SOUTHERN NOTES.

Capt. Thomas Dixon, of Charleston, is dead. — The cattle in South Florida have nearly all been exhausted by shipments to Cuba. — The exports from Savannah for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1873, amounted to $32,675,515. — The cotton caterpillar has appeared in the cotton fields of Leon county, Fla., in large numbers. — A colored man named Jim Colebreed was drowned in Venning's Dock, Charleston on Thursday evening. — Cotton is open in the neighborhood of Clear Water Harbor, Fla., and picking will commence in a few days. — One firm of St. Mary's, Fla., have shipped two million feet of lumber to foreign ports in thirty days past. — The Beaufort Standard says the unwelcome caterpillars have made their annual appearance earlier than usual. — The affair in St. John's Island turns out a murder and not suicide. Sallie Palmer stabbed Maria Davant. Both negroes. — The latest smuggler's trick at Key West is to fill all the stove kettles with agardiente, and thus defraud the revenue. Uncle Sam, however, has spotted the trick. — A house at Hilton Head, S. C., was struck by lightning on the 20th. There were seven or eight persons in the house. The lightning passed down the chimney, striking and instantly killing a colored man named Cyrus Grass.

THE MAN WHO MANAGED THE GEORGIA RAILROADS AND BUILT GRAND HOTELS. The Boston Advertiser learns that Mr. Kimball was born at Hamlin Grant, in Maine, a short distance from Bethel, in 1832. His business life was begun at Norway, Me., where he assumed the direction of C. P. Kimball's carriage factory, having formerly acquired a knowledge of the business by apprenticeship in his native town. From there he went to New Haven, where he occupied a similar position in the tin factory of G. D. Cook & Co., in which business he afterward acquired an interest. Here he remained until war broke out. The war greatly impaired the business of the firm, its market being confined mostly to the Southern States. This misfortune finally resulted in the failure of the firm, and Mr. Kimball immediately departed for Colorado, where he embarked in the mining business, interesting himself with the Bartola Company. He spent but about a year in this business, and report says he made some money during that time. Before the close of the war he came East as far as Chicago, where he opened a broker's office, doing some business and making a good many friends. Here he was sorely annoyed by creditors looking after the New Haven wreck. He became very intimate with Mr. Pullman, the famous car manufacturer, and it is presumed that it was greatly owing to this gentleman's advice and influence that Mr. Kimball located in Georgia and prospered so rapidly. In a remarkably brief space of time he got control of the principal railway lines in that State, and gained a great influence throughout that part of the country. His natural ambition, encouraged by the strong desires of his friends, prompted him to engage in a disastrous hotel speculation—the building of the great H. L. Kimball House—which proves too much for his financial resources. His failure, two years ago, is said to be the result of the failure of Henry Clews & Co. to keep an agreement by which a certain large amount of money was to be transferred to the use of Mr. Kimball. To this misfortune his business yielded, his property went under the auction hammer, and he disappeared. He is said to be in Switzerland now.

THE MODOE OF GERMAN LIFE. If the love of music, and a high appreciation of its charms, is commendable, then no one can find fault with these assemblages, which are as quiet and orderly and as free from all manner of excesses as one of Theodore Thomas's concerts at Ford's Opera House. Whilst listening to music they like to eat, drink beer and smoke in the open air, which eating is, to the great mass of them, their usual evening repast. Many take coffee instead of beer, whilst the ladies and children are eating cakes or ices; but even the children drink their beer. It is part of the food of every household, and there is nobody of any class of the community too high or too exclusive to join in these nightly gatherings, which are to be found in all parts of Vienna. They are places of relaxation after the labors of the day, and are so regarded and enjoyed by the best people of Vienna. The quiet and good order that prevails is remarkable, and any unseemly noise or excess would cause the prompt removal of the offender.

