GOOD NEWS FROM WADDRLL. The Fayetteville Gazette brings this pleasing intelligence:

From one who attended the greater part of the Waddell-McKay canvass in Moore county, we learn that Waddell departed from Moore, leaving a very fine impression, while McKay took his leave disgruntled and in bad humor. He failed to make any impression whatever on the minds of white men, and the party up there is a unit for Waddell. At Jonesboro, Carthage and Carter's Mill, the epinion was one and the same: that the negroes might cling to their champion, but that intelligent, decent whites would cast their votes for their own nominee. Our informant is so confident that Waddell will poll the full party strength in Moore, that, to use his own words, "if he falls behind, I am willing to sell my best pair of mules, and turn the money into subscriptions for the Gazette."

Also this: We have just received a letter from Jonesboro, dated yesterday, which says the news from Harnett is splendid. At Lillington Waddell completely demolished McKay, and the best men in the county says Waddell's Harnett majority will be between 100 and 200, certain. Rah for Waddell!

The Ruined Cities of Arizona.

A chain of ancient ruined cities has been found in Arizona, in the Pueblo Viego Valley, near Gila river. These cities were situated about a mile apart. In some places the walls of the houses can still be traced; at others mounds, some of them forty feet in height, are all that remain. Many articles of pottery have been recovered, together with axes, hainmers, sledges made of stone, and so sharp and hard that they rival iron. Moreover, a large canal, with reservoirs, extends from the the Gila river through all these cities. Ruins like these are scattered over the whole of New Mexico and Arizona. The inhabitahts were probably Mexicans of old times, although the pottery and mode of building seem to point to another race now extinct. The theory which brings Asiaticts across Behrings Straits and then across the continent and down the Pacific coast in search of a warmer climate is one which will hardly bear investigation so far as these remains of the older civilization are concerned.

The Silk Crop and Silk Manufacture The silk crop throughout France and Italy will be very abundant this year. The sifk business has been extremely dull in Europe for some time, for silks and satins do not thrive on panies. Italy, too, is devoting more attention to the manufacture of velvets and silks, and the competition with France and Switzerland may further weaken the market. The imports of silk manufactures into New York during the month of June amounted to $1,202, 662, against $735,359 same time last year; a fact which would go to show that this important industry is rapidly recovering from the effects of the

O. G. PARSLEY & