The Case of Cuba. [Baltimore Sun.]

Cuba, under Spanish rule, has become a bloody steneh in our nostrils. It is worse than a human slaughterhouse on our borders. Nothing but a decided policy will abate this nuisance and put a stop to the horrors it engenders. There must be reparation for the past and security for the future. What this government in former days would have done under like circumstances none can doubt. When this country was comparatively an insignificant power General Jackson dealt with the English and Spaniards in Florida with a successful boldness and energy which might serve as a model for American officials ever after. With a reputed great general at the head of the government we look for something of the patriotism and decision of Old Hickory.

The high-handed atrocities of the Spanish officials are regarded abroad as well as here as likely to demand redress. Capital, with its usual sensitiveness, indicates that there is apprehension of serious complications from the Spanish massacres, and that they ought not to be passed over without decisive action.

Arrest of a Petersburg Bank President. [Special to the Index and Appeal.]

RICHMOND, Nov. 13. T. T. Broocks, late president of the Merchant's National Bank, of Petersburg, was brought before United States Commissioner Pleasants this afternoon, on complaint of Orson Adams, receiver of the bank. He was bailed in the sum of $15,000 for his appearance on the 24th inst., for examination. His securities are J. L. Carrington, Asa Rogers, Z. W. Pikerell. Mr. Broocks is charged with embezzling monies, credits and funds of the bank and applying them to his own use, to the amount of $100,000 with intent to defraud it of said funds, money and credits. It is said that the action taken by order of the Comptroller of the Currency in view of a report of a special agent of the Treasury Departmen. The action represented by Captain John Lyon.

The Michborne Prolongation.

The telegraphed statement a few days singe that at the request of Mr. Hawkins, the principal prosecuting counsel against Tichborne in the Court of Queen's Bench, sitting in London, have adjourned the trial against the "claimant" to the middle of November, not of this year, but of 4874, indicates the virtual end of the case, provided the statement is true. It is difficult to conceive what ground there could be for such an adjournment, or what likelihood of it, in view of the fact that the judges lately refused to stay the proceedings on account of the sudden illness of Dr. Kennedy, the counsel for the defense. It will be remembered that Tichborne is now on trial on a charge of perjury and forgery, having been arrested on a warrant issued by the chief jusitce of the Court of Common Pleas when his suit for a recovery of the Tichbonne estates was ended. This case came to an end by a non-suit, which does not affect his right to renew it when he has paid in full all the tax and costs of the other party, which amount to $200,000 or thereabouts .-Illis conviction of perjury and forgery spenalty of which is penal servitude), would probably dispose of the "claimant," while his acquittal would leave him in a position, if he can raise the necessary funds, to renew his suit for the estate. An adjournment to November of next year would almost amount to an acquittal.

"A Certain Bachelor Made Happy," At the recent election in Illinois there were thirty-four ladies running in thirty counties for the office of County Superintendent of Schools. That, at least, may be called a good start, under a law only eight months old. In Alexander and Mercer counties, two ladies ran against each other; and in Lass county there were three contesting the field, and the victor not only deteated the other two, but two men also, who had not gallantry enough to withdraw and let the three ladies have the field to themselves. As an indication of the good time coming, the head-lines of the Aledo Democratic Banner, published in Mercer county, are significant. Under a defiant rooster, with head and tail erect, occur the following startling announcements: "The Whole Anti-Monopoly Ticket Elected"; "Cornstalks Will Make Sugar"; "Miss was released from custody.

Walker is Defeated by Thirty-one Votes"; "Miss Frazier Elected"; "A bachelor," and the corresponding discomfiture of Miss Walker and the "other feller." Under the new regime, the sewing-circles and evening- ing. meetings, and the Sunday-night visitations of young gentlemen in school districts will no longer be the tame affairs they have been. A new element enters the social circle which will not disturb it, but heighten its enjoyments, for the election in Mercer county shows that "a certain bachelor" is happy, notwithstanding the fact that Miss Frazier is elected.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Munson & Co.-The Iron is Hot, Strike. Heinsberger-4th Edition now Ready. SEE ad., "Notice,"-Church Dedication. An Unprofessional Trick.

