CAROLINA CENTRAL RAILWAY.

Stockholders Meeting—The E. B.'s Meet in Secret—A Volcanic Session—Fighting Over the Spoils—Heavy Issue of Second Mortgage Bonds Threatened.

The stockholders of the Carolina Central Railway Company held a special meeting at the First National Bank in this city yesterday. Application was made for the admission of a reporter of the Press, and a resolution to that effect was offered by Mr. L. N. Hopkins, of Baltimore.

The proceedings, we learn, were "from grave to gay, from lively to severe." To say they were stormy would be drawing it rather mild; for we have the best of reasons for saying that the session was of a decidedly vesuvian-volcanic, patent eruptive style.

We regret it, but it is nevertheless true, that the bondholders (sometimes called the B. B.'s for short) are divided into two factions—the majority, in amount of bonds or stock represented, being headed by Messrs. Watson Matthews and President C. H. Roberts; and a strong minority being led by the veteran Onderdonk and the more youthful and impetuous Hopkins.

All the Matthews propositions were carried in the meeting yesterday; and our advisers tell us that they provide for the issuance of second-mortgage bonds to the extent of $3,500,000; these bonds to be used in raising funds to complete the road.

The opponents of the Matthews interest assert that this is a scheme for loading down the road with an immense pile of bonds, with the hope that the low prices at which they may be offered will induce parties to furnish the necessary funds to complete the road. The opposition insist, too, that securities enough have already been issued to complete the work; and they charge that the dilemma in which the Company now finds itself is due to inefficient management and other causes.

Not only in the meeting, but on the streets, there was no mingling of words, by the opponents of the Matthews faction. In the meeting, we are told, such choice expressions as "fraud," "dishonesty," "attempted fraud," &c., were "thick as leaves in Valambrosa." In fact, it seems pretty well established that such an exchange of compliments has not been seen or heard in Wilmington for "time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary."

How the fight may terminate we cannot say. New York holds a controlling interest; but the representatives of the "Monumental City," ably seconded by Judge Onderdonk, are full of pluck and energy; and they will not submit without a desperate struggle. But we hope, for the welfare of our city and State that wise counsels may prevail; and that such a course may be adopted as will lead to the early completion of the road.

It has not been customary in this country for stockholders' meetings to be held in secret, and we regret that the custom was violated yesterday. We regret, too, that the brothers did not "dwell together in unity"; but THE MORNING STAR is a newspaper, and we publish such facts as have reached us in order that the people of North Carolina may know what is going on in connection with the greatest of her internal improvements.

Another Sly Trick. On Friday evening, about 7 o'clock, two colored men appeared at the store of Capt. Gilbert, corner of Walnut and Ninth Sts., one of them going in and the other stopping outside. The one who entered the store purchased several articles, after which he pulled out a rather dilapidated pocket-book and laid it on the counter. He then placed his purchases in a bag which he had with him, at the same time sliding towards the door, and all of a sudden he vanished through the opening. Capt. Gilbert hastened to the door, but could see nothing of either of the parties. An examination of the pocket-book, the presence of which on the counter lulled any suspicions Capt. G. might have entertained of trickery on the part of his customer, proved it not only empty, but entirely worthless.

Sale of a Wreck at Sea. The wreck of the British Barque Elizabeth Knowles, which was beached in the vicinity of Tubbs' Inlet, a few weeks ago, together with sails, rigging, anchors, chains, etc., were sold at auction yesterday, by Messrs. Cropley & Morris, and purchased by Messrs. S. J. Bear & Bros. for $650.

The Elizabeth Knowles was owned in London and registered 21 tons.

Our Free Schools. Our city free schools have just finished the first month of the session of eight months. They have now enrolled 770 pupils, 310 white and 460 colored, and every week brings a large increase. Many of the pupils formerly in Miss Bradley's school are in the Union School with Miss Breck, who was with Mrs. S. J. Bear & Bros. at the sale.

City Taxes. The receipts at the office of the City Treasurer and Collector's office during the week closing yesterday amounted to $1,040 75, of which $601 was for license and $249 75 for real and personal taxes.

HEAVY ROBBERY.

The Store of Messrs. Sol. Bear & Bros. Broken Open and Robbed of a Large Amount of Goods.

On Saturday morning, some time between midnight and day, an entrance was effected into the store of Messrs. Sol. Bear & Bros., on Market, between Front and South Water streets, and a large amount of goods stolen therefrom. The thieves got in at the rear door of their wholesale establishment, there being a passage between it and the store in which the retail business is carried on. The shutter of the door alluded to is of iron and was secured by a bolt at the top, and elsewhere by two bars, the bottom bolt not fitting into the hole made for it, in consequence of which the bottom of the shutter projected out beyond the edge of the door sill. Here a crow-bar was inserted and prized so that the two bars were broken, when an opening was secured large enough for a man to crawl through. The thieves, when they went to work, proceeding from drawer to drawer, in both stores, and selecting goods with special reference to their value, showing as much judgment in their selections as the most experienced dry goods dealer could have displayed. Among the articles taken may be mentioned the following: From twenty to twenty-five pairs of fine black doe-skin pants; three gross or more of fine pocket knives; a lot of fine English socks; from three to four dozen fine linen shirts; a lot of fine linen handkerchiefs; a suit of fine cassimere, consisting of coat, pants and vest; from ten to twelve fine black cloth coats and various other articles which cannot now be named, the whole aggregating in value not far short of $1,000.

