"Our Zeb" addressed a large and spirited meeting of Virginia Conservatives at Richmond Tuesday night. From the Enquirer we take a synopsis of his remarks. It will be observed that he commends the wise and

VANCE IN RICHMOND.

liberal course of Virginia in 1869, when she took an advanced step in Liberalism: Major Cook next presented to the meeting ex-Governor Vance, of North Carolina, who was received with three rousing cheers and by a salute from a small piece of artillery, which was frequently made to do good service during the evening. He expressed great gratification at being in Richmond again, and recalled to mind how in 1862 he had marched down this very Main street, at the head of twelve hundred North Carolinians, going to the front to fight the battles of the South and of constitutional liberty, and he was here now on the self same business. He felt that he was not only helping Virginia in this contest, but was helping the entire South and the cause of constitational liberty throughout the world. Virginia, from her geographical position, stands as a breakwater between the fanaticism of the North and the peace of her Southern sister States, and every victory gained in this State is a trigginph for the whole South .-He compared the Virginian's position in these political contests with the po-sition of the wardens of the northern countes of England, who were ever on the alert and always employed in old times in watching and warding off the incursions of the Scottish marauders who came to plunder their fields and drive off their cattle. Gov. Vance eloquently depicted Virginia's perfor the wise and fortunate course she took in 1869, whereby she escaped the miseries other Southern States were called upon to endure.

He thought that some account of the doings of the Radicals in his own State would be of benefit here, where the same party was at this moment enticing us to desert the Conservative standard, and proceeded to give statements of their misgovernment, oppression and plundering, which he wonched for as the truth, which exceeded in monstrosity anything of the kind before stated in the campaign. Gov. Vance spoke for about an hour, and kept his hearers in splendid humor by the anecdotes he related to illustrate points in his argument.

For some months the star of Prince Bismarck has been under a cloud. But now it emerges. The cable informs us that the Emperor-King has called the great minister to the Premiership of the Prussian Cabinet. Such a man as Bismarck cannot be kept in the back-ground.

SOME FINANCIAL NOTES.

Specie Resumption.

The discussion of specie resumption in the National Board of Trade, at their meeting in Chicago, has attracted considerable attention in the financial circles of the government. The proposed resumption of the payment of silver, it is stated by the Secretary of the Treasury, will demonstrate the practicability or impracticability of an early entire resumption. It is not designed to withdraw any of the fractional currency, other than to replace the mutilated with silver, but to allow silver and paper to circulate at par.

THE NEW SILVER COINS.

The weight of the new fractional silver coin is metrical, the weight of the half dollar being just twelve and a half grammes, that of the quarter dollar six and one quarter grammes, and that of the dime two and a half. These will be the first issue of silver of the metric standard established at have a weight and consequent value | from sinking.

Directions for Crossing Frying Pan-

As containing facts not generally known, and as a matter of information to all interested, we give the following directions for crossing Frying-Pan Shoals, on our immediate coast, taken from the report of Commander C. S. Norton, Inspector of the Sixth Light-house District, to Prof. Joseph Henry, L. L. D., Chairman Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.: Vessels wishing to cross this shoal from the east, should run along the shoal, steering S. S E., keeping in about 5 fathoms water until you make the East Slue buoy, (2d. class iron nun, black and white perpendicular stripes); to bear S. W.: then run for it, passing it on either hand, and steer for the West buoy, (2d. class iron nun, black and white perpendicular stripes,) S. W. & W., passing it on either hand. If wishing to cross from the West side, steer S. S. E., and keep in 6 fathoms water until West buoy bears N. E., then run for it and cross in the opposite di rection. Vessels drawing over 10 feet should not attempt to cross the shoal unless the tide is flood. There are 13 feet water in the shoalest part of the slue. The above courses are magnetic.

This slue was recently buoyed out and cuts off about 71 miles in the distance.

The lecture of Hon. A. M. Waddell on the early history of North Carolina, which was to have been delivered at the Opera House to-morrow (Friday) evening, has, by particular request, been postponed until Monday evening next, the 3rd of November, when it will be delivered at the place before designated. THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

Meeting of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina-Sermon by Rev. Dr. Miller-Organization of Synod.