Probable Fatal Accident. On Thursday evening last, about 7 o'clock, as the train on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta railroad had reached what is known as Lillington Creek trestle, about one mile from Brinkley's depot, a white man was seen on the embankment on the opposite side of the trestle and approaching in the direction of the train. He finally got on the trestle, the engine then being only 60 or 70 feet from him. The engineer sounded the alarm and whistled down his brakes. The man at the same time became aware of his danger, jumped over the rail on one side, got on the end of one of the cross ties and leaned over as far as he could to try and prevent the engine from striking him. In this, however, he was unsuccessful, and as the train thundered by the unfortunate man was struck and hurled from the trestle to the bed of the creek below, a distance of some 20 or 25 feet. The train was stopped as soon as possible and upon the engineer and others going to the spot where the accident occurred, they found that the man had by some means succeeded in reaching the shore. Upon examination it was ascertained that he had received a severe wound on the head and was badly bruised about the body. He was apparently between 60 and 70 years of age, gave his name as James Byrd, and said he resided at a place called Byrdville. At last accounts, received yesterday afternoon, he was in a very critical condition and his recovery was considered extremely doubtful. No blame is attached to the engineer or any one else on the train.

A Narrow Escape. A small white child, who had strayed from his nurse's protection, met with a narrow escape near the corner of Princess and Second Streets yesterday afternoon. A vicious horse that had been hitched in the vicinity, broke his fastenings, ran up behind the child, reared upon his hind legs and came down with one fore-foot on each side of the child, who was knocked down between the legs of the animal, but fortunately received no injury. The nurse, perceiving the queer manœuvres of the horse, rushed to the rescue of her charge, frightened the animal off and received the little one safely in her arms. This was a narrow escape and should prove a warning to nurses of the danger of permitting their charges to stray beyond their protection on the streets.

How It Is. The following, which was handed to us yesterday, with no pretensions to originality, may prove interesting to the young folks: "Be, whenever written with a pen, is neither write nor right. And write whenever written right, is neither write nor right."

Local Dots. — Thus far the sum of $1,440 have been realized by the sale of dog badges. — The brig Sophia arrived at Boston from this port on the 24th inst. — Only two trifling cases before the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. — The Brig Winogens, Lofring, arrived at Bremerhaven from this port on the 8th inst. — The schr. Lucy Wright, Etzey, cleared from New York for this port on the 24th inst. — The Nor. Barque Bravo, Christofferson, arrived at Bremerhaven from this port on the 9th inst. — There was a good shower of rain at Brown Marsh and other points on the Carolina Central road yesterday.

— Up to the closing of the City Treasurer's office yesterday afternoon, a total of 1,335 dog badges had been sold. — Deputy Sheriff Morris had a cabbage in market yesterday weighing 20 pounds, raised on his place at the Sound. — There were only four interments in Pine Forest Cemetery during the past week, of which one was an adult and three were children. — Superintendent VanAmringe is complaining of a shortness of force at the Work House. There are now 37 convicts there, of which number 7 are females. — There were only two interments in Oakdale Cemetery during the week closing yesterday. Of these one died at birth and the other was two months old. The latter died of dropsy.

— The receipts of the City Treasury during the past week amounted to $3,511 11, of which $1,610 14 were for real and personal taxes, $455 97 for special license tax and $445 for dog badges. — We have seldom seen our harbor present such a deserted aspect as at present. There are a number of vessels on the way here, however, and we look for a speedy change in the appearance of things.

The Assault Upon Mr. Butler, of Bladen County—Arrest of Parties on Suspicion—The Wounded Man Not Expected to Live. We learn that a white man by the name of Needham Bryant, and his son, Jas. Bryant, residing near Bladenboro, on the Carolina Central Road, have been arrested on suspicion of being the parties who waylaid Mr. Jack Butler near that place on Monday last, beat him nearly to death and robbed him of what money he had about his person, an account of which appeared in the STAR a day or two afterwards. They were undergoing a preliminary examination before a magistrate when the train passed Bladenboro yesterday, and we are informed that the evidence against them so far as it had progressed was quite strong. The examination had not been brought to a close when the train left and the result was therefore not known by our informant. Mr. Butler is said to be in a very critical condition, with but slight hopes of his recovery.

