TURNER'S SUIT AGAINST HOLDEN AND DOUGLAS.

The suit for civil damages brought by Hon. Josiah Turner against ex-Gov. Holden and (Militia) General Stephen A. Douglas, which has been pending for some in the courts of this State, was decided as to one of the defendants last Friday. Judge Watts continued Holden's case until next term. Douglas' case was tried. The Judge charged the jury that the defendant was acting under authority of the Governor but that did not authorize him to offer indignity to or cruelly treat the plaintiff, and if the proof satisfied them that he had done so, they should find for the plaintiff; as to the amount of damage that was a question entirely for the jury. The jury retired and after a short consultation brought in a verdict for ten thousand dollars in favor of the plain-

The Judge is justly censured for continuing Holden's case. It ought to have been tried at this term, as it had been twice, or three times postponed before.

The jury in the Douglas trial consisted of five Republicans and seven Conservatives, showing there could have been uo party animus in making up the verdict. The judgment was well deserved. Douglas was not as guilty as Holden, who was the principal in all those brutal Kirk outrages, but he was a participant in the most lawless deeds ever transacted in North Carolina, and deserves punishment. Unfortunately it is said Turper will not realize any thing for the judgment, as Douglas has no property that can be levied upon. The judgment, however is of value as a rebuke to tyrants and the minions of tyrants.

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION. It seems the Golden State has voted down the monopolists. In the recent election, the full result of which has not transpired, the railroad people got control of both the party conventions and manipulated the nominations to suit themselves. But a movement thereupon arose, at first sneered at as anignificant, which grew stronger and stronger, until on the day of election it triumphed gloriously over both the purchased parties. This movement was brilliantly led by Gov. Booth, an outline of whose able and aggressive speech against the railroad monopolists we printed some weeks since. Booth will probably be chosen United States Senator by the new Legislature which will be anti-mo-Here is not raw this forward move-

SOUTHERN HISTORICAL SOCIETY. General Early has appointed the following Executive Committe of the Southern Historical Society: Gen. Dabney H. Maury (chairman,)

Richmond city; Col. Charles S. Venable, University of Virginia; Col. Wm. Preston Johnston, Lex-Col. Robert E. Withers, Wythe-

ille; Col. Joseph Mayo, Richmond city; Rev. John Wm. Jones, " Lieut.-Col. Archer Anderson, " Major Robert Stiles, George L. Christian, Esq.,

In connection with this subject we publish the following letter from General Maury, explanatory of the aims and objects of the society:

Lynchburg, September 2, 1873. Gen. Jubal A. Early, President Southern Historical Society:

Dear Sir-The recent convention of our Society at the Montgomery White Sulphur Springs has awakened a new interest in its objects, which will, I hope, enable us to accomplish important results. Although we have been in existence now over five years, I find that very few people in Virginia have been aware of the fact; and fewer still know what we have been doing, or what it is we seek to do.

I therefore desire in this letter, addressed to yourself to give a brief account of the origin of our society, of its history up to this time, and to explain its objects, for the information of the general public.

Soon after the war closed, my attention was called to the fact that not only had we been subjugated to the power of the North, but the history of our revolution was being written exclusively by our conquerors, and every effort was being made by them to misrepresent us, our cause, its principles and our conduct during the war which was forced upon us in the defense our country. The whole power of the newspaper press, of the pulpit, magazine literature, the makers of history books, of the school teachers, and most potent of all, of the school-book makers, was combined to falsify and degrade us in the eyes of posterity. The effect of all this was painfully manifested upon the character and de meanor of our people. We had become so familiarized with the odious names and the odious light in which we were presented, that we were fast losing our self-respect, and seemed ready to acquiesce in all the degradations thus prepared for us, and to be ready to transmit, without an effort at retrieval, our names to our children with all the odium a malignant, unrelenting, active and unscrupulous ene my could throw around them.