The sum of $10 in change was also taken from the money drawer in the retail department. It is needless to add that the thieves escaped with their booty. That such a daring wholesale robbery as this should be successfully carried out in the very heart of the business portion of the city is but another indication of the insecurity of property under the present state of affairs. The Messrs. Bear have been in the habit of keeping two brilliant gas lights continually burning in their store, and the understanding has been that when these lights or those in other stores are extinguished there is something wrong. The thieves turned off the gas and went through the stores under cover of the darkness. In the meantime no notice was taken of the absence of the lights by the police in the vicinity, and the thieves, although from the estimate of men versed in the matter it must have taken them very nearly an hour to select and pack the goods taken, were suffered to carry on their operations without discovery or molestation. The goods were probably carried through the alley in the rear of the store to the wharf, and there placed in a boat and taken to a place of safety. This is rendered likely from the fact that a boat was reported to have left the wharf about 4 o'clock in the morning, seemingly loaded with goods, the fact having been noticed by some one passing. The private watchman in the Market says he heard the sound of the bell attached to the money drawer, but did not attach any importance to the fact at the time, not thinking of anything wrong going on around him.

We learn that Mayor Canaday has suspended the policeman on that beat at the time and intends to have a thorough investigation of the circumstances connected with the robbery. The nature of the case certainly calls for such action on his part, and to enable him to do this effectually all persons acquainted with any facts tending to prove negligence and inattention to duty on the part of any member of the police force on the night in question should come forward and testify to the same.

Col. Waddell in Tarboro. On Thursday night Col. Waddell delivered his lecture on the early history of North Carolina to a large and intelligent audience at the Court House in Tarboro. Alluding to the subject matter of the address, the Engineer of that place says: "The position is novel, but was boldly and fearlessly assumed and supported by numerous geological and ethnological arguments, by fossil Runic inscriptions, traditions and recorded evidence from coterminous writers. In fact the array of facts were grouped in such cogency that the incredulous were forced to acknowledge their logical sequence."

Had Upon a Money Drawer. Yesterday afternoon, about 6 o'clock, a raid was made upon the money drawer of the Germania Saloon, corner of Front and Dock streets, which was entirely emptied of its contents. Mr. Smith, the clerk, states that two well-dressed men had been occupying a table in the saloon for some time previous, and finally a friend of his came in and challenged him for a social game. In the meantime the parties alluded to sauntered about the saloon and finally walked out. A few minutes afterward Mr. Smith had occasion to go to the money drawer, when he discovered that the contents had disappeared. The amount taken, which comprised the most of the day's receipts, is not known.

Picking Pockets. We learn that Mrs. C. G. Kennedy had her pockets picked of a considerable sum of money yesterday, which had been collected for charitable purposes. Our city is evidently cursed with the presence of a band of experts in the profession of picking pockets and fishing stores' and dwellings, and a determined effort should be made to ferret them out.

—J. K. McIlhenny's drug and chemical store keeps open to-day.

The Water Works.

The following is the communication of Col. John W. Atkinson, President of the Cape Fear Water Works Company of this city, which was laid before the Board of Aldermen on Friday night, together with a communication on the same subject from Capt. John H. Robinson, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, both of which will be read with interest by our citizens. Both documents were referred to a special committee for report.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 17, 1873. To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington:

GENTLEMEN: The "Cape Fear Water Works Company" being duly organized desires to enter into a contract with the city to furnish a public supply of water for fire protection and for municipal and sanitary uses. I am authorized to propose to your honorable body to provide the city a public supply on the following terms: The Water Works Company will construct works of a capacity one million gallons of filtered water per day, and will furnish the public supply through one hundred fire hydrants on a line of eight miles of main for an annual rental of seventy-five dollars ($75) for each hydrant. The city shall have the right to designate the places at which the public hydrants shall be located, but the place of their location shall be designated by the city at such times and in such a manner as not to interfere with the laying of pipes. The Company will also make connection with the public cisterns on the line of their mains and supply them with water free of charge, but the city shall keep the public cisterns and hydrants in good repair. The Company will also furnish a public fountain with water free of charge, and will also permit the city, under direction of the proper authorities, to use four fire hydrants and no more at one time, for the purpose of extinguishing fires in the streets, but such use shall not exceed four hours in any one day. Should the growth of the city hereafter require the use of more than one hundred fire hydrants, the rate of rental shall be seventy dollars ($70) for each hydrant of the second hundred, and sixty-five ($65) for each hydrant of the third hundred. The Company will extend the line of mains from time to time as patronage may justify and the public hydrants shall be placed in such a manner as to do so at any time that an assured revenue shall be guaranteed to it of one thousand dollars ($1,000) per mile on such extension.

