NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. HENNINGER—Bill Arp's Peace Papers. GORR & SON—The Thing. B. F. MITCHELL & SON—Just Received. S. L. FLEMING—Carolina C. Railway.

Magistrate's Court. Before Justice T. M. Gardner: Louisa Smith, charged with committing assault and battery on the person of Ellen Victoria, both of the colored persuasion, had a hearing yesterday. Case dismissed on the payment of costs.

Before Justice Robinson, Judge of Federal Circuit Township: Derry Pickett, charged with an assault and battery on the person of Jane Moore, was fined $10 and costs.

Jos. Davis, charged with an assault and battery on the person of Jane Lowrey, was adjudged guilty and fined $1 and costs.

Derry Pickett, arrested on a peace warrant sworn out by Jane Moore, was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at Court and to keep the peace.

The same, arrested on a peace warrant sworn out by a white woman, name not given, was required to enter into security in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court and to keep the peace.

A Curiosity. We were shown yesterday a curiosity in the shape of a pig with eight feet and legs, four ears, two tails and two bodies from the shoulders back. These, including the two bodies, are perfectly distinct. Two of the feet and legs are of the black color, the animal, while two of the ears are on the side and two on the top of the head. The head, legs and feet are all well formed. The pig, which has the appearance of having been dead for some time and is in a sort of semi-petrified state, is altogether one of the greatest curiosities we have ever seen.

It was picked up on Princess street yesterday by a colored youth by the name of William Edzie, who should send it to Barnum forthwith.

Left Open. We learn that the front door of Messrs. Topham & Co.'s store, on Front, between Market and Dock streets, was found open yesterday morning. As nothing was missed from the store it is taken for granted that the police were very vigilant in that quarter, even though they failed to discover that the door was open.

We also learn that one of the officers on duty found a window of a warehouse on South Water street open Wednesday night. Our business men as well as all others should look carefully to their windows and doors.

Pro. Motion Examination. A. Dr. Lucas and Satchell were officially directed to proceed to Columbia Township, on yesterday, to make a post mortem examination of the body of E. J. Walker, reported to have been killed early in September by Frank Malpas. In company with Dr. Lucas they also examined the remains and performed the important duty, rendered unpleasant and loathsome by the stage of decomposition. The result of the investigation will be made known, we presume, by these medical examiners, to the proper authorities at the proper time.

THE MURDER CASE.

First Day's Proceedings in the Superior Court. The Jury—Examination of Witnesses, &c. A true bill having been found by the Grand Jury, the day previous in the above case, against Elizabeth Carter, Wm. Merriek, David Martin and James Anderson, the defendants, with the exception of Elizabeth Carter, were yesterday put on trial. A motion of Mrs. Carter's counsel for a severance having been granted, her trial was deferred to some future time.

Solicitor Castwell represented the State, and E. B. Sanders, R. B. Frazier and Geo. L. Milbank appeared for the prisoners at the bar. A. Eppie, one of the counsel for Mrs. Carter, is a student in the law, looking after the interests of his client, which are to some extent involved in the trial now in progress.

It is difficult to conceive the cause of the continued interest in this case, unless it be the youth of the defendants. All day the Court House continued crowded, the majority of the spectators, however, were colored. The special venire of two hundred men was called, and responded to their names, and the tedious process of impaneling a jury commenced and continued until noon, resulting in a jury composed entirely of colored men, a note-worthy fact, being, we believe, the first occurrence of the kind in our Courts.

At the opening of the afternoon session, the following witnesses were examined: Dr. W. W. Lane, Marion Hollis, Alfred Van Amringe, Oliver Kelly, S. D. Perry, L. M. Williams, S. W. Nash, J. J. Cassiday. The examination failed to develop anything new, the majority of these witnesses having been examined before the Magistrate, when we gave our readers a full report of the evidence.

A question arose upon the admissibility of the newspaper report of the testimony of David Martin, how one of the defendants. Upon the trial of Elizabeth Carter our readers will recollect that the prosecution began with a warrant against Mrs. Carter, issued upon the oath of David Martin. Upon the trial of this warrant, David Martin was examined as a witness and at the close of his examination was ordered into custody by the presiding magistrate, his testimony going to show that he was equally guilty with Mrs. Carter, whom he accused. Mrs. Eppie resisted the introduction of this testimony, upon the ground that it was not attested as the law requires (act of 1869). Solicitor Castwell successfully met this objection by insisting that although not admissible under the act, it was competent for the presiding magistrate to state what was the testimony of David on that occasion, and in a right order of similar rule of evidence, to use the statement as a contemporaneous memorandum, and could refresh his memory by looking at the paper. This was accordingly permitted to the witness, and, pending his examination, the Court took a recess until 8 o'clock P. M.

