VETERANS OF THE MEXICAN WAR.

From the proceedings of the meeting of survivors of the Mexican war, held in this city yesterday afternoon, it will be seen that a State Convention of veterans who have survived that war will be held in Goldsboro, October 15, for the purpose of appointing delegates to a National Convention. It is designed to form a regular association in each State, and afterward a National Association.

The Ohio Campaign Working Badly.

The New York Tribune says:

Both wings of the opposition in Ohio have opened the campaign badly. Mr. Collins, the nominee of the new party, began his canvass by an unwarrantable and gratuitous assault upon the Liberals of 1872—the very men by whom, if he had reflected for a moment, he must have known that his ranks would most probably be recruited. If his followers ever arrive at the dignity of a party, that party will trace its origin to the Cincinnati Convention.

The Democratic candidate has the advantage of knowing just what his party consists of, and remembering the topics which it liked to debate a generation or two ago. If he does not comprehend that the old issues which divided the country are closed, and that both the old parties have consequently lost their vitality forever, he is no worse off in that respect than Gov. Noyes, and Gov. Morton, and the other conspicuous politicians of the opposite faction. He has at least been shrewd enough to see that the "one political question before the people of the United States is whether it will be possible for the American people to purge the great principle of popular representation from the pollutions which now contaminate it, and to keep it free from contamination in the future." With all deference to Mr. Allen's philosophy, we doubt however whether this task can be accomplished by a discussion of theories of representation, or even by placing in power a party which has always been "sound" on State Rights. Neither will it be accomplished by attacking the Republican party at points where it is not vulnerable.

We repeat therefore that the campaign in Ohio opens with discouraging auspices. Mere party issues have lost their interest for most of us, and the great anxiety of honest men is to break up the Credit Mobilier Rings, and Custom House Rings, and State House Rings, which flourish under the protection of the ruling majority, to check stealing from the Treasury, and to expel from all public employments the corruptionists, railroad members, and back-pay grabbers. It makes very little difference just now whether Governors and Congressmen call themselves Liberals, or Radicals, or Democrats, provided they they are honest. But here is the campaign in one of the greatest of the Western States going on after the old way; and the excellent and venerable candidate who was to refresh the combatants with good old-fashioned high-toned statesmanship, gives us buncombe appeals to the soldiers, such as we have heard any time these ten years at New York ward meetings.

[Richmond Enquirer.]

Hon. D. M. Barringer.

The people of North Carolina have met a severe loss in the death of this distinguished gentleman, and the announcement will cause profound regret in a State whose political history he has done much to adorn and illustrate, and which is so deeply indebted to him for the faithful performance of all the duties of good citizenship, of patriotism, and of Christian obligation, while the whole country will join her in mourning the death of one of its most distinguished sons.

The people of his native State and his immediate family have the sincere condolence of Virginia in their bereavement, and the country generally will participate in their grief.

Hon. John B. Baldwin.

The condition of Hon. John B. Baldwin has much improved, and today it is reported that his entire recovery is looked for with certainty.

BY THE SOUTHERN MAIL.

—The boll worm is doing great damage in Leon county, Fla.

—Judge Carter Campbell died at Madison, Ga., on Thursday evening.

—The Savannah News says: Beast Butler's hopeful son-in-law, Ames, has succeeded in obtaining the nomination for Governor of Mississippi. But his prospects for election are not so bright as they might be. The understanding was that he was to have been supplemented with a negro candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and that the majority of the State offices were to have been given to the black wing of the party. This schedule has been only partially carried out. Davis, a Natchez negro, was nominated for Lieutenant Governor, but a white man by the name of Hill was, after a hard struggle, nominated for Secretary of State. The negro element is not entirely satisfied with the division of the offices, and it is intimated that Senator Cooper, taking advantage of the defection in the negro ranks, will announce himself as an independent candidate. Beast Butler is expected to go to the assistance of his son-in-law so soon as he gets his tricks set for the Massachusetts nomination, of which, from all accounts, he is reasonably certain.

General Breckinridge Calls upon the President.

[Long Branch Correspondence New York Tribune, 1st.]

