THE FINANCIAL SITUATION IN NEW YORK. Comments of the Morning Papers of

[Tribune.] Chas. P. Leverich, President of the Bank of New York, said that the banks are all going on as usual, dis-counting bills, and lending accommodation wherever it is needed, without reference to the present flurry. Monev is coming in from the country, and gold is lower than it has been hefore since she war, and the country generally is thoroughly prosper-ous. The flurry is, in fact, a healthfal movement, which will result in a resumption of solid bases of values

In either case the lesson to the Clearing House would seem to point to the abandonment of the pooling and scaling process, leaving every Bank free to receive and pay out notes as generally as they now certify checks. It is not reasonable to expect that the country will have full confidence in the New York Banks until this is done.

At the close of the market the quotation for money was only 3 per cent. per annum, although earlier in the day it ranged from 1-16 to 3-16 per diem. While this change may be a part of some speculative interest, it is not to be forgotten that a large amount of capital is accumulating here, and that bankers and brokers are in a much better condition than they have been for several weeks. The people who are hoarding are represented by a rapidly decreasing minority. The temptations of the market largely offset their caution and cowardice. Premium on greenbacks to-day declined, business being on a basis of 1 a 1 per cent., with a reduction at the close of $ a 1 per cent. premium. The demand for foreign exchange was very limited to-day, as importers are not in funds to remit; the result of this was a heavy reduction in rates. The bankees lowered their asking quotations 1 per cent.-from 107 a 106 for sixty days' sterling and from 108 a 107 for sight; but actual business was at 105 a. 106 for long and 106 a 107 for short. Commercial bills are in good supply and dull · at 1041 a 105.

The California People's Victory.

[Tribune.] California Independents are naturally very much elated over their recent successes. In the September election they put to confusion the councils of both the old political parties by securing the balance of power in the Legislature, the city government of San Francisco, and a majority of the county offices throughout the State. Now they have elected a Supreme Judge, McKinstry's majority being reported as quite large. There were three candidates in the field: E. W. McKinstry, Independent; S. H. Dwinelle, Republican; and S. B. McKee, Democrat. The Republicans held together pretty well, but the . Independents were largely reenforced from the Democratic party. Many of the leading California journals predicted, before the election, that the choice of Mc Kinstry would be a popular expression of the opinion that the mission of the Republican and Democratic parties had been fulfilled. The r sult is certainly a eignificant one, and may be justly considered as a great victory of people over parties.

- We learn from the Enfield Times that on Wednesday night last, a man by the name of C. N. Slee died in that place, in a state of beastly intoxication. He came to that neighborhood last spring to engage in fur-trapping, in the upper part of Halifax county. It is said he has relatives in Poughkeepsie, New York, and that he came from that place. A son, in business near Ransom's Bridge, was immediately informed by some kind friend, of the fate of his father,

The Choir of St. John's Lodge, assisted by Mrs. D. Kahnweiler, Miss Greenwald and Prof. Tamburello, will give a first-class musical entertainment for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum, of Oxford, on Wednesday evening next, the 22nd inst. This is a cause that deserves encouragement at the hands of every citizen. The period is fast approaching when the poor fatherless and motherless little ones now enjoying the benefits of this noble charity will need warm clothing and other comforts which the limited means of the institution cannot now supply in sufficient abundance. Let all contribute to swell the amount of receipts on Wednesday evening for the benefit of the poor orphan, and at the same time enjoy a rare musical treat.

Judge Clarke and Mr. Solicitor Cantwell returned last night to this city. Judge Clarke will spend Sunday in Wilmington. Court adjourned Saturday afternoon. The case of State es. James Dial, for murder, begun on Monday was given to the jury Friday evening. Mr. Milsaps, Foreman, returned with the jury and a verdity of "Guilty" jury being polled, the verdict was entered, and the Court immediately commenced the trial of W. H. Bagley for the same offence. During the argument, the Solicitor withdrew the charge of murder and asked for a verdict of manslaughter. The jury returned a verdict of "Not Guilty." A Special Term was ordered for January next.

Mayor's Court.

The only case before the Mayor's Court esterday morning was that of Anthony Thompson, charged with cursing and quarreling on the streets, who was found guilty county, was robbed of $118 some time since, and required to pay a fine of $10. be had for $1.50.

The First Presbyterian Church.