Last evening at a quarter before eight o'clock a large congregation assembled in the First Presbyterian Church to witness the opening of the 60th session of the Synod of North Carolina. The opening prayer was said and the opening hymn given out by Rev.-A. W. Miller, D. D., of Charlotte, who, as retiring Moderator, also preached the sermon. This discourse was based upon the 28th and 29th verses of the xiith chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews, the subject being the Kingdom of Grace. The nature, the history, the responsibilities of Christ's Kingdom were all treated in their order with scholarly elaboration and yet with great simplicity of statement and style. The Kingdom existed in Eden before the Fall, in the breasts of the first pair; it flourished with Abel, with the Patriarchs, with Moses and the Prophets. The dispensations under the Patriarchs and the law were as much Christian as what is termed distinctively the Christian dispensation. Its power is greater, its manifestation more complete, since the appearance of our Lord. The kingdom of grace, claimed Dr. Miller, is purely in the heart, of God's sovereign will and pleasure. It consists not of intellectualism in spirit nor of ceremonialism in form. Unlike the systems of philosophy and thought, diverse from all the false creeds that have existed, it has lived through all the ages, making continually new conquests and strengthening its positions. If a false system goes into decadence it is swept away forever. Not so with the kingdom of grace. In history it has always shown the spirit of recuperation under the most trying circumstances It has steadily risen from every adversity and distress. The reverend speaker described some of the modes of its reception. It is received with joy and humility by the exercise of a simple faith, taken not as a claim of man upon God, but as a privilege graciously extended by the Sovereign Father to man. It is attended by awful responsibilities. The difference between the professing Christian who slights his obligations and the unprofessing, impenitent person is, that the former assumes to do his duty and fails, while the latter utterly repudiates all obligation. Both are warned to receive the Kingdom in its strength and purity and holiness. The preacher closed with an earnest appeal to seek the turning away of God's wrath and to accept at once crude outline does injustice to a really learned and eloquent discourse. At the close of the general religious exercises Dr. Miller, the Moderator of the last session, called the Synod to order, and the Stated Clerk, Rev. Jacob Doll, read the list of members-ministers and ruling elders-by Presbyteries. A considerable number answered to their names, probably one third of the whole number belonging to the Sy nod, which may be considered a good showing for the first day. Rev. James M. Sprunt was unanimously elected Moderator and Revs. L. C. Vass and J. B. Mack were of His overtures of mercy and love. This chosen Temporary Clerks. On motion the Synod adjourned to meet n the First Presbyterian Church at 9:30 a. m. to-day. The first half hour will be devoted to devotional exercises.

Among the number of ministers of prominence in attendance were Rev. Dr. A. W. Miller, of Charlotte, Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith, of Greensboro, Rev. Dr. J. M. Atkinson, of Raleigh, and Rev. E. F. Rockwell, of Iredell county. We learn that Rev. Charles Phillips, D. D., of Davidson College, was detained by tardy convalescence from a late severe illness. Other ministers will arrive on the trains and boats

Capt. Morrison's Condition.

We learn from Capt. F. M. Wooten, who by the way is again on the Carolina Central as conductor, in which capacity he formerly enjoyed such an enviable reputation, that the condition of Capt. Morrison is about the same as when we last heard from him. Capt. W. called to see him vesterday morning and found him remarkably cheerful, reading and conversing as if he was in his usual health, not appearing to realize the extremely critical condition of his case. It would be a source of great gratification to his many friends if he should, after all, pass safely through the trying ordeal. All they can now do is to hepe for the best.

The Wrong Individual.

In the article in our last issue, in reference to the alleged narrow escape of Mr. Andrew Gardner by the ignition of clothing from a lamp, we find that our informant was mistaken as to the name and identity of the individual. It was Robert Gardner, a little brother of Mr. Andrew Gardner, who made the narrow escape, the latter having entered the room just in time to extinguish the flames and prevent the serious consequences which were threatened.

County Commissioners.

At a meeting of the Board held yesterday it was ordered that the Chairman of the Board be authorized to contract for proper watch and care of Moore's Creek Bridge, the same being liable to damage from freshet, at a cost to the county of not exceeding $10 per annum.

It was ordered that the Clerk of the Board notify the Sheriff to collect tax as delinquent on five acres of land in Rocky Point Township, at the valuation of $400, said to be the property of E. Pomeroy.
