The Boarding House of Mrs. Mary Cliffigal, ou Market, between Second and Third streets, was entered early Sunday morning and robbed of a quantity of silver-ware, jewelry, a number of dresses, and other articles of clothing and about $30 in money. Mrs. Clifford heard the thief while he was making his rounds, but thought the individual was her porter. In fact she spoke to him under that impression, and the reply of the thief was not of a nature to arouse her suspicions. There is no clue to the robber.

Mr. Biddle, the private watchman in Market House, requests us to say that the statement in our last issue, contained in the article in regard to the robbery of the Messra. Bears' store, that he heard the alarm bell of the money drawer ring, was an error. He says his attention was first called to the light being extinguished by a member of the police force, of whom there had been more than usual in that vicinity during the night.

Col. Daniel Klein has leased the place of Mr. Thomas Johnson, just beyond the city limits, comprising about thirty-five acres, and is now engaged in preparing it for a tirst-class truck garden. He will also fit up a heer garden, with bowling alleys and other conveniences for the public some ment, which will be ready about the 1st of January. In the meantime the Wilmington Garden will continue in full blast.

"AUDI ALTERAM PARTEM."

Carelina Control Rallway-The Re cent Stockholders' Meeting -- Another Version-How Things Look Through the Majority Spectacles. In our issue of Sunday we published an account of the meeting of the stockholders of the Carolina Central Railway as reported to us by gentlemen who were attendance. That account was not as full or explicit as we desired, but it was the best we could get under the circumstances. It represented, to a considerable extent of course, the views of the minority in-terest, which is championed by Mesers. Onderdonk, Hopkins and Dickinson; and as it is thought by the quatorit interest, represented by Messrs. Matthews. Roberts and others, that in justice is done by the minority The refusel of admittance "of a reporter of the Press" was not from discourtesy, but the ress was not from the court, to hide from the public the exhibition of an unmanly spirit on the part of a small number of the mention, which the large majority in numbers would gladly throw a tell over, to shield from public view morbid excrescences of frail humanity and protect the public sensibility from shock. The meeting would have passed without a dissenting voice if two or at most fliree of the stockholders (two of them small oges) had respected the rights of the

them by the minority, we publish the an-nexed statement, which is intended, we resume, as a reply to the statements made majority.

The simple facts are these: In order to get out of a bad bargain, it is necessary for the owners of the road to advance money sufficient to complete it, and herein conceal-ed lies the meat of the nut this minority don't want cracked; and this little minority representing about one eighth (1) interest baring "veteran's" coat to shield them pearing "veteran's" coat to shield them from paying their just proportion necessary to make their investment available.

The object of the meeting was to devise and carry out some plan by which every party holding an interest would be induced to contribute his just proportion to accomplish this much desired object; and there has been ample securities issued to complete the road, but this minority refuse to take their proportion of them at fair prices and their proportion of them at fair prices, and as there is no market during this unprece-dented crisis for accurities of any kind it is but just that every party should take his proportion and bear his part of the burthen. It is also admitted there is some differ-ence in the management of the road since last May; it is now honestly, economically and efficiently managed, and no false re-ports of its receipts and disbursements are sent out to deceive its owners for personal gain; and the receipts of the road are not hoarded in bank for the chief officer's incu-

During the ten months prior to May first t is stated there were two or three miles of road built, and during the past six months there has been about the same length of road built and seven eighths (1) of the entire road bed graded to within eight miles of Charlotte, and it is believed before the close of next May the road will be completed from Wilmington to Charlotte, notwithstanding the unscrupulous minority

These statements are made in justice to conduct of two or three individuals, and had a right to vote on all questions at the meeting, but could not make up in gas and braggadecie what they lacked in proxies.

The following cases were disposed esterday morning:

Jacob Potter, charged with stealing a urday night, was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court.

C. Ganger, a seaman, charged with being disarderly, cursing and fighting in a house on Water street Saturday night, was found guilty and required to pay a fine

J. Cunningham, charged with being drunk and sleeping in the streets Saturday night, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $5.00 Joseph Burt, charged with being disor-derly, submitted and judgment was suspended in the case on the payment of

E. F. Martin charged with failing to appeer eas witness, was found guilty. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs. W. W. Harris, colored, for failing to appear as a witness, was found guilty. Judgment suspended.

I Jis W. Eagles, for failing to appear as s witness, twen found guilty. Judgment suspended on payment of costs.

Advonince with a Possum.

Mr. David Quinn, residing in "Brooklyn," had quite an interesting adventure with a 'possum on Saturday morning last, about 4 o'clock. He had been aroused by an unusual noise among his penitry and upon going into the yard found the 'possum' chasing one of his fine roosters round the lot. Mr. Quinn interfered to preserve the pence, when the possum showed fight and had to be knocked down three times with a stick before he could be conquered.