We yesterday paid a visit to the First Presbyterian Church, which has recently undergone some extensive improvements. Through the politeness of Mr. Geo. Chadbourn we were conducted through the splendid edifice and noted the various changes which have been wrought by the hands of those to whom had been entrusted the delicate and responsible task. To begin with, the ladies of the congregation have had the pews, &c., all newly upholstered at a cost of over $1,000. Then there have been added, through the efforts of the adies, two magnificent suspended ceiling reflectors, containing fifty-two gas jets, and which will give an abundance of light These were put in position by the Messrs. Dart Bros., who generously contributed $100 towards meeting the expense, which amounted to about $550. The ceiling has been overhauled and painted and the wood work generally varnished and otherwise rejuvenated, the whole work of general repairs costing about $1,000. This part of the work was executed by Mr. J. A. Parker and superintended by Mr. E. T. Hancock and to these gentlemen the thanks of the congregation are due for the good taste and judgment displayed both in the design and execution of the work. It should be stated that Mr. Hancock acted as a committee appointed by the congregation, and not in the capacity of a contractor. In addition to the above it may be stated that each of the pews is furnished with a neat bookrack, and that Mr. T. W. Brown's Sons have farnished the church with a fine clock. The upholstering was done by Messrs. D. A. Smith & Co., and is very handsome. The splendid organ, which is said to be one of the finest in the State, has also been overhauled and put in first-rate order. Altogether, there has been a decided improvement in the interior arrangements of this handsome church, which will be re-opened for divine service this eve-

Marine Disaster.

Intelligence was received here yesterday to the effect that a three-masted vessel bound from this port to Liverpool, with a cargo of about 3,000 barrels of rosin, had sprung a leak and was beached near Little River a day or two since, the officers and crew making good their escape to the shore. Mr. J. Frinck, of Little River, who brings the news, says that the Captain had secured a force and was engaged in removing the rosin from the vessel. Beyond this he could give no information, not knowing the name of the vessel, or that of the Captain.

OPERA HOUSE.

Miss Eldridge. Miss Lillie Eldridge finished her brief engagement in Wilmington, last evening, and many warm admirers that she has secured among our play-goers. In her final performance Miss Eldridge did not fail to give ample justification of the high estimation of her abilities based upon her first and second performances Office is hardly worthy of the finely-wrought capacities and sensibilities of Miss Eldridge; yet it does not wholly want situations giving her opportunities for the display of the real dramatic power which she possesses The play is morbidly sensational; at times absolutely revolting in its situation, and always utterly wanting in wholesome suggestion of lofty morale. Without Miss Eldridge in the leading role, we think, the play would hardly have been endurable. and without the inimitable Ryan and the almost imcomparable Miss Newton, in the low comedy roles, we can hardly conceive how the dismal and disjointed drama could anywhere have provoked genuine laughter.

We are glad to know that we shall have Mr. Parker and his excellent company again with us during the season. We shall always welcome them as friends and as meritorious artistes. Nevertheless, when we shall see them we shall always be re minded regretfully of the absence of the charming Miss Eldridge, in whose companionship they were introduced to our acquaintance.

The Murder in Lumberton-Efforts to Arrest the Guilty Parties. In the matter of the murder of Mr. B. F. Smith at Lumberton, on Thursday night last, we understand that a Bench warrant has been issued for the arrest of three persons charged with the murder, and the officers are already on the track. Little doubt of their arrest is entertained. Three parties supposed to be acquainted with the facts have been detained as witnesses Every effort to secure the arrest of the guilty parties and to prevent any further disturbances have been made. There is a good deal of excitement about the matter, but the Messra. Haight themselves are cooperating with the authorities, and it is not believed that any difficulties will occur. One of the relatives of Mr. Smith, accompanied by Mr. Atkinson, a resident Agent of the Circus, went with the Sheriff's party. We learn that Wilson is also on the war

OBITUARY.

Departed this life on Saturday, the 18th of October, at 5 P. M., Mrs. ISOBARA P. VICK, consort of Capt. S. W. Vick, aged 27% years.

The friends of the family are requested to attend her funeral from their residence, on Front street, between Walnut and Red Cross, on Monday, at 10 o'clock A. M.

To contribute to the comfort and happiness of others was her greatest delight. A fond wife, affectionate and judicious mother, it was in her well ordered home, the sweet abode of peace and happiness, that the perfection of her character was manifested. Ever a friend to the needy, a kind neighbor, a tender sister, a sympathizing comforter, she was noted for humanity, to servants, who regarded her as their best earthly friend. Honored and esteemed in the community, admired in society, remarkable for beauty and intelligence, widely known and beloved in this her native town, many sincere friends unlie with her sorrowing and bereaved amily in mourning her unexpected departure.

Why should our tears in sorrow flow, when God recalls his own.

Why should our tears in sorrow flow,
When God recalls his own;
And bids them leave a world of wo
For an eternal crown?
Is not death a gain to those Whose life to God was given?
Gladly to earth their eyer they close,
To open them in Heaven.
