THE SPECIAL TAX BOND CASE.

In 1871 the Secretary of State, acting under an act of the General Assembly, appropriated to the general purposes of the government the sum of two hundred and forty-one thousand nine hundred dollars, money- in the public treasury which had been collected to pay the interest on the special tax bonds. Four bills in equity were filed yesterday in Raleigh for the purpose of enjoining the Treasurer from issuing further funds until the amount appropriated shall be replaced. Judge Bond granted a preliminary injunction, and decided to hear the application for special injunction on the 26th. This is an interesting case. In its decision we shall see which is the more powerful in North Carolina, the special tax bondholders or the Legislature of the

Now, when we consider that we had to create a popular sentiment for endowment, and remove such strong prejudices, to organize the State for its first movement as a whole body, the result is really marvellous. And the voice from every part of the State is, we must "go forward," and there is no doubt about success. The work will be continued until our collegest placed on a sure foundation. would like to mention the striking attitude that the Sabbath School Board has to the Convention now. It is no longer an experiment.

In spite of what seemed insurmountable obstacles, it has achieved a great work. It now starts a new year from the platform of success, Not with standing the absorbing power of the Eudowment, and the providential hindrances that the Board of Missions has encountered, the prospects of that are very bright, and we have much to be thankful for in this year's results. Hereafter this Board will fully co-operate with the Domestic and Indian Mission, and Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Especial prominence was given to the report on periodicals, and it was the sentiment of the Convention that Kind Words, Home and Foreign Journal must be circulated, and that their State paper must have six thousand subscribers by the next Conven-

We were pleased to see our visiting brethren, Rev. Mr. Owen and Petty, of Virginia, and Drs. John A. Broadus, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and M. T. Sumner, of Marion, Alabama. They assisted us by their counsels, and we trust they alid much for the objects they represented. The Convention will not soon forget the elegant hospitality of the warm-hearted people of Warrenton. Surely they were never better entertained in our large cities.

Hunter, Walker, the retiring, and Kemper, the newly elected Governor, Lieut. Gov. Withers, and Judge Robert Ould, of Richmond, are mentioned as candidates. General Kemper, it is said, will not under any circumstances allow his name to be used, but nevertheless it will be warmly urged before the Legislature.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1873.

WHOLE NO. 1,916.

A MYSTERY.

Disappearance of Mr. Armstrong in Brooklyn. A day or two since we copied a short article from the Raleigh News, concerning the mysterious disappearance of Mr. Thomas Armstroug, of Brooklyn. The Era says:

The particulars of the case as far as we have been able to gather them to this writing are as follows: On Tuesday morning, November 4th, Mr. Armstrong left his home in the city of Brooklyn for the supposed purpose of crossing over to New York where he is engaged in business as a member of the firm of Campbell & Armstrong, Merchants, No. 164 William street. For a few days previous and at the time of leaving home, Mr. Armstrong was laboring under an attack of mental aberration. He was about forty years of age, a gentleman of considerable wealth, and is represented as having fine qualities of heart. We are informed that he was to have been married on the 5th inst., the day after his disappearance. Mr. John Armstrong left Raleigh on Sunday evening last for New York, for the purpose of ferreting out, if possible, the fate of his only brother. It is said that the warmest affection existed between them, and we sincerely nope that the wanderer may turn up unharmed. Mr. Armstrong, we are informed, did not draw any money from the Banking House in Brooklyn as reported. He was, however, finely dressed and had upon his person a splendid gold watch and chain and wore in his shirt bosom valuable diamond studs. It is feared that his appearance attracted the attention of some miscreant who for the sake of gain dealt foully with him.

The News from London.

[New York Tribune of Wednesday.] Our private advices from London resterday report only a fair demand for discount at the Bank. The gain in bullion vesterday and the day before is $795,000. Under the law an equal amount of bank notes is immediately issued against this gold and enters into the reserve of the banking department. The feeling in the "city" was better on Monday than on Saturday, and better yesterday than on Monday. It was thought that there would be no immediate necessity for a further advance in the discount rate. The failure af a metal firm with $4,000,000 liabilities is not an event which is likely to have any very considerable effect in London. The rates of exchange in this city afford as yet no decisive indication that the drain of specie from England will not be renewed. Our exports are very heavy, and henceforth we may expect to ship four or five millions dollars' worth of cotton every week, even at the present low prices.

Arrest of a Late Republican Canvasser in Richmond.