Magistrate's Court. Mary Murphy and Chaney McNeill, both colored, were arrested yesterday on the charge of being engaged in an affray in a saloon near the corner of Mulberry and North Water streets. They were taken before Justice T. M. Gardner, who entered judgment against them for the costs, in default of the payment of which they were lodged in jail. The proprietor of the saloon was also arrested, charged with assaulting Mary Murphy, but was released by Justice Gardner on the payment of costs.

Religious. Rev. Wm. Groves will preach in the First Presbyterian Church this morning and Elder J. C. Hiden, of the First Baptist Church, in the evening. We learn that the Rev. Mr. Groves intends leaving to-morrow for Hampden Sydney to complete his course of study for the ministry.

ROBE WAR HISTORY. Interesting Telegrams. We find the following interesting telegrams in the last number of Our Living and Our Dead. Of the names appended, five—Cowan, Person, Meares, Fulton and Hall—have passed away. The telegrams were mostly addressed to the Governor of the State and show the feeling which animated our people at the exciting period in our history in which they were issued: WILMINGTON, April 14, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: Say to the Governor, Lincoln is moving. Our Forts should be occupied. J. W. L. CASTWELL.

GOLDSBORO, April 15, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: I am off for Wilmington. The train can't wait. Answer there. Our people will act. Fort Macon is taken by the Beaufort company. S. J. PEARSON.

WILMINGTON, April 15, 1861. To E. CASTWELL: Please hand this to the Governor. His Excellency Jno. W. Ellis, Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Sir: Messrs. Person and Hall are still at Goldsboro. Please send orders to the Colonel of this county intended for this regiment. My regiment is ready. J. L. CASTWELL.

WILMINGTON, April 15, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: Be good enough to send an order by telegraph to DeLoach and Brown to deliver arms to my troops. K. H. COWAN.

WILMINGTON, April 15, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: Our people will take the forts. Send orders or we go without them and hold against all comers. S. J. PEARSON.

WILMINGTON, April 16, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: Four companies went down to-day to forts. They are without the necessary guns for defence; no ammunition; no guns mounted. May be attacked at any moment after two days by part of fleet off Charleston. Can get guns immediately and anything else temporarily from Gov. Pickens on request of authority. Please send authority to some person here to act with full power immediately. It is essential to the safety of our men. Answer immediately. T. D. MEARES, J. FULLON.

WILMINGTON, April 16, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: We want men. We ought to have at least two thousand (2,000) Gov. Pickens will, if called, send any aid. We must have engineers and a few artillerymen. Ask for them and they will be sent. We must have more guns and more gun carriages. Order them from Richmond by express. Orders at Washington will at once be issued to retake the forts. Prompt action is all we want. T. D. MEARES.

WILMINGTON, April 16th, 1861. To Gov. Ellis: My company is made up. O. P. Meares Captain, R. D. Williams first Lieut., W. S. Higgins second Lieut., J. E. James third Lieut. Send the Commissions and arms. O. P. MEARES.

WILMINGTON, April 16th, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS, Commander in Chief. We are your obedient servants in the Wilmington military intended for enrolled volunteers or to the militia. WM. L. DELOSSER, CAPT. W. L. I. M. M. HANSEN, C. P.

WILMINGTON, April 17th, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: Col. Cantwell is now in full possession with three companies of infantry and one of artillery. The artillery at Fort Johnson is under Stephenson. Col. Moore of the sixty-third regiment of Salisbury, is a good officer; he is here; shall he wear or go home. Please answer by telegraph. Col. Gardner (M. S.) has reported all proceedings to Lincoln. He has been here a month and left Wilmington for Washington one hour after our Caswell expedition. Answer before the 20th inst. or we will be taken without great loss. E. CASTWELL.

