THE REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA MAKES A SPEECH AGAINST THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

It is not enough that Mr. Purnell, Radical candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, declares in the West among white men his opposition to Civil Rights, while in the East he is non-committal; but the Grand Panjandrum himself, Governor Caldwell, descends from the Executive office to a faction county meeting of his party and makes a speech against the pet scheme of his party in Congress. We find in the Raleigh News an account of a turbulent gathering of one wing of Radicals which assembled at Metropolitan Hall Friday night to hear speeches. From this we copy the following reference to Gov. Caldwell:

He delivered himself of a few remarks in which he proclaimed against civil rights .-He thought the negro had as many rights and privileges as he was entitled to and gracefully smothered it all over by saying that the negro himself did not desire any more than was now accorded to him. We thought of the action of the negro element of his party in the last Legislature, when they offered a resolution requesting our Senators and Representatives in Congress to use all means in their power to secure the passage of Sumner's civil rights bill, their peculiar unanimity in voting for it, and contrasted the same with the Governor's remarks. We could not see how it would fit in, but we very plainly saw that he placed himself in position with his Republican brethren of the West in opposition to Sumner's civil rights bill.

CAPTAIN NORMENT.

The Hickory Piedmont Press says that the gentleman whom the Conservatives in the Fourth District nominated for Solicitor was a " Merrimon bolter." The Press is in error. Capt. W. S. Norment, than whom there is no better Conservative in North Carolina, cast his vote in cancus, as a Conservative member from Robeson county, for ex-Governor Vance, and when Vance was declared the party nominee voted for him in joint convention. We hope our contemporary will correct its misstatement in justice to Mr. Norment.

The Civil Rights Bill in the Right. [Special telegram to the Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, May 15.

The civil rights bill will probably be taken up in the Senate on Monday, though Senators having charge of other matters will make the effort to have them considered.

Senator Clayton, of Arkansas, is very anxious to have his resolution providing for an investigation into the Arkansas troubles taken up. In this he will not be likely to succeed, as the great majority of members in both Houses are satisfied with the action of the President in this business, and are glad that the troublesome topic is ended.

Senator Morrill, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, will call up the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill and endeavor to have it donsidered. There are several Senators who desire to speak on the Civil Rights bill, and if it passes it will not do so until citizens of all classes are made well acquainted with its obnoxious features.

THE MORNING STAR.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, MAY 17, 1874. VOL. XIV.--NO. 47.

THE SWAMP ANGELS,

What Became Of Henry Berry Low rey and George Applewhite-The Mystery Solved at Last.

What became of the famous bandit chief and outlaw. Henry Berry Lowrey, of almost world-wide notoriety, is a question that has agitated the public mind no little since his mysterious disappearance and supposed death. A friend at Lumberton, writing to us under yesterday's date, settles conclusively, in our opinion, this much mooted question. He says: "My only object at present is to give to the world the information so much desired by all-to know what became of Henry Berry Lowrey and George o'clock. Applewhite, the murderers of Sheriff King and others. From a perfectly reliable source, and that is sufficient, I gather the facts that Applewhite was killed by Henry Berry and thrown into the Cape Fear River, below Fayetteville; and also that Henry Berry Lowrey was killed by his brother Steve, under the following circumstances, which information is corroborated by the wife of Tom Lowrey: They fell out about the division of some money found in the safe taken from Pope & McLeod, in Lumberton, and went off to talk about the matter, when a gun was heard to fire. Steve returned to the house of Tom Lowrey and reported that Henry Berry's gun had gone off and killed him. It was subsequently ascertained, however, that said gun was in the hands of Steve at the time the fatal shot was fired. As the gang are all dead the man who knew these facts has now no fears about telling them; and this settles, I think, what became of these notorious scoundrels, and the facts as above narrated may be taken as true."

It is some consolation to know for a certainty what became of these blood-thirsty members of the band of outlaws and marauders whose deeds of blood have brought | Bridge. sorrow and dismay into so many peaceful households; and especially is it a consolation to find that they at last met the same fate themselves, and at the hands of each other, which they had meted out to so many of the od people of Robeson county

Narrow Escape.

