Less wheat shipped from California so far than last year. At Titusville, Pa., railroad accident killed three. Fatal accident at Cumberland, Md. $75,000 fire at Norwich, Conn. Two cholera deaths at Evansville, four at Dayton yesterday. Carlists repulsed near Bilbao. A tourist train from London to Scotland lost twelve persons by accident; thirty wounded, many fatally. Germany wishes a conference of maritime powers to settle status of insurgent Spanish ships. A fearful fire is raging at Portland, Oregon. Twelve blocks burned. Six New York manufacturing companies in city limits decided to be a nuisance by New York judge. Duchess of Inverness is dead. A reaction is taking place in Spain in favor of the Government, due to insurgent excesses. Contreras held by foreign commanders of squadrons as hostage for the delivery to the Government of the frigates seized by the insurgents.

By George Elliot.

That adoration which a young man gives to a woman whom he feels to be greater and better than himself, is hardly distinguishable from religious feeling. What deep and worthy love is not so, whether of women or child, or art or music? Our caresses, our tender words, our still rapture under the influence of autumn sunsets, or pillared vistas, or calm, majestic statues, or Beethoven symphonies, all bring with them the consciousness that they are mere wave and ripples in an unfathomable ocean of love and beauty; our emotion in its keenest moment passes from expression into silence, our love at its highest floods rushes beyond its object, and loses itself in the sense of divine mystery. Is it any weakness, pray, to be wrought on by exquisite music? To feel its wondrous harmonies searching the subtlest windings of your soul, the delicate fibers of life where no memory can penetrate, and binding together your whole being, past and present, in one unspokeable vibration; melting you in one moment with all the tenderness, all the love that has been scattered through the toilsome years, concentrating in one emotion of heroic courage or resignation all the hard-learned lessons of self-renouncing sympathy, blending your present joy with past sorrow, and your present sorrow with all your past joy? If not, then neither is it a weakness to be so wrought upon by the exquisite curves of a woman's cheek and neck and arms, by the liquid depths of her beseeching eyes, or the sweet childish pout of her lips. For the beauty of a lovely woman is like music; what can one say more? Beauty has an expression beyond and far above the one woman's soul that it clothes, as the words of genius have a wider meaning than the thought that prompted them; it is more than a woman's love that moves us in a woman's eyes. It seems to be a far-off mighty love that has come near to us, and made a speech for itself there; the rounded neck, the dimpled arm, move us by something more than their prettiness—by their close kinship with all we have known of tenderness and peace. The noblest nature sees the most impersonal expression in beauty (it is needless to say that there are gentlemen with whiskers dyed and undyed who see none of it whatever), and for this reason, the noblest nature is often the most blinded to the character of the one woman's soul that the beauty clothes. Whence, I fear the tragedy of human life is likely to continue for a long time to come, in spite of mental philosophers, who are ready with the best receipts for avoiding all mistakes of the kind.

A Mountain of Newspapers.

The Managers of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Industrial Exposition and Agricultural Fair, which will be opened on the 29th of September next, propose to exhibit a copy of every newspaper published in the United States. These specimens are to be neatly bound and placed in the Exposition; on the fourth day the collection is to be sold to the highest bidder, and the proceeds are to be given to the fund for building the monument to Horace Greeley, the great journalist, and one of the founders of the modern American Press. The collection, if it be nearly complete, will be curious and valuable.

Iron has been laid on the Air Line Road from the West to Tugalo River.

The track from the East has been laid to Cauga creek, only a short distance from Tugalo River.

The Greeley Heirs in a Virginia Court.

The Richmond Whig says: It has long been known that the late Horace Greeley owned certain real estate in Buckingham county, Virginia, and before his death he was one of the parties defendant in the Circuit Court of that county in the chancery case of Denmead and others vs. Bayard and others. At the last May term of the court Ida Lillian Greeley, and Gabrielle Miriam Greeley applied through counsel to be admitted as parties defendants in place of their deceased father, the application being granted, and J. B. Gilliam, Esq., appointed guardian ad litem of Gabrielle Miriam Greeley.

[Newbern Republic-Courier.] Fifty Years Hence.

Library in the residence of E. C. Woodson, Jr., at Raleigh, N. C. Old water telegraphs to the kitchen, and water ascends in a balloon. Old Gent—Charles, fly over to Calcutta, and tell Mr. Woodson that I shall be happy to have him sup with me. Never mind your coat now—go! Charles leaves, and at the end of five minutes returns. Charles—Mr. Woodson says he will come; he has got to go to St. Petersburg for a moment, and then he will be here. Old Gent—Very well, Charles. Now start the machine for setting the table, and telegraph to my wife's room, and tell her that Woodson is coming; then brush up my balloon, for I have an engagement in London at twelve o'clock. Charles flies, and the old gentleman runs over to the West Indies to buy a fresh orange.

Reports from St. Helena and other Sea Islands in S. C. represent the caterpillars as doing considerable damage. From Bluffton, Hardeville and Grahamville come favorable reports of crops, rice especially.

Local Notes.

See if your names are on the registration books. So far only 611 persons have paid their city taxes. Watermelons and cantelopes flooded the market yesterday. The Board of County Commissioners meet to-morrow evening. There will be no service in the Second Presbyterian Church to-day. Up to the closing hour yesterday 1,400 dog badges had been disposed of. There were no cases ready for trial before the Mayor's Court yesterday. The Board of Aldermen will meet in regular session on Tuesday evening. Next Thursday will be the day to vote for the Amendments to the Constitution. The British Brig Three Sisters, Lowrey, cleared from Bermuda for this port on the 17th. Rev. Mr. Buist, of Cheraw, S. C., preaches at the First Presbyterian Church to-day. J. C. Smith, colored, has authorized his name to be used as an independent candidate for Constable. The meeting of Committees to consult in relation to the paving of Princess street was a "flash in the pan." Lieut. Biondi, formerly of the Revenue Cutter Seaward, and a very clever gentleman, is now on duty at Portland, Me. All ye that are heavy burdened by taxation and are "hard up" in other respects, vote for the amendments. From every indication there will be a tremendous crowd to witness the yacht race at Wrightsville Sound on the 6th inst. We learn that the friends of E. H. McQuigg, Esq., will run him for the position of Magistrate at the approaching election. Not a single interment in Pine Forrest Cemetery during the past week, and not one in either of the Cemeteries since last Sunday. A colored man, for being drunk and disorderly on Second Street, was arrested and lodged in the Guard House yesterday afternoon. There was only one interment in Oakdale Cemetery during the past week—a child 12 years of age. The disease was erysipelas. Some thief entered the premises of Mrs. Ellwell, on Walnut, between Fifth and Sixth streets, a night or two since, and stole a number of pig pigeons. Yesterday was one of the warmest days of the season. But for the pleasant breeze, with which we were favored it would have been intensely hot. Anna Jones, charged with trespass on the premises of Thalia Everitt, was arrested yesterday and her case fixed for a hearing before Justice Merrick to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Capt. Geo. Morrison, of the Carolina Central, has received a furlough for a few weeks and will leave for Asheville on Tuesday evening, from whence he will go to Beaufort. Capt. Fladger will run "der merchandise" during his absence. Through Mr. Thos. Smith, grocer, on Market street, we have the latest vegetable curiosity in the shape of five huge beets, weighing in the aggregate ten pounds. They were raised on the plantation of Mr. Thomas Monk, near this city.

The Thermometer.

The thermometer in the counting room of the STAR office ranged as follows yesterday: 8 A. M. 80 degrees. 10 A. M. 80 " 12 P. M. 80 " 1 P. M. 80 " 3 P. M. 80 " 5 P. M. 80 " 7 P. M. 80 "

Colored Odd Fellows.

Free Love Lodge Grand United States Order of Odd Fellows, of this city, celebrate their anniversary on Monday, the 11th inst., by a public parade, &c., to conclude with an entertainment at City Hall at night. The Lodge, we learn, is in a flourishing condition.

City Taxes.

In consequence of the great rush of tax payers yesterday and the inability of the City Treasurer to accommodate a great many, Mayor Canaday has given instructions for the time to be extended fifteen days. It is to be hoped that all will not wait until the last moment to attend to the matter. Registration. The Registrars and Inspectors of election were required by law to meet at the polling places in the different Wards at 9 o'clock on yesterday, and to keep the books open during the day for public inspection. The law was complied with in the Third Ward, but we have had no information as to the other Wards. German Pic-Nic at the Wilmington Garden. A number of our German friends will have a picnic at the Wilmington Garden on Wednesday, the 6th inst., commencing at 4 o'clock. The Italian string band has been engaged for the occasion and every preparation will be made to insure a pleasant time to those present, especially as the Wilmington garden, now in its full glory, affords such rare facilities for enjoyment at this season of the year. The Yacht Club. A meeting of the members of the Carolina Yacht Club will be held at the Commercial Exchange to-morrow evening, at 8 1/2 o'clock. Boats entering for the regatta on the 6th inst., are required to report by that time to the Regatta Committee.

The Late Assault and Robbery in Bladen.

