at the residence of its parents on Fifth, between Red Cross and Campbell streets, yesterday morning. Coroner Hewlett was notified and held an inquest over the body, the jury returning a verdict that the child came to its death by being smothered accidentally by its mother.

----Marine Disaster. The steamship Lucille, from this port, arrived at Baltimore on the morning of the 7th, having in tow the canal propeller New Fork, bound from Washington to Philadelphia, which she fell in with the day previous in the lower Chesapeake with her engine disabled.
