SIXTEENTH DAY. SENATE.

FRIDAY, Dec. 5.

A resolution, passed by the House, inviting ex-Governor W. A. Graham to deliver a lecture before the presen General Assembly on the authenticity of the Mecklenburg Declaration.

Mr. Avera moved to lay the resolution on the table, on which motion Mr. Waring called the ayes and nays. The motion prevailed by 25 ayes to THE BEST ASSORTMENTS

The hour for the Special Order having arrived, the bill to prevent fraud in the sale of commercial manures or fertilizers, introduced by Mr. Norwood, it was taken up.

Mr. Cunningham, after stating that Mr. Norwood, the introducer of the hill was absent on account of sick-ness, advocated at some length the necessity of a statute law on this subject, and the importance to the farmers of the passage of the bill.

Mr. Gudger desired to know wherein the bill differed from the one almr. Cunningham said that the ingredients of the bill were different, and answered the purpose much better than the one on the statute.

Mr. Cunningham agreed to the postponement, and the bill passed its At one o'clock the Consolidation Railroad Bill was resumed as the

All persons who can accommodate with board or looking or board and lodging, will please raport location and be number they can provide to at the earliest possible moment, to either member of the joint committee. From present indications there will be a goodly number of visitors to the Fair and it is to be hoped our citizens will he prompt in responding, as they have heretofore been, in the matter of accommodations. The time is short now and there should be no delay in reporting to the Committee charged with this important matter.

It should be understood that the accommodations are not expected to be furnished without a reasonable compensation. An Imposition and a Warning.

A lady residing on the corner of Sixth and Castle streets, who employs her spare time as a seamstress, had occasion to send her little girl with a bundle to one of her customers on Friday afternoon, when she was made a victim of an outrageous imposition. In returning from her errand with another bundle entrusted to her care, she was accosted by a colored girl, who, after walking with her a short distance, proposed to carry her bundle. It was given into the hands of the colored girl and soon it became necessary for them to separate. The colored girl handed the other a bundle which she supposed to be her own, but upon arriving at home it was found that the swindler had substituted a bundle of worthless rags for the package of goods which she had taken from the little white girl, but of course it was then too late to

A colored man, who gave his name as Virgil - was arrested yesterday morning, about half past 9 e'clock, in the act of stealing a bale of cotton from the wharf of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, on Eagle's Island. It appears that he had removed the cotton from the wharf into a boat, and had pushed off with it when he was seen by Mr. Jesse Dixey, who gave chase and overhauled the fellow. He was questioned in regard to the cotton House, where he will await an investigation before the Mayor's Court to-morrow from Drowning. We alluded in our last to the sinking of a flat loaded with wood near Kelley's Cove, on the Northwest Cape Fear, on Thursday night, by a passing-steamer. There were three colored men on the flat at the time named Christopher Swann, John Waddell and Sampson Stewart. When the flat went down. Swang, who was in command, swam for the shore, about one hundred yards distant, followed by Waddell. Before reaching it, however, Swann became exhausted and would have perished but for the fact that he came within reach of the limbs of a tree which, owing to the fact that the low grounds in that locality were overflowed, was some distance from the shore. Here he rested himself thoroughly and then dropped into the river again and reached the landing in safety. Waddell also effected a landing, being not only young and active but a good swimmer. Sampson Stewart, who was not an expert swimmer, and who was afraid to run the risk of reaching the shore in that manner, remained where he was and clung to the sticks of wood as they rose to the surface, but being in imminent danger of being swamped, as were the other two also, by the heavy seas produced by the steamer. He was finally picked up, in an almost exhausted condition, by some persons who went to his rescue in a boat from Kelly's Cove. On reaching the shore he went on his way shouting with joy at his deliver-

Providing for Christmas-Wholesale Robbery of a Butcher Shop.

Mr. T. P. Sykes, who keeps a butcher shop at the corner of Six and Chesnut streets, is the latest victim of the thieves who are reaping such a rich harvest in this city. An entrance was effected by prizing, open the door with a crow-bar. The door was secured by a bar and two large wooden pegs inserted in holes bored in the facing. The pegs were found broken off and the 'cleat" securing one end of the bar prized off. The articles stolen from Mr. Sykes consisted of six dressed hogs, weighing in the aggregate about four hundred pounds, and a quarter of yeal, altogether valued a shop about 10 o'clock that night said he saw two colored men sitting on the steps, one of whom had a crow-bar in his hand, but he did not recognize them. Early yesterday morning a member of the police force detected two colored men each with a dressed hog on his shoulder, whom he suspected of being the robbers of Mr. Sykes' shop. He pursued and captured one of the men, placed him in charge of some person on the street and started in pursuit of his companion. After being absent a short time, and not being successful, he returned to the place where he left his pris-

Escaped Convicts. Three convicts, one white and two colored, escaped from the County Work House on Friday afternoon and have not yet been recaptured. They were all sentenced at the November term as follows: Luke Rich, white, assault and battery, four months; Nathan Fillyaw, colored, larceny, eighteen months; Romeo Davis, colored, forgery, four months. The circumstances connected with their escape are as follows: Seven of the convicts, in charge of a reliable and competent guard, had been taken out in the woods somewhere between the Work House and Poor House to cut wood, when Rich seized upon the first favorable opportunity known to the other convicts they also broke and ran, saying they were going to look for Rich and bring him back. Four of them. returned the same evening and surrendered themselves, but the other three have doubtless made good their escape. It is hoped however, that the prompt measures instituted by the Superintendent may result in their recapture.

From the high testimonials which it bears from the best men in our Southern countryand the excellence of the machine, we are not surprised at the success which is attending it.