Needham Bryant and his son, Jas. M. Bryant, the parties alluded to as having been arrested a few days ago, on the charge of beating and robbing Mr. Jack Butler, near Bladenboro', a couple of weeks since, are to have a preliminary examination before Justices Grayton and Hester, on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock, at the house of the senior Bryant. Mr. Butler is still reported in a very critical condition from the wounds he received. A Nuisance. Baby carriages on the south side of Market street between Front and Second of a Saturday afternoon are voted a decided nuisance. The idea of wheeling the little innocents through the mass of human beings who there do congregate, when there are so many less crowded thoroughfares, is certainly a preposterous one, and it would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to arrive at the motive for so doing. The Postmastership. The friends of Mabson state that a letter was received from Washington yesterday, to the effect that a delegation of North Carolinians, residents in that city, called on Postmaster General Creswell on Saturday last and demanded the appointment of Mabson to the Postmastership of this city. Creswell was on the eve of departure to Long Branch and said he would confer with the President. Gen. Abbott was on hand, however, and using his influence against Mabson, but the letter referred to reports the indications favorable to his prospects. The Late Aven H. Hall. In relation to the death of this gentleman, formerly a resident of this city, the announcement of which appeared in these columns a few days ago, the Hickory Tavern Press says: "This worthy gentleman had been suffering with some disease of the heart for some time and accompanied by his daughter was spending a few weeks at the White Sulphur Springs. Up to Sunday he was thought to be improving. Only a few minutes before his death he remarked to some gentleman that he was feeling better than he had for weeks before. He then walked out into the garden. A servant who happened to be looking at him says all at once he started hurriedly toward the house—seemed to be unable to see as he passed the gate and tried to get over a high fence. Just as he got his hands on the top he fell back apparently unconscious, and breathed for only a few minutes afterwards. "Mr. Hall was a native of Fayetteville, N. C. He moved to Asheville just after the war. It has been the lot of but few men to hold so high a place in the estimation of friends and acquaintances as Mr. Hall. "He possessed in an eminent degree all those qualities which go to make up the character of a high-toned christian gentleman and valued citizen. "His piety, industry and liberality won for him the respect and good-will of his fellow-citizens to such an extent that he often felt the loss of any other man would be more keenly felt and more universally mourned in the community in which he resided. "Mr. H. was a gentleman of extensive information and enlarged views and his energy and enterprise has contributed greatly to the growth and prosperity of Asheville for the last six or eight years."

Wilmington Retail Market.

A Petrified Fish.

We were shown yesterday a petrified fish, blown out of a solid bed of rock about thirty feet beneath the surface of the earth at Rock Hill in this county. This relic of the primeval ages has somewhat of the shape and semblance of a lobster, minus the head, which was broken off in blasting the rock in which it was imbedded. It is about twelve inches long and six inches wide, and the tail is turned over somewhat in the shape of a helmet. This curious specimen was in the possession of Mr. J. J. O'Brien, who brought it here for inspection.

Four marriage licenses were issued during the last week, of which one was for a white and three for colored couples.

Spirits Turpentine.

Enfield had three affrays last Saturday. Capt. S. D. Phillips, of Goldboro, is dangerously ill. Rev. Luke L. Branson, a Baptist minister of Madison county, is dead. The second number of J. J. Lawrence's Medical Brief, Wilson, N. C., has been received. Mr. John W. Southall, a venerable citizen of Hertford county, died on Thursday morning last. Norfolk papers state that Mrs. Millsbaugh, wife of the late proprietor of a hotel in Tarboro, is dead. Gen. F. L. Simpson, of Rockingham county, once a State Senator, died last week at the age of 80. Up to this time Rev. Mr. Dalton, has realized about eight thousand dollars towards the Davidson College Endowment. Hardy Jones, an old colored man, convicted last year at Craven Court of the murder of Robert Miller, will be hanged next Friday. The Reidsville Record relates how Mr. Garrett Walker came to his death by a loaded wagon passing over his body. He died in a few minutes. A fearful storm passed over Morganton Sunday night. Mrs. Beach, a highly respected old lady of 60, was killed by lightning. Several hogs and cows were killed. J. Edwin Moore, Esq., will sell the Williamson and Tarboro Railroad on the 26th inst., the injunction staying the sale for three months, we presume, having been dissolved, says the Enquirer. Col. R. W. Hughes, Radical nominee for Governor of Virginia, was at the Caldwell Institute, Greensboro, in this State, for 18 months. He afterward taught mathematics in the Bingham School, but was never at college. Salisbury Watchman: An affray occurred between J. A. Bell, of the Mansion House, and Wm. Wiseman, who had been clerk for him, last Sunday night, in which Bell was rather seriously cut, in the face with a knife. The matter will undergo investigation, we presume. Asheville Pioneer: We are informed by a gentleman from Edneyville, that a few days since, Mrs. Hutchison, who resides in that place, while suffering from temporary insanity, cut her husband's throat with a razor, and then attempted her own destruction in the same manner. The man, it is thought, will recover, while the wounds of his wife are of a more serious nature and likely to prove fatal. Asheville Citizen: We understand that the canvassers on the railroad tax question, in Henderson county, met the people in the Blue Ridge townships on Tuesday, the 29th instant, and that there was a very emphatic expression in favor of making the subscription of $100,000. We think we may safely calculate that Henderson will be the largest town in the region, in the augmentation of the great enterprise, to connect the Northwest with the cities of Wilmington and Charleston on the Atlantic seaboard. The Sentinel gives the result of some fine farming in Granville county. Mr. J. M. Curran worked three hands and one horse all the year, and another horse half the year. He bought $110 worth of guano. His tobacco crop netted in cash, $2,130. Dennis Tiley, Esq., sold 19 acres of tobacco in Richmond, receiving $87 per hundred pounds for his lowest grade, and $121 for his highest. Another Mr. Curran sold his tobacco, made by himself, to a negro boy of not more than fifteen, for $1,700. We knew another farmer, Mr. Avery, to actually receive for one tobacco crop more money than he had offered to sell his property for the year. And yet other people will leave North Carolina and remove to Texas or some other point South.