General John C. Breckinridge spent a few nays here during the present week, and attended the races. He called as a matter of personal courtesy on President Grant, whom he had not seen since the Mexican war where they were fellow-officers, and very intimate. Although General Breckinridge has been frequently in Washington since the close of the war he did not think it would be delicate for him to visit the President in the Executive mansion. He was accompanied to the President's cottage by Mr. John Hoey, and spent a portion of the evening in very agreeable conversation. Senator Frelinghuysen was present, and others dropped in during the evening to pay their respects. No allusion whatever was made to the late war, and the part taken by either of the two gentlemen. The President greeted Mr. Breckinridge very kindly, and referred to the last time they met, which was, I believe, when Grant was slightly wounded in one of the Mexican engagements. They called up old memories and old friends, and traced the latter into after life. There is but a year's difference in the ages of the two gentlemen, General Grant being fifty-two and General Breckinridge fifty-one. The latter took his leave in about an hour, receiving an invitation to call again.

The New York Bond Forgers.

The arrest of another of the alleged forgers of railway stocks, and the seizure of the funds of the brokers Kendrick & Co., will doubtless have the effect of putting a stop to the present operations of the forgers, says the Tribune. The amount of bogus certificates already in circulation has doubtless been greatly exaggerated, and the excitement on the street has been described in extravagant language. The stocks forged were favorites for investment, and among holders considerable trepidation was manifested lest they had purchased some of the forged certificates; but speculation was in no degree affected by it, and the transactions indeed were heavier than on any day for weeks past. Two of the alleged forgers have now been secured and are in jail, on each of whom bogus stock was found; but the principal has apparently escaped.

Loss of the British Barquentine M. E. Seed.

A telegram dated at Havana, was received by Messrs. Vick & Mebane, yesterday, from Captain Beaman, of the British Barquentine M. E. Seed, announcing the loss of that vessel on her voyage from Cardiff to Galveston, with a cargo of railroad iron. No particulars are given, but it is presumed that the crew were all saved. The M. E. Seed was one of the Fleetwood line of vessels, of which Messrs. Vick & Mebane are the agents in this city, and has been here on several occasions, having been constructed principally for the trade between Liverpool and Wilmington (and other Southern cities.

Mad Dog.

A dog, alleged to have been mad, created no little excitement on North Water street, near the corner of Market, yesterday morning. He was first the pursuer and then the pursued, some of the pedestrians in that quarter making it convenient to get out of the way as rapidly as possible, and others, more valiant, endeavoring to put a quietus to the poor brute. He was finally put hors du combat by a brave son of St. Crispin and at last accounts was "lying in state" near the scene of the tragedy.

—A runaway horse was the only excitement on Market street yesterday.

Mayor's Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning:

John Merrick, charged with "disorderly conduct at home," was found guilty. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs, the defendant to give bond in the sum of $100 to keep the peace towards his wife and support his family.

Sandy Campbell, charged with cursing and swearing on the street. Case continued until this morning.

C. Daniels, charged with cursing and swearing and other disorderly conduct at the corner of Eighth and Market streets on Saturday night, was found guilty. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs.

Robert Miles, charged with selling liquor without license. Case continued until this morning at 9 o'clock.

Polly Harriss, charged with allowing cards to be played in her house on Sunday, was found guilty and required to pay a fine of $10.

Accidentally Shot.

A colored man by the name of Edward Thomas, living at what is known as John Hall's place, about 4 miles up the river, met with a severe accident yesterday about 1 o'clock. He was in the rice field with his gun for the purpose of keeping off birds, when, as he was in the act of loading his piece, it was accidentally discharged, the load from which entered his wrist, lascerating it badly and laying bare the bones in the wrist and arm. He was immediately brought to the city and carried to the office of Dr. H. S. Norcom, who dressed the wound. He appeared to suffer intensely, but serious results are not anticipated.

The Regatta.

The much talked of regatta, the last of the season of the Carolina Yacht Club, comes off at Wrightsville Sound this afternoon, at 4 o'clock. As before stated, the prizes on the occasion will be a Marine or Opera Glass and a Silver Goblet, the former a Club prize and the latter donated by E. E. Burruss, Esq., the owner of the Carolina. In addition to these, J. McD. French, Esq., proposes to present the winning yacht with a set of rattan Hooks and Flag-staff, with Balance Arrow.

We tender our congratulations to the successful boat, whichever it may be, and hope no accident may happen to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

Survivors of the Mexican War—An Interesting Meeting.

