

THE STATUE OF STONEWALL JACKSON.

Shortly after the death of the illustrious hero it was determined to erect a statue to his memory.

The close of the war came and the principal promoters of the undertaking decided not to take any steps just then.

We agree with the Richmond Enquirer that the statue of Stonewall Jackson should be placed not at Lexington, where comparatively few would see it.

The Graphic Balloon Transatlantic Expedition.

The New York Graphic announces that its great transatlantic balloon, if the weather proves favorable, will ascend from the Capitoline Grounds, Brooklyn, New York, on Wednesday afternoon, September 10, Messrs. Wise and Donaldson, the aeronauts, will be accompanied by a reporter of the Graphic and an experienced seaman, who will manage the life-boat attached to the balloon in case of emergency.

Wisconsin Gets Up a "New Deal."

Ohio, New York and other States have been practicing with stentors for the Liberals "go it" hotly for the "old principles."

Ohio, New York and other States have been practicing with stentors for the Liberals "go it" hotly for the "old principles."

Ohio, New York and other States have been practicing with stentors for the Liberals "go it" hotly for the "old principles."

Ohio, New York and other States have been practicing with stentors for the Liberals "go it" hotly for the "old principles."

Ohio, New York and other States have been practicing with stentors for the Liberals "go it" hotly for the "old principles."

Ohio, New York and other States have been practicing with stentors for the Liberals "go it" hotly for the "old principles."

THE OLD CHRY "SECTIONAL STRIFE."

It is quite amusing to witness the contortions of the dog-in-the-Rеспубликан press at the late or political aspects of the Farmers' Movement.

The following is an excerpt from a recent editorial in the Times on the New Farmers' Movement.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

Men who became political bankrupts by the results of the strife between the North and the South, which they created, now seek to secure an antagonism between the East and West, between producers and consumers, in the hope that in the common that will ensue they may retrieve their fortunes.

WELL SAID.

Let the South be independent. A West from an Unexpected quarter. We have no idea that in the following extract from a recent article in the New York Times the writer meant carpet-baggers and scallwags when he wrote, "demagogues," but no matter, the advice is suitable.

But even if there should not be an over-supply of cotton, it seems very clear that the South would be more prosperous should she vary her industry. In this way she will get a better price for her staple, and retain some of the money she gets for it, instead of discharging it all for food and clothing.

There is more reason why she should not raise the bulk of her coarse fabrics. The latest reports from the tax collectors in the State of Georgia, who have also the duty of gathering statistics, show that there, at least, the people are fast arriving at the above conclusion.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

There is more reason why this example should be followed, if Southern newspapers tell us, agriculture, as now carried on, does not pay five per cent, upon the capital invested, on account of exhaustion of the soil from want of rotation of crops, and lack of money to secure proper agricultural implements.

SAD DEATH OF A NORTH CAROLINIAN.

Mr. Bennett of Beaufort is crushed by the wheels of a Car in Cincinnati.

Mr. S. S. Bennett, a general storekeeper at Beaufort, N. C., has been for two weeks past visiting with his wife, his brother, Mr. A. A. Bennett, of the firm of B. Kittredge & Co., the well known dealers in guns, pistols and ammunition, on Main street, near Fourth. A few days ago Mrs. R. S. Bennett went on to New York to visit some relatives and friends, and she was to have returned by the Short-Line Express train, which should have arrived last evening at 5 o'clock.

The train was delayed till a few minutes after 6 o'clock. When Mr. Bennett heard the whistle he rushed out to meet the train and board it, and find his wife, and assist her to disembark. Having passed just outside the arch of the Central Avenue bridge, it is believed that he sprang on to the platform of the palace car in which Mrs. Bennett would be, but as the train was rolling swiftly into the depot he did not have time to swing himself fully in between the cars, but the arch of the bridge struck his projecting body, knocking it from the train on to the ground, where it rolled under the wheels of the Sandusky baggage car, which immediately followed the palace car of the Short-Line train.