The policy of "rendering treason odious," which was announced b Andrew Johnson when he manacled our President and cast him into pris on to die of slow torture, when he ju dicially murdered Wirz, and hanged an aged and innocent woman con-trary to the evidence and without the forms of constitutional law, bad reached such a practical result as must have been satisfactory to the most exacting w loyalty." We had been called "rebels" until nine-tenths of us felt we had been rebels; and it was mpossible to recognize in the anxious, cowed aspects of the men of the South, whose only care seemed now to be to avoid everything which could give offense or which would not be entirely pleasant to our Northern masters, the gallant spirits of the once proud Southern Confederacy, who had challenged the admiration of the world by their heroic defence of their country. All that was now left to us was to rescue the true history of that defence from oblivion and destruction, and to leave posterity to judge us and our cause by the testimony we should place before it. This, and this alone, is the scope and object of the Southern Historical Society. And for this I inaugurated in New Orleans, more than five years ago, the first step in a movement which now at last seems likely to produce the result we have

I at first procured an informal meeting of eight or nine friends, who had served in the Confederate army, in the office on Commerce street of Hewitt & Norton. We separated at Stony Point, Albemarle county, on that occasion to re-assemble in a week's time, at the same place, each of us agreeing in the meantime to enlist others from amongst those who would have most at heart the great object in view. At our next meeting will be, and, furthermore, that the season, and has engaged Lawrence Barrett, Little Nell, Mme. Languaged Lawrence

House for writing the best book for Sunday up from those most active in the schools, entitled, "Heirs of the Kingdom," work. Dr. B. M. Palmer, General Beauregard, Hon. B. J. Sage, General C. M. Wilcox, Morgan Harrod, and myself were on this committee; and though we all had the work much at heart, we came to the conclusion that it can only be accomplished by making one man responsible for the diligent collection, assortment and preserva-tion of the historical material; that he must be a first-class man; that his exclusive time and services shall be dedicated to the work, and, therefore, that he must be adequately salaried and furnished with all that is necessary to ensure his efficiency. To do this the first step is to provide the financial means requisite. I believe our Convention has very practically dealt with the questions before it, and before the beginning of the next year we may expect to have our new machinery at work and to realize the important results which all who desire to see the truth of history unfolded will rejoice to see. Those who fear it, have and will continue to deride our work, and to misrepresent its intention and in every way hinder its success. I think the time is favorable to the reinvigoration of our efforts, and for the awakening of the sympathies of the best people of the South, which will attend us, and I hope we will now go on with unflagging interest good working order and great results accomplished

With high respect, I am truly yours, DABNEY H. MAURY.

AN INFAMOUS TRAFFIC.

Nineteen More Chinese Girls Sold a Public Auction.

[Correspondent New York World] SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.

The Great Republic, (steamer, from Hong Kong, arrived at this port yesterday, bringing but few passengers, viz., 103 men and 19 women. When the steamer was telegraphed it seemed as though the entire Chi nese population had turned out to greet her, prominent among them being the lately arrested members of the Hip Yee Tong. Inquiry as to the cause of this great turnout led to the revelation that there were nineteen women on board.

The hallways and vestibules crowded with members of the Hip Yee Tong, who attempted to enter the room, but were prevented from so doing. Your readers can gain but a feeble idea of these females from a pen description. Some were stout, some lean, some blooming with health, while others were apparently in the last stages of consumption, old, young and ugly, though three or four from Celestial standpoint would be and doubtless were considered beauties. Being beyond the reach of our Infant act they were discharged after receiving a caution not to pay the tax to the Hip Yee Tong and the following notice from the Chief of Police, viz.: "You have each been offered a good home and protection if you desired it, but have voluntarily chosen an evil life. You have doubtless been told how to answer; but remember that if any of you are caught in houses of ill repute hereafter, you will be punished to the full extent of the law." The doors were then opened and they were permitted to leave. Desirous of seeing the sequel to this social drama I followed the crowd and noted the bouse where the girls went (for unless I was greatly deceived several among them were still in their teens), and then sought Ah Chin Suey, my old comprador. He requested me to wait until ten o'clock, and said: "Him waitee dark; bimeby dark come; him Hip Yee Tong man sell him public auction. You go with me; can catch good see; him no see