The Survivors of the Mexican War residing in this city and the neighborhood assembled in force, and punctually, at the office of Judge Cantwell in this city at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of effecting an organization and being represented in the State Convention of the Survivors, which is to take place at Goldsboro on the 15th of October next. There were present the following, viz: Ezekiel Blizzard, private, Company H, 1st North Carolina Volunteers; Herman H. Bloom, private, Company C, Derussy's regiment, La. Vol.; Edward Cantwell, 1st Lieut., Company G, 12th U. S. Infantry; Sewal L. Fremont, 1st Lieutenant, Company C, 3rd U. S. Artillery; Robert Green, private, Company H, 1st N. C. Volunteers; Reuben Jones, private, Company H, 1st N. C. Volunteers; Jas. C. Lumsden, private, Company H, 1st N. C. Volunteers; Wm. Martin, private, Company I, 12th U. S. Infantry; James Reilly, private, Company A, 2d U. S. Artillery.

A letter was received from Col. Wm. B. Flanner, Lieutenant, Company H, 1st N. C. Volunteers, regretting that he was prevented by sickness from being present.

On motion of Judge Cantwell, Col. Fremont took the Chair, and Jas. C. Lumsden, Esq., was appointed Secretary.

The object of the meeting being stated, discussed and unanimously adopted:

1st Resolved, That we respectfully recommend the survivors of the Mexican war now residing in North Carolina to meet in Convention at Goldsboro' on the 15th of October next, for the purposes of electing delegates to the National Convention of such survivors, proposed by the survivors in Pennsylvania, Mississippi and Tennessee, such State Convention to take such action for a better and further State organization as they may deem proper.

2d Resolved, That we elect two delegates and two alternates to represent us in such State Convention.

3rd Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be furnished to the city papers, with the request that our editors here will invite the favorable attention of the press throughout the State to the objects of this meeting, and that the Secretary furnish copies to the Caucasian, at Lexington, Mo., and the Washington Chronicle, for the same purpose.

An election for delegates and alternates was then held, with the following result:

Delegates.—Edward Cantwell, S. L. Fremont.

Alternates.—James Reilly, Reuben Jones.

The meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

We have time only to remark about this remnant of the heroic band who followed the lead of Scott and Taylor to the Halls of the Montezumas, more than a quarter of a century ago, that, although most of them had also served during the late "unpleasantness," beyond a few silver hairs which ornamented their bronzed and time-worn features, they all appeared to be in fine health and excellent preservation.

It was stated in the meeting that strong efforts were being made throughout the Union to bestow upon these veterans a substantial recognition of their patriotism and their services. Our most cordial wishes for their success are hereby tendered.

Magistrate's Court.

The following cases were heard before Justice T. M. Gardner yesterday:

A member of the police force was brought up on the charge of making an illegal arrest, he having taken in custody the "wrong man" and without sufficient authority. The defendant submitted and the case was dismissed on the payment of costs.

State vs. Edwin Robinson, charged with trespassing on the property of Mrs. Jewett, on the Sound. Case dismissed on the payment of costs.

James Stredwick was arraigned on a peace warrant, issued at the instance of Langdon Perkins. Complainant failing to appear, the case was dismissed at his cost.

James Stredwick, charged with assault and battery on the person of Langdon Perkins. Judgment same as above.

The River.

The pilot of the steamer Governor Worth, reports about eight or ten feet of water on the shoals near Fayetteville, and says the river was falling fast when the steamer left. Lower down the river, however, there is still a considerable freshet, the fall being more gradual.

CITY ITEMS.

BUILDING LOTS.—Sixty building lots are offered for sale at Laurinburgh by M. Cronly, Esq. This thriving town is situated on the Carolina Central Railway, and is noted for healthfulness and good society. The railroad shops are located there, and it is the centre of a large and growing trade.

PERSONAL.—Mr. JAMES McCORMICK, so long and favorably known in connection with the Merchant Tailoring Business in this city, has returned after a somewhat protracted absence with the intention of remaining among us. He can be found at the Clothing House of Messrs. David & Weil, Market street, where he has been employed as Cutter, in which branch of business he has had much and varied experience. Call and see him.

PRINTING PAPER.—We now have in stock over 200 reams of news paper, size 32x36, weight 30 lbs per ream. It is good, rag paper, and will be sold, in lots to suit, for cash, or sent by express C. O. D.

The thief who was arrested for robbing Parsons' store, in this town, was found to have a quantity of Ayer's Hair Vigor in his possession. When asked why he wished to steal that article he answered that he "wanted to restore his hair, for it was hard to be a thief and bald too." If that invention of the great chemist could restore a faded character as effectually as it does their natural beauty to bald and gray heads it would surely be, as they say it now is, truly invaluable.—Lewiston (Me.)