We alluded a few days since to the fact that the Rivers & Somerby Troupe, from the Virginia Opera House at Richmond. were expected shortly to visit this city. The Richmond papers have spoken in the ghest terms of the performances of the troupe. They drew large' houses, which nightly improved as their merits became established. This round of success continued until Wednesday last, which day, as we learn from a Richmond correspondent of the Petersburg Index and Appeal, was set apart for the payment of salaries. When the company assembled, however, to receive their stipends. Messrs. Rivers & Somerby did not appear. Inquiry at their hotel brought out the fact that they had taken the 10:40 train for Washington the night previous. With them vanished the funds, about $1,700, and the members of the company are now penniless, including several young ladies from St. Louis. Pittsburg and other places, as we learn from a gentleman in this city who is posted in the matter. The unfortunate actors were to run the show for a short season in order to get funds to leave the city.

From the above it will be understood that we shall be denied the pleasure of a visit from the Rivers & Somerby Troupe this season.

Destructive Fire in Anson. The store-house of Col. W. C. Smith, near New Forestville, Anson county, together with 22,000 pounds of seed cotton, a quantity of bacon, flour and general merchandise, was burned on Thursday about 12 or 1 o'clock. The fire started in the cotton on the second floor, supposed by some to have been caused by sparks from the chimney finding their way through the roof, and by others by the ignition of matches by rats. The wind was high at the time and the flames, fed by the combustible material in the store, spread with great rapidity, only a very small portion of the goods being saved. The loss is heavy, estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000, upon which there was no insurance.

About a year ago Col. S.'s valuable and costly mills and tannery at the same place. were burned, causing a loss of about $15,000.

Mayor's Court.

The time of this tribunal vesterday was taken up in concluding the investigation of policeman John Statcher, charged with dereliction of duty. The decision in the case has been reserved.

A captain, sergeant and four privates were arraigned on the charge of being found in a bar-room on the night of the Bear robbery. The evidence was conclusive and the two former were required to pay a fine of $25 and the four privates $10 each.

A New Trick.

Early risers yesterday morning report that they found a strong rope extended entirely across Front street, about midway between Market and Dock. What was the intention of it is a matter for conjecture. some thinking it was put there out of sport and others that it was the work of some one who expected to perpetrate some rascality and intended the rope as a means of retarding the movements of pursuers

C. W. WARREN.

The "Wanderer" Turns Up Again-He Exchanges the Mild Breezes of the Sunny South for the Frigid Temperature of Canada-Another "New Departure" and the Cause of It, &c.

Wandering Warren has at last turned up again. We have had some hints as to his movements on two or three occasions before, but with some lingering doubts as to his identity. Now, however, we can speak with certainty that the veritable Charles Wesley has once more come to light. We learn from good authority that for the last three months ending with about the 10th or 12th inst., he has been acting as assistant in the Elora Methodist Church, in the Dominion of Canada. A few Sundays ago he preached at Guelph, a town about 125 miles west of Toronto. A certain Chief Constable Kelley who had been on the look out for a ministerial fraud by the name of Copeland (which is no doubt a misprint of the name of Eopeland, under which Warren figured in a certain matter here), who was wanted on a charge of forgery at Milwaukee in 1871, was present on this occasion and a very earnest listener to the Rev. Warren's discourse; and, being possessed of a photograph which the Milwaukee police had sent him of their clerical friend, he thought he discovered a remarkable resemblance. The telegraph was put in operation, but he was not advised to arrest, though in a day or two he informed the Rev. Mr. Howard, at Guelph, of the matter, who in turn mentioned it to Warren, who of course indignantly denied any knowledge of the affair, but did not evince any particular desire to see the officer about it. He, however, straightway returned to Elora, at which place he received a telegram demanding his presence at the deathbed of his mother in Chicago, whither, having been furnished with purse and scrip, he departed. It is stated as a peculiarity of Charles Wesley in his new field of labor, that he has disclosed a propensity for borrowing little sums of money for personal expenses, besides being very much interested in the financial condition of the church, and it is feared there that his sudden departure may have caused him to forget to put the money he received to its proper use. We learn from parties who are posted that it was but a little while after the Milwaukee affair, alluded to above, that he made his appearance at Canton, Miss., under the name of Horton.

A noteworthy feature in the case of the wandering Charles is the remarkable fatality which seems to attend his various relatives. Whenever he gets in a tight place he straightway receives a telegram demanding his immediate presence at the deathbed of one of them, and he always evinces his interest in the sad intelligence by taking his departure with the least possible delay.

The collector then enquired of his new friend, what he bought the barrel of whiskey for? He replied, "merely to sell to my own hands." Whereupon the aforesaid collector clamped him for a $25 fee, and how much more for hush money, we did not learn. Served him