The wheels were braked hard and pushed the body along the tracks, bruising and cutting it in a frightful manner. For a minute or two the body was undiscovered, but a baggage man eventually saw it as it lay under the wheels, and as speedily as possible it was extricated. Mr. Bennett lived a moment or so after he was discovered, but did not speak. He expired just as he was lifted from the track. Mr. Bennett was 34 years of age, and was engaged in a successful business in Beaufort. The event seems doubly sad, when it is considered that Mrs. Bennett, not knowing of her widowhood, is now on her way to meet her husband at this place to return with him to their home in the South. Not until she reaches this city will she learn of her unexpected and overwhelming bereavement.

Blaine's Prospects - Organization of the 43d Congress.

The State Department to-day received information that the Dominion Government has decided to hold a special term of court in the Province of Manitoba for the trial of the Fort Garry prisoners, and that the ablest counsel will be employed to conduct the case.

Another Cotton Mill Report from the Tallahassee Manufacturing Company, of Alabama. It tells the same story of great profits that attend every enterprise of the kind in the South.

On last Saturday afternoon the police corps, arrested a young lady named Miss Sallie Myers, between fourteen and fifteen years of age, in the attempt to board a street car.

On last Saturday afternoon the police corps, arrested a young lady named Miss Sallie Myers, between fourteen and fifteen years of age, in the attempt to board a street car.

On last Saturday afternoon the police corps, arrested a young lady named Miss Sallie Myers, between fourteen and fifteen years of age, in the attempt to board a street car.

On last Saturday afternoon the police corps, arrested a young lady named Miss Sallie Myers, between fourteen and fifteen years of age, in the attempt to board a street car.

On last Saturday afternoon the police corps, arrested a young lady named Miss Sallie Myers, between fourteen and fifteen years of age, in the attempt to board a street car.

On last Saturday afternoon the police corps, arrested a young lady named Miss Sallie Myers, between fourteen and fifteen years of age, in the attempt to board a street car.

PARLETTO LEAVES.

In Marlboro' the fodder is damaged. Crops good in all parts of Edgewood county.

The corn crops in the vicinity of Cheraw better than they have been for several years. The wharves at Georgetown are crowded with barrels of rosin and spirits turpentine, awaiting shipment.

The ferry boat at Friendly Ferry, Edisto River, sunk the other day, having on board several horses, mules and a wagon load of corn. One horse and a mule were drowned and the wagon and corn lost.

A Pioneer Methodist - Death of Rev. Alfred Norman.

This venerable Methodist Minister, died at his residence on the 25th ult. Of him the Raleigh Christian Advocate says:

For nearly half a century had he carried the banner of the cross and waged a noble christian warfare, and though he has fallen after the long struggle, yet it is with the glory of a hero, and the laurels of a victory, whose blessed fruits he will never cease to gather.

The Coal Mine Fire. Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 1.

Richardson's old slope, at Glen Cob, worked by the Oakdale Coal and Mining Company, has been on fire since yesterday. It is supposed that no miners were in the slope, as none is missing. The mines were got out without being hurt, and the miners living in the vicinity removed their families to a place of safety.

REMOVAL. WE WILL MOVE TO OUR NEW BUILDING.

PRATT'S ASTER OIL.

MOTHERS, MOTHERS, MOTHERS.

ADRIAN & CO. CORNER FRONT AND DICK STS.

WILSON COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE FOURTH GRAND GIFT CONCERT FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE Public Library of Kentucky.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

THE GRANDDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

ATLANTIC INSURANCE.

PIEDMONT & ARLINGTON Life Insurance Company.

Over 15,000 Policies Issued.

Annual Income Over $1,500,000.

Progressive! Prosperous! Prompt!

Profits Cash, Policies Liberal.

Annual Division of Surplus.

ATKINSON & MANNING, Gen'l Agents.

Insurance Rooms.

THE NORTH CAROLINA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT REDUCTION IN Spring and Summer DRESS GOODS.

J. & H. SAMSON'S.

SEA-SIDE SKIRTS.