I waited, and at the hour named was stowed away in a room of a Chinese house on Bartlett alley. have often seen negro slaves sold in the Southern States, have seen Turks at a slave mart in Constantinople, Arabs in Alexaudria, at an auction of sale, but never in my experience as a journalist has it been my lot to witness such a scene as I did last night. Each woman was brought in by herself in a state of absolute nudity, and after passing in review before the entire multitude was put up for sale to the highest bidder.

The prices opened low, and grad-ually increased until the hammer dropped. The prices realized ranged from $250 to $425. Sick and disgusted I left with my comprador and found out, still further, that just after the women had been housed in the mart or slave corral, that two leading members of the Hip Yee Tong received $40 apiece for them, making $700, and that they received 10 per cent. of the purchase money, which, with the head money, reached nearly $1,500.

TRAGEDY IN RHODE ISLAND.

A Jealous Wife Pursues her Rival with an Axe, and is Shot Dead by the Rival's Brother-A Verdict of Mur-

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 3. The quiet village of Greenville, Smithfield, about ten miles from this city, was the scene of a murder last Saturday evening. Like most Rhode Island factory villages, Greenville is owned by the mill proprietors. One of their buildings is known as the Long House," a large one-story and half block, situated a short distance from the mill, and containing a number of operatives. Among the families in the house were those of Caleb Williams and Daniel Atchinson. For some time past there has been ill feeling, owing to Williams' daughter Martha, a very pretty girl, receiving attention from Mrs. Atchinson's husband. On Saturday evening Mr. Atchinson was out of his room, and Mrs. Atchinson armed herself with an axe and a knife and demanded entrance to the Williams tenement, asserting that her husband was then in company with Miss Williams. Admission being re fused, she broke in the door with the axe and was about to enter, when Caleb Williams, brother of Martha, rushed up stairs, and upon seeing Mrs. Atchinson deliberately fired two shots at her from a Smith & Wesson revolver. The second bullet passed through her body, killing her almost instantly. Officer Mann arrested Young Williams and locked him up in Georgiaville. A jury was summoned, and after hearing the testimony they decided that the killing was not in self-defence, and Caleb Williams was held to answer the charge of murder.

Funeral of the Late Hon. D. M. Barringer.

|Baltimore Gazette of Saturday.] Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock the remains of the late Hon. D. M. Barringer, of North Carolina, were conveyed by Messrs. H. W. Jenkins & Son, undertakers, to the chapel at Greenmount Cemetery. At 11 o'clock a number of his friends and relatives, including his two young sons, gath-ered at the Mount Vernon Hotel, and in backs furnished by Mr. John D. Stewart, proceeded to the cemetery, and Rev. Dr. Geisy, assistant at Grace church, read in an impressive manner the funeral service of the Episcopal church, after which the pall-bearers, Colonel H. H. Lewis, Messrs. Thos. Williams, Wm. W. Taylor, H. William Ellicott, Juo. H. Thomas and E. enuchs and Eastern jockeys at a horse M. Greenway, carried the casket containing the remains to the hearse. The funeral cortege then proceeded to another portion of the cemetery, where the remains were, with the final rites of the Church, placed in a grave prepared for them in the Wethered family lot. The grave is to the right, and immediately by the side of his wife, who was a daughter of Lewin Wethered, Esq., and sister to Hon. John Wethered, of Baltimore county. A large marble tablet covers her grave, containing the following inscription: "At Rest, Elizabeth Wethered, wife of Hon, D. M. Barringer, of North Carolina. Born, February 2, 1822, died June 4, 1867. Beautiful in person and character, her life was full of Christian charity and unselfish love, and 'her death that of the righteous, her last end bad cases.