The examination of Justice J. J. Cassiday was resumed at night and continued until about 11 o'clock, when Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

A New Record. On Wednesday night, about 9 o'clock, a colored individual called at the grocery store on the corner of High and Chestnut streets, kept by Mr. Richard Fitzgerald, and commenced pricing his goods. He first examined his different qualities of sugar and having made his choice, had a package of the article put up. This he took to the door and passed to some one on the outside. He then returned to the counter and bargained for some soap which, when it was wrapped up, was also taken to the door and delivered to the party outside, with the repetition of the remark, "Come in out of the cold." Several other articles were selected in the same manner and passed outside, when at last he handed for a box of matches. These were called for him, when he walked to the door and stepped out. Mr. Fitzgerald waited for him to return as usual, which he failed to do, when he hurried out and found that the customer and the confederate had remained outside until both had disappeared. This is a new record, and as it may be attempted at other grocery stores, we deem this incident as a warning.

A Wrong Impression. It was reported to state that the Pro. Motion Exchange allied to in the proceedings of the Civil Rights Club, published in a city paper, is not the "Wilmington Pro. Motion Exchange," which meets only in one of the rooms under Messrs. Byrne & Kenyon's insurance office, as the meeting of the Club was not held there. This statement tends to create a false impression which has attained some ground in the community.

Common at First Presbyterian Church. Last night at the First Presbyterian Church Rev. J. B. Mack, in attendance on the Synod, preached to a large congregation on the subject of Adoption as Sons of God. His address attracted a large number of our citizens, and he gave a full and excellent sermon. It was delivered without notes and with the grace and fluency of the practiced pulpit orator.

C., Assistant Secretary of the Board of Sustentation and Foreign Missions, were requested to sit as corresponding members, the latter being also requested to address Synod at 11 o'clock on the subject of foreign missions. Spirits Turpentine.

Weldon Fair reported very successful. Deputy Marshal Basher is said to have captured $75,000 in counterfeit $3 50 gold pieces from a dealer in the jail in Chatham county, last week.

The Greensboro Patriot says a hunting party which went over to Rockingham (N. C.) weeks ago bagged 120 quails, 6 rabbits, 48 quail, 8 ducks and 1 turkey. The Northern Times says of Col. Wadell's lecture: A good audience was well entertained, and went away delighted with the lecture and praising the lecturer.

Goldboro Messenger: The gin and gin house of Mr. Jonathan Garza, at Eureka, was destroyed by fire on Sunday last, the loss being of the value of cotton insurance $1,200, which, however, does not cover the loss.

London Saturday Review mentions among the distinguished Protestants who attended the Old Catholic Congress which met at Constance August 31st, "Dr. Lyman, Bishop-elect of North Carolina. The Zion Church, which Dr. Lyman and Dea. Hewson, of England, organized at the English service on Sunday.

Hillsboro Recorder: A colored family recently living a few miles east of this place, passed through town on Friday morning, bound for Oakes. Greensboro Patriot: Dr. Pepper of Danbury, has this possession a diamond about the size of a dime, picked up in sand taken from the river and thrown in his yard. The stone is of fine quality, pure and clear. It has been pronounced by persons professing experience in such matters a gem of the first water, but he is now north where he will have it tested by experts. It is valued at about $200.

Hillsboro Recorder: We have only room to say that the case of Mrs. Susan W. W. Holden, for the unlawful arrest and imprisonment of Josiah Turner, Jr., was called on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Gelton on the part of the defendant made affidavit that the witness charged in the bill of indictment was committed under the authority of the law, and by the power invested in the defendant as Governor and Commander in Chief of the Military of the State, and that consequently the offence was committed by virtue of the law, and that he had not heretofore examined the Amesty bill with reference to this case, but he was now satisfied that it did embrace the offence, and thereupon pronounced the case dismissed and the defendant discharged. Mr. Turner prayed an appeal which was not granted.