WILMINGTON, April 17th, 1861. Gov. ELLIS: Lieut. John A. Baker will leave here at 2 o'clock for Richmond. He will be in Raleigh to-morrow morning. Prepare the necessary authority and letters of credit for him to get guns, &c., so that he will not be delayed. I wish to know if you will be surrendered on demand or can be taken without great loss. R. H. COWAN, CAPT.

WILMINGTON, April 17th, 1861. Gov. ELLIS: Public opinion justifies the seizure of arms. Please send me your orders for military at Fayetteville. No opposition expected. I return to-morrow to this point and will start for Fayetteville immediately. It is understood that the arsenal will be surrendered on demand or can be taken without great loss. E. CASTWELL, A. A. G.

WILMINGTON, April 18th, 1861. Gov. ELLIS: We send you by this evening's mail, a report of the Committee appointed to examine the condition of defense of Fort Caswell, Johnson and Newfort. The report meets with the general approbation of our citizens. For God's sake send a good and reliable engineer or leave his recommendation to our committee of safety. We have just heard that Virginia is out. I hope no sensible man will think we are in. W. S. ASHE.

WILMINGTON, April 18, 1861. Gov. ELLIS: If the arsenal is not taken we offer to do it. Please answer. E. CASTWELL, T. D. MEARES.

WILMINGTON, April 19th, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: The town has a battery which they wish erected on Federal Point. Col. Cantwell does not want meat Oswell. I have tendered my company subject to your approval for the purpose of erecting and working the battery. I have a competent artificer with me. Please confirm by telegraph. R. H. COWAN.

WILMINGTON, April 19th, 1861. To Gov. ELLIS: We have just seen Major Holmes. He says he knows that Major Anderson will surrender the arsenal if demanded by the Governor. Major Holmes thinks it all important. The demand should be made at once. ROSS STRANGER, E. W. HALL.

WILMINGTON, April 24th, 1861. Gov. ELLIS: The services of a company from Whiteville are tendered, eighty (80) strong. Will they be accepted? W. H. C. WRIGHT. Answer: Come to this city. APRIL 22, 1861.

Gov. ELLIS: We are coming to beg a place for the Anson Guards. Can we get it? Telegraph us at once. D. E. McNAIR, H. KERRY, J. G. BENNETT, H. H. HARRISON, Comd'g.

WILMINGTON, April 22, 1861. Gov. ELLIS: I send the following received here by the Mayor of Wilmington. J. F. HOLMES. HD. QRS 4TH BRIGADE, April 23rd, 1861. North Carolina Arsenal was evacuated this day at 2 o'clock. M. DRAYTON, Brig. Gen. comd'g.

Republican Meeting. The Republican meeting which was advertised to take place at the Court House on Thursday evening last, for the purpose of considering the propriety of making nominations for township officers in the different wards, but which was postponed, will be held at the same place, on Tuesday evening next.

Arrested for Fighting. Two colored fellows, answering to the names of Martha Hill and Anna Marshall, were arrested in the classic precincts known as Paddy's Hollow, yesterday afternoon, charged with being engaged in a pugilistic encounter. They were taken to the Guard House to await a hearing before the Mayor's Court to-morrow morning.

The Demented. The crazy colored boy alluded to in our last is named Peter Bryan. He resides here and has been deranged for some time. We learn that an application will be made for his admission into the State Asylum, at Raleigh.

CITY ITEMS. LATER PAPERS.—To Mr. R. I. Harris, of the Front Street News Depot, we are indebted for copies of the New York Ledger, Charming Corner and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper for the current week. His stand will be open until 10 o'clock this morning.

PRINTING PAPERS.—We now have in stock over 200 reams of news paper, size 24x36, weight 30 lbs per ream. It is good, rag paper, and will be sold, in lots to suit, for cash, or sent by express C. O. D.
