BALD MOUNTAIN.

A Herald Correspondent on the Quaking Mount—What He Has to Say of the Quaking.

FOOT OF BALD MOUNTAIN, McDOWELL COUNTY, N. C., March 21, 1874.

Last night there was a succession of terrific shocks on the sides of Bald Mountain, accompanied by a sharp thunder storm. Simultaneously with the thunder, quick and loud reports could be heard from the mountain sides.

I started up the mountain this morning at seven o'clock, and had ridden over three-quarters of a mile when a sudden shock occurred, which so terrified my horse that he became unmanageable.

After sixteen days of prayer meeting, during which time the people left their cattle and crops to take care of themselves, they seem now awaiting some terrible calamity, and in many instances their anxiety is really distressing.

A party of students from Spartanburg, accompanied by a professor of geology, arrived at Rutherford last evening, and will make a scientific examination.

WOODSON AND THE SCIENTISTS. (Raleigh News.) VOLCANIC REGION, Rutherford Co., March 21, Via Salisbury, March 23.

I have just returned from an extensive exploration of Stone and Bald Mountains to roost for the night at Chimney Rock, foot of Bald Mountain. On Stone Mountain I met a number of scientists from South Carolina College, including the State Geologist from that State.

Finance at Washington. WASHINGTON, March 23.

The vote in the House to-day limiting the legal tenders to four hundred millions proves conclusively that two-thirds of the members favor a long increase in the volume of the currency, but no opportunity will be allowed them to bring the question up in a proper shape.

Two sewing machine agents in Raleigh had a slight collision Monday in a quarrel over a machine.

Mayor's Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning: Henderson Davis, charged with being disorderly, cursing and insulting the prosecuting witness, submitted and was required to pay a fine of $10.

Green Lewis, charged with disorderly conduct. Case continued until this morning at 9 o'clock.

Richard Crawford and Ned Gause, charged with fighting. Case continued until Monday morning next.

Moses Felder, charged with beating his wife and disturbing citizens, was found guilty and required to pay a fine of $10 or work for 20 days on the streets.

Ellen James, Lewis Davis and Scip Hill, charged with being disorderly, fighting, &c., were found guilty, the two first named being required to pay a fine of $10 and costs, each, or work for thirty days on the streets.

In the case of Hill, judgment was suspended on the payment of costs, on the non-payment of which he was sent to work out the same on the streets.

Sam Collins, charged with cursing and acting in a very disorderly manner, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or work for twenty days on the streets.

Hannah Brown, charged with disorderly conduct. Case continued until this morning at 9 o'clock.

Henry Robins, charged with disorderly conduct, submitted and judgment was suspended on the payment of costs.

Four cases for violation of Sections 1st and 9th of the tax ordinance, were continued over for a future hearing.

Flats vs. Railroads. Among the new enterprises on foot, we notice that five flats are now running regularly between this city and Tatum's Bridge, a point on the Cohera, a tributary of Black River, about twelve miles from Clinton, Sampson county, for the purpose of bringing and carrying freight. This step, we understand, was rendered necessary on account of the heavy charges for local freights on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad. For instance, it is claimed that charge on a bale of cotton brought to this city from the point alluded to, by flat, only amounts to 50 cents, whereas the charge for the same on the Railroad from Warsaw to this city, a shorter distance, is $1 75; and the flats are said to make the trip in good time.

Magistrates' Court. John King was arraigned before Justice T. M. Gardner, yesterday, on the charge of the willful abandonment of his wife. Case dismissed on the payment of costs.

A white man, charged with trespassing on the lands of Wm. A. Wright, Esq., was fined $50 and costs.

K. of P. Messrs. W. W. Yopp, D. D. G. C., and W. H. Gerken, P. G. C., will leave for Clinton this morning, where they go to institute a new Lodge of the Knights of Pythias. It is proposed to institute the Lodge to-night.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER.

The above Society gave its fourth annual dinner last night in the room over the Bank of New Hanover. The room was tastefully decorated with flags of every nation and festoons of evergreen, while the table was loaded with all the good things the market affords.

The supper was gotten up in Harry Webb's best style and of course concluded with a genuine old style English plum pudding.

Among the other invited guests were E. Peschall, Esq., German Consul, Major J. C. Mann, Major J. A. Byrne, Capt. Chas. D. Myers, Robert Henning, Esq., and other prominent citizens.