Believing that the health, safety and general welfare of the city will be largely promoted by such a public introduction of water, the Water Works Company would ask the city to enter into a contract with them for the period of twenty-five years on the terms here proposed. Your honorable body may see that the proposition thus submitted is not unusual or liberal; I beg leave to recite the terms and conditions on which other cities of the South are supplied with water. Memphis pays $125 for each hydrant, and $100 for each of the second hundred, and $75 for each hydrant beyond three hundred. Contract runs for twenty years. Mason starts with a patronage of 100 hydrants, but pays for the hydrants and extends the company from all city taxes for five years. A joint committee of the two municipal Boards of the city of Mobile have reported in favor of a contract for twenty years, with the same rate of prices that we propose for the same proposition to Wilmington, but exempting the Water Works Company from all city taxes for five years, and start with 175 fire hydrants.

Respectfully asking an early consideration of the foregoing proposition, I remain, gentlemen, Yours truly, JOHN WILDER ATKINSON, President of the Cape Fear Water Works Company.

OFFICE CHIEF ENG.'S FIRE DEPT., City of Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 6th, 1873.

To the Honorable the Mayor, and Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington: GENTLEMEN—I have learned that the Cape Fear Water Works Company have submitted a proposition to your honorable body to furnish the city a public supply of water by means of one hundred fire hydrants on a line of eight miles of pipe. I beg leave respectfully, as Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of the city, to commend and urge upon you the importance of availing yourselves of such an invaluable auxiliary in this department in the suppression of fires. I have no hesitation in saying that such a supply of water would render the efforts of this department doubly effective, as it would not only give our steamers an ample supply of water in localities where we now have none, but would enable us to form hose companies, whose services in suppressing incipient fires before they could gain headway and before the steamers could be gotten ready for action, would tend greatly to increase the efficiency of our department, and at the same time would enable you to do away with the expenses of at least one of the steamers. In this aspect alone I think the water works well worthy of your earnest consideration, and, in my judgment, worthy what the company asks for them, as they would often save in valuable property a dozen fold the amount paid by the city for them. I therefore hope you will not fail to secure to the city an inestimable benefit, and provide the means of giving full effectiveness to the Fire Department in their efforts to protect property from the ravages of fire.

Submitting these, my views, for your consideration, which I earnestly hope may meet your approbation and speedy endorsement, I am, gentlemen, Your obedient servant, JNO. H. ROBINSON, Chief Eng. Fire Dept. City of Wilmington.

WILMINGTON, N. C., 7th Nov., 1873. Col. Wm. L. DeBost, President of the Chamber of Commerce: SIR: The public work at New Inlet for improving the Harbor was visited by your Committee on Wednesday last, the 5th instant, in the company of Col. Craigshall and Capt. Phillips, (Chief and Assistant Engineers of the work) on board the steamer Jas. T. Easton, Capt. Harper.

Since our visit on the 9th of July last, (reported on the 11th), embracing a period of seven weeks, nineteen cables have been placed in position and filled with stone up to low water line, making twenty in all, and extending about four hundred and thirty-five (435) feet on the line of the new break-water from Federal Point, in nearly a southerly direction. No time has been devoted as yet to finishing this work above the high water line, as it is considered of more importance to put forward rapidly with the possible uncertainty of them by the current. Moreover, the high tides flowing over the work, more readily brings up and deposits the sand by the side of it, than if swept by from being shut off entirely before the general current has been changed. We saw the beach making up rapidly on and around the point, and the sand is following the break-water out, and shelling shells are being blown over both sides of it. We therefore consider the work progressing satisfactorily.

thousands of tons of sand, which has been deposited on both sides and even on the top of it.

The break-water we consider safe and secure; a very small portion of it now remains unexcavated in front by beach formation, while flats in its rear and shoals in front are almost unbroken from the starting point on Smith Island beach, to its terminus on Zeke's Island.

As far as we had opportunity for seeing, the brush fences and grass have done and are doing all that was promised for them. Upon a retrospect of the general plan and operations, we have to report a very satisfactory progress under the many embarrassing circumstances under which this work has labored from its very inception, and thus far with the most satisfactory results.

We beg to call your attention to the frequent changes of late in the channel of entrance through the New Inlet, which at this time is very crooked and difficult and must be more or less hazardous. We would suggest that its use be discouraged except for small vessels.

And again, we beg to call attention to the fact that six months or more have elapsed since the channel cut by hand labor, known as the Seward channel, was platted, defined and bounded, by order and under direction of the U. S. coast survey after a careful and elaborate survey, as containing about nine feet of water at low tide, pretty straight, plain and open, since which time outsiders have reported ten to ten and a half feet, and strange to say, up to this time we have heard of no vessel being piloted through it. Our pilots from some unknown cause refuse to use it.