The Late Bear Robbery—A Suspicious

Circumstance. We learn that on Monday last a colored man was seen in Lumberton with a carpet sack containing a number of fine cloth coats which he was trying to dispose of. Some person acquainted with the circumstance of the robbery of the Messrs. Bear's store in this city, on the Friday night pre vious, telegraphed to the firm under the impression that the colored "carpet-bagger" was in some way implicated in the robbery. Mr. Simon Bear, a member of the firm, went up to investigate the matter, but found on his arrival that the suspected individual had left town, and he could find no one who would admit that they had purchased a coat from the aforesaid ped dler. He is of the opinion, however, from descriptions he had of the quality and style of the goods, from parties who had examined them, that the coats in question constituted a part of the spoils obtained from the store of the firm on the night of the robbery.

Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed of vesterday morning: Henry Anderson, Robert Miles and Hamner Brown, charged with fighting and other disorderly conduct, were found guilty and judgment rendered against Miles for $5 and the costs, Brown for $5 and the costs, and as to Anderson judgment suspended on the payment of costs. Robert Miles, charged with forfeiting his bond. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs.

A Troublesome Convict.

We learn that Viola Burr, the colored "penitentiary bird" who attempted to commit suicide on her way to Raleigh on Monday last, gave the officers a great deal of trouble, and on her arrival at that place was so overcome with the prospect of being shut up in the "pen." for five years that she fainted away and special deputy W. T. Cutlar, colored, had to shoulder her like a log of wood and thus convey her to the institution.

Habeas Corpus. The habeas corpus case of Ollie Becton, charged with causing the death of a little child by the name of Charles Austin, the particulars of which have heretofore been given in this paper, was heard before Judge Russell at Chambers yesterday afternoon. His Honor reserved his decision until this morning, but we learn it is likely she will be released on a small bail.

The Police Trial. The investigation in the matter of the policeman charged with dereliction of duty on the night that the Messrs. Bear's store was broken open was continued yesterday, but without concluding the examination of witnesses the case was adjourned to this morning at 9 o'clock.

OPERA HOUSE.

Tremaine Brothers and Pierson. It was evident from the character of the audience at the Opera House, last evening, that nothing save the depressed financial condition of the country seriously militated against the success of the Tremaine Brothers' Troupe. Popular as their exhibitions have always been in Wilmington, their entertainment last evening was heartily enjoyed by an audience certainly equal to any which has assembled at the Opera House during the current season, either as to numbers or respectability.

Mr. Pierson retains his popularity in Wilmington, and was greeted at each appearance upon the stage with a cordial expression of regard and appreciation. Mr. Burton Stanley is a most admirable personator of female character, and has remarkable vocal adaptabilities for such personations. Mr. Tremaine gave a liberal exhibition of the varied capacities of the Burdett organ, and both he and Mr. Carter gave important contributions to the success of the performance.

In the parquette a new feature was observed in the partition separating a small section of that portion of the house recently accorded to the colored people from the body of the parquette. The colored people, however, refrained from pressing their claim to this privilege, most of them occupying their old positions in the gallery.

M., held its first regular communication in the new brick hall corner of Eighth and Princess streets, on Monday evening last.

A Narrow Escape. About a half hour after the alarm of fire on Wednesday afternoon, while the heavy gale was prevailing, a family on Fifth, between Chesnut and Mulberry streets, had a narrow escape from a serious conflagration. The servant, who was employed in the process of "trying" lard in the kitchen, left the room for a few minutes and on her return found that the fire had communicated to the combustible material in the pot, which was in a light blaze and was spreading rapidly to the wood work in the chimney, the weather-boarding, &c., the room being full of smoke. She shouted for assistance and some one rushed in, seized the not and threw it and its contents in the vard, when the flames were soon subdued. No little excitement was caused in the neighborhood for a few minutes.

We learn from a friend at Springer's Turnout, Columbus county, that a tornado passed over that place on Wednesday, about 1 o'clock, lasting in the heighborhood of fifteen minutes, uprooting large oaks in Mr. J. H. Springer's yard, breaking down fences, &c. One pine tree was blown up by the roots and fell across a blacksmith's shop near the saw and planing mill belonging to Mr. Springer, entirely demolishing the building and its contents, doing much damage to tools, &c. Fortunately no one was injured. Mr. Springer was in Wilmington at the time. Sad havoc was played with the beautiful grove of oaks in Mr. S.'s yard, which are nearly all ruined.
