THE MORNING SESSION WAS CONSUMED in appointing committees and offering and submitting resolutions.

WHEREAS The Governor of the State of Louisiana, elected by the voice of the people at the last election in said State, has by the usurpation of an unjust Federal Judge sustained by Federal bayonets under the orders of the President of the United States, been disregarded, and an usurper and pretender placed to rule over the people as Governor of said State; therefore be it

Resolved, That the overthrow of the Government elected by the people of Louisiana, and the setting up of a bayonet Government over them, is without foundation and is a flagrant violation of the rights of the people of said State, and is as dangerous to the rights of the people of other States as it is contrary to the genius of our Government, State and Federal.

THE CARRAWAY CASE.

Investigation into the Matter of the Murders Assault with Intent to Commit Highway Robbery on the Person of J. H. Carraway—John Cowan and Samuel Brown Led into Jail in Default of One Thousand Dollars Bail Each, &c.

Yesterday morning was the time set for a hearing in the cases of the parties alleged to have committed the assault upon J. H. Carraway, the colored barber, some weeks since, upon the public streets, and which came near resulting in his death.

The names of the accused were John Cowan, Samuel Brown, Jerry Forbes and Henry Bradley. George L. Mabson appeared as prosecuting attorney, Adam Empie, Esq., for John Cowan, and John L. Holmes, Esq., for Jerry Forbes.

J. H. Carraway was the first witness sworn, and his testimony was positive as to the identity of John Cowan as one of the parties who made the attack upon him. He knew him well, saw his face distinctly and was certain that he was the man. Said one of them struck him and knocked him down, while the other jumped upon his back, crushed him down and ran his hand into his pocket and got a bundle of cigars, when the police came to his relief.

Joseph Outlar, policeman, swore that as he ran to the scene of the outrage he saw two men running from that direction down towards Fifth street. Found Carraway suffering severely from the blow and was subsequently informed by the wounded man that John Cowan was one of the men who struck him. He and officer Martin afterwards found Cowan and arrested him in a shop near Water street.

E. F. Martin, policeman, swore that at 12 o'clock that night, while on Market street, between Sixth and Eighth streets, he heard three whistles blow in different directions, after which he heard the cry of murder, and found Carraway on the ground. Carraway afterwards said that Cowan had struck him. The whistles he heard were not the kind used by policemen. Said it was a peculiar whistle, and that John Cowan knew how to whistle it. Said there was a crowd of men in the city known as the "string gang," who have strings and blocks to fool the country people. They have a whistle to know each other.

Joshua Hill testified that soon after the outrage, while he and the police were searching for Cowan, he saw Sam Brown on Princess street, who said he was waiting for Jerry Forbes. Carraway told him that John Cowan struck him.

Joe Jenkins swore that about 12 o'clock on the night of the assault he saw John Cowan and Sam Brown together. They were on Seventh street, going in the direction of Market. He knew them well and spoke to Cowan. Shortly afterwards he heard a cry. He identified Brown as the man who was with Cowan.

Other witnesses were examined, but no new facts of importance were elicited. The Court ordered that Jerry Forbes and Henry Brady be discharged, and that John Cowan and Samuel Brown give security in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance at Court, in default of which they were committed to jail.

LOCAL DOGS.

The Schr. John G. Wright, Scull, arrived at Boston from this port on the 3d. The Schr. J. D. Williams, 6 days from this port, arrived at New York on the 4th. The Schr. Adabella, Fischer, cleared from New York for this port on the 4th instant.

Heavy rains reported on the line of the Carolina Central Railroad on Friday night. There was also a shower yesterday. Mr. R. S. Waldron, who has been absent for several months on a Northern tour, has arrived in good health and spirits.

The meeting of tax-payers at the Court House on Wednesday evening, the 10th inst., promises to be an interesting and exciting affair. Change of Schedule on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad will go into effect on Monday, the 8th instant. See advertisement.

The name of the postoffice known as Onslow Court House, in Onslow county, has been changed to Jacksonville, with R. W. Pelletier as postmaster. There are said to be five native Africans on the British Barque Elizabeth Knowles, which arrived here on Friday, and we learn that they are attracting no little attention.

We learn that to-morrow the Carolina Central road will run to within about a quarter of a mile of Wadesboro, where the Express matter will be delivered and passengers deposited. The session of the Presbyterian church in Rockingham take occasion to express their gratitude to those who have aided in erecting it, and return thanks for the use of the Methodist church.

The receipts at the office of the City Clerk and Treasurer during the past week amounted to $4,974 50, of which $4,083 98 were for real and personal and $890 52 for specific taxes, including Court fines and penalties. We learn that there was a slight accident on the Wilmington and Weldon road yesterday, which caused a short detention of the train. Some five or six cars of a freight train ran off the track, caused by one of the wheels giving way, but the damage was immaterial.

There were only two interments in Oakdale Cemetery during the past week, one of which was aged 44 years and the other an infant, still born. In Pine Forest (colored) Cemetery there were six interments, of which 4 were adults and 2 children. This makes a total of eight interments in the two Cemeteries.

Billy Merrick, one of the colored boys alleged to have been implicated in the murder of Willie Carter, who was carried before His Honor Judge Russell, yesterday, on a writ of habeas corpus, was held to bail in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the October term of the Superior Court. E. B. Sanders, Esq., appeared for the prisoner.

We have numerous complaints in reference to the yelling of boys on the streets both at night and in the early morning. It proves a great source of annoyance to people generally, while to the sick it amounts to an absolute torture. Cannot some means be devised to prevent the evil?