Attempted Robbery. On Sunday night, about 8 o'clock, some thief attempted to effect an entrance into the store of Mr. A. Weill, on Front street. A policeman standing in front of Mr. Charles Marcus' saloon heard a piece of glass fall on the floor, and having a sus picion that something was wrong, he started in the direction of the sound. The thiel however, heard him coming and made good his escape. A crowd gathered and it was discovered that a glass had been removed from a window in the rear of the store. It was at first thought that examination failed to discover any one, But for the timely discovery there would doubtless have been another extensive

Hallroad Accident. The freight train going South on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad on Sunday ran off the track at a point known as Polk Swamp, between Mars Bluff and Florence, six cars being precipitated into the creek or swamp. Fortunately, nobody was hurt. The trestle, which was about twenty feet long, was completely demolished, not a particle of it to be seen

The cars were piled up in the greatest disorder, the outside ones being thrown a distance of twenty feet from the track. Two of the cars were completely wrecked and the balance are badly injured. The accident to said to have been caused by a broken rail. When the passenger train coming North arrived at that point yester day the passengers and freight had to be transerred, the passengers walking over on the broken cars. We presume the road will be cleared and the trestle replaced with the greatest possible dispatch. We learn that Viola Burr, one of the convicts being taken to the Penitentiary yesterday, was caught in the attempt to poison berself on the train between Wilmington and Goldsboro," it being snatched from her grasp, just as she was in the act of swallowing it, by Deputy Sheriff Morris. The woman caused a great deal of trouble, but finally succumbed to circumstances. It is thought that the poison was given to her by two colored girls who went in the cars at Union Depot before the train started. Viols Burr is well known as a desperate character.

A Dwelling House Robbed.

A dwelling house on Dock, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, occupied by a colored woman by the name of Minerva Washington, was entered on Sunday night, during her absence at church, and robbed of three fine dresses. An entrance was made through one of the windows, which was found open. There were three children the occurrence until the return of their mother from church.

North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends. This body convened at New Garden, Guilford county, 11 o'clock A. M. on the 31st of 10th month, (October, 1873) and was n session seven days. The first business to claim the attention of the meeting was the reading of accredited credentials of ministers from other yearly incetings which showed the following named ministers to be present viz William Green from Dublin, Benjamin and Tonisa Polemin, Mary M. Hadley, Samuel Pitts, Jr., Elies Rich, Vienna Johnson, Joseph Hunt and Luke Thomas from Ind. Andrew D. Temlinson, Joseph Heckett, Edmund and Mary J. Peele, John Q. Hoskins, Fernando G. and Abbie Cartland from Western, (held in Ind.) Julia A. Mo-Cool, John M. Coffin and Louiss Painter from Iowa, Jacob Baker from Ohio and mel Miles from New York. There were also a large number from other parts who were not ministers including some from Canada and England.

In the evening there was a large and in-teresting meeting held on Indian affairs. The fourth anual report of the Executive Committee was read, which embraced the Indians of the Central Supt. or those under the immediate care of the Society of Friends. The report showed them to be steadily improving religiously, intellectually and tem-porally, their crops of 1873 having increased seven fold over those of 1868 and their stock to be worth ten times what it was then The meeting was then addressed by A.

D. Tomlinson, who had been among them as an agent, and whose remarks went to strengthen those of the report.

On the following day the business part of the meeting was mostly taken up in reading epistics from other yearly meetings and a committee appointed to prepare one to each of them, a practice they have kept up from their earliest period.

each of them, a practice they have kept up from their earliest period.

In the evening there was a meeting of the Bible and Tract Committee, where reports from the different quarterly meetings were read which showed that a large number of Bibles had been sold and distributed, together with a large amount of religious Tracts. The report was presented to the meeting on the following day and approved of and a committee appointed to continue further labors in this direction.

The meetings on Sunday were large. There were two held in the foreness and two in the afterneon. There were probably no less than three thousand persons on the ground during part of the day, quite a number coming in from Greensboro and Selem on special trains.

Its ing the meeting at 10 o'clock A. M. the people were preached to from three different standpoints, one in each apartment of the house and one in the grove.

There was a large educational meeting held in the evening at 71 o'clock, where the reports of the Executive Committee and Superintendent of education were read, showing that there had been in operation during the past year forty-one schools under the care of the yearly meeting with an enthe care of the yearly meeting with an enreliment of two thousand four hundred and ainety-nine (2499) students, of whom not quite one-half were members of the Society of Friends. Average duration of the achools had been six months.

There had also been held two Normal inattitutes for teachers, one at Summerfield, Guilford county, and one at Beividere, Perquimmons county, with the po operation of the County Board of Education.

The meeting was ably addressed by Thomas Kimber, of Philadelphia, who by his persuasive efforts endeavored to arouse the people to greater earnestness in this important work, as the prosperity of the country depended largely upon the intelligence of the people. Cyrus R. Sing, of Canada, also made some interesting remarks upon the free school system of his country, followed by Mary Beck, of England.

The reports were presented to the meeting on Tuesday and approved of, and Isham Cox appointed Superintendent in place of Allen Jay, resigned, and money raised to defray his expenses while looking after the schools the coming year.

On the same day was read the report of the Committee on Sabbath Schools, which shewed this important branch of the the people to greater earnestness in this im-