At the residence of Mr. R. L. Harris, cor ner of Seventh and Hanover streets, on Friday night, between 8 and 9 o'clock, an accident occurred which came near proving a serious one. A lantern which had been left standing on a table in the kitchen caught fire in some way and had burned until the top had melted off. A small white girl happened to go into the room, and, seeing the condition of the lantern, seized it and hurried into the house with it. Here she encountered a young lady in the employ of the family, who took the lantern and in manipulating the springs the bottom dropped out, saturating her dress with the oil, to which the flames speedily communicated. She started out of doors with the lantern and in the passageway between the house and kitchen she dropped it, by which the floor was also set on fire. The young lady ran out into the yard with her clothing in a light blaze, while the cries of herself and the other ladies soon brought Mr. Harris, who had been reading in the front room, to the rescue, who seized the outer skirt which had been thrown over her dress to protect it while at work and tore it off, when the flames, which had barely reached the other portions of her clothing, were quickly extinguished. The young lady's hands were considerably burned, but with this exception her injuries were fortunately very slight. The fire in the passage was put out without difficulty. Altogether the escape of the young lady was a very narrow one, and of course the affair created no little excitement in the immediate family.

Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

The delegates from the Lodges in this city to the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., of the State, which has been in session at Greensboro' during the past week, have arrived home and are loud in their expressions of the pleasure they enjoyed during the trip and particularly in regard to the kindness and hospitality extended them by the good people of Greensboro.' On Thursday the Grand Lodge received an invitation from the Faculty of Greensboro' Female College to visit that celebrated seat of learning and inspect the same. Accordingly, the Lodge, in full regalia, repaired to the College at 5 P. M., where the members were hospitably received by Prof. Doub, in the absence of the President, who did the honors of the occasion and escorted them through the building and grounds, after which they returned to the Hall highly delighted with everything they had seen connected with this noble institution and with the attentions paid them.

At night the Grand Lodge, escorted by Buena Vista Lodge and Ruth Lodge of the Daughters of Rebecca, marched to the Court House in procession, where Grand Representative Seaton Gales, of Raleigh, delivered an eloquent and soul-stirring address to one of the largest audiences that has ever assembled in Greensboro, includ ing the young ladies of the College, who, in response to an invitation of the members of the Grand Lodge, were present in force. The magnificent address of Representative Gales closed the exercises of the day.

At 10 o'clock, the members of the Grand Lodge were escorted by Buena Vista Lodge and Ruth Lodge to Benbow Hall, where a collation awaited them. They were received by P. G. M. Scott, of Buena Vista Lodge, in a short address appropriate to the occasion, which was responded to by Grand Master Chamberlain in a neat and feeling manner, after which the guests gathered around the board and did ample justice to the sumptuous repast spread before them. The festivities were kept up until the hour of 12, when the various delegates began their preparations for departure from the beautiful city among the hills.

GRAND ENCAMPMENT. This body convened at the Hall of Buena Vista Lodge on Wednesday night, G. P. Busbee in the chair. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Every Syllable Deserved.

Here at his hearthstone, where that illustrious son of North Carolina is so well beloved and so highly admired, it is unnecessary to say a word in praise of George Davis. Reprinting the paragraph from the Fayetteville Gazette about his eloquent speech at Magnolia, at the late Congressonal Convention, which was copied by

THE MORNING STAR yesterday, the Raleigh

Crescent says: We are pleased to gather from the above item clipped from the Gazette that Hon. Geo. Dayis is again interesting himself actively in political concerns. If this distinguished citizen could be induced to re-enter Thes. Clark, charged with being drunk political life he would doubtless add a new lustre to the fame of the old North State .-Mr. Davis has rather avoided than sought political distinction, and yet he was chosen to discharge the high and delicate duties of Commissioner to the Peace Conference of 1861, was without solicitation elected to the Senate of the Confederate States and was eventually called into President Davis' cabinet as the Attorney General of the Confederacy. We think it may be affirmed beyond question that as an orator he is unequalled by any of his fellow-citizens and

The members of Cape Fear S. F. E. Company No. 3, will start on their proposed excursion to Charleston on Tuesday evening, the 19th, and return on Friday the 22nd. They expect to have a lively time, including a contest with their Charleston brethren for the championship which they now claim as the result of their last spirited rivalry. We hope the Cape Fears may be able to give a good account of themselves when they return.

A "Big Blow Out." The match was to be applied to the blasts at Boggan's, on the C. C. Railway, last night, and the concussion was expected to "astonish the natives" for miles around. There was a huge mass of solid rock at this point, which had to give way to the march of improvement-that is, if the Ames of the contractor were carried out, of which there is little doubt provided the powder could be made to explode.

Mistake of a Day. We were in error in stating that the Officers' Association of the 3rd N. C. Infantry went to the Sound on Friday. They did go yesterday, however, proceeding to "Fairview," on Greenville Sound, the summer residence of Capt. W. A. Cumming, where they passed the day very pleasantly, celebrating their anniversary. We wish them many happy returns.