The following regular toasts were drunk: 1. "The day we celebrate." Responded to by Alex. Sprunt, Esq., giving a synopsis of the doings of the Society during the last year in relieving the many distressed who applied to them for assistance, showing that funds were still in the Treasury and he hoped soon to be able to erect a building of their own for the deposit of their archives and a place to hold their meetings.

2. "The Queen." Drank standing, the entire company singing "God save the Queen." 3. "The President of the United States." Drank with all the honors.

4. "England." Responded to very feelingly by Berry Gleaves, Esq. 5. "Scotland." Mr. John Colville responded to this toast in a very pleasant speech, showing that his heart was still warm for the Highlands.

Messrs. Mann, Mayer and Myers sang "Health to the Fairest"—their trained voices and sweet harmonies adding much to the enjoyment of the evening.

6th. "The land of our adoption." Drank with all the honors, and responded to by Col. Atkinson in his peculiarly happy and graceful style.

Song—"When the Kye Comes Home," by John Colville, Esq. 7. "The City of Wilmington." Responded to briefly by Mayor Canaday.

Song, by Mr. T. H. Smith. 8. "The Press." Responded to by Major Mann, late of The Evening Post.

Song, by Mr. Robt. Thorburn. 9. "Our Sister Society." Responded to by Robert Henning, Esq. 10. "Old North Carolina." Drank with all the honors and responded to by Sheriff Black.

11. "The Ladies." Responded to by Major Mann, who convulsed his hearers with laughter, then moved them to the finer feelings of their manhood. He then closed by singing a beautiful and appropriate trio with the gentlemen of the trio.

12. "The Commerce of Wilmington." Capt. Chas. D. Myers responded in a most graceful and becoming manner.

Numerous volunteer toasts were proposed and responded to, and when we left the festivities were at their height.

The Sound Road Again.

Now, that the smoke of the battle for municipal aid has cleared away and we know exactly what we have to depend upon to secure the much coveted road to the Sound, is the time to go to work in earnest and build it!

With a population of about 20,000 souls, it should not be such a difficult matter to secure the amount necessary for this purpose, especially when the fact seems to be conceded by all that it would prove beneficial to the city.

With the Carolina Central road completed, the Sound road would prove the last connecting link between the mountains and the seashore, and in Summer hundreds of our up-country friends would be seized with a desire to sniff the salt-breezes, bathe in the briny billows of Old Ocean and revel in the luxuries of fat mullets, oysters, clams and crabs.

It would seem impossible that the proposed enterprise could prove otherwise than a good investment, while its benefits in other respects are self-evident and assured.

Whatever may have been the feeling and sentiment of the people in regard to municipal aid, it is certainly a mistaken notion to suppose that such feelings and sentiments were grounded on hostility to the road itself.

We know that its success through the instrumentality of private subscription and private enterprise would be hailed with satisfaction by more than nine-tenths of the community. Let the friends of the road, then, make "a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether" and success will crown their efforts.

John G. Saxe To-night.

We take occasion to remind our readers that the celebrated poet and reader, John G. Saxe, will read his famous humorous and descriptive poem entitled "Love" at the Opera House this evening. It is but seldom in a life-time that our citizens are furnished with such a rare intellectual treat as may be expected on this occasion and we shall anticipate a full house.

Reserved seats, without extra charge, to be had at Heinsberger's.

License or No License.

A memorial is being extensively circulated in this city, and has secured quite a number of signatures, praying the Board of County Commissioners to order an election to be held on the 1st Monday in May, as provided by law, to determine the question of "License" or "No License" for the retail of spirituous liquors in this township.

Thought Better of It.

Two colored individuals drew pistols on each other on Second, between Market and Princess streets, yesterday afternoon, and quite an excitement prevailed a few minutes. They failed to touch the triggers, however, and the parties finally separated without spilling blood.

SAVE YOURSELF WHO CAN.—This seems to be the motto of the unwise parties who have postponed till the last getting their tickets for the Gift Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky. They have waited till the eleventh hour, and now they come with a rush. It is probable that some will be too late, but they will have only themselves to blame. If those who intend to buy tickets would only do so early, there would never be any occasion for disappointments, and the clerks would not be overworked as they now are.
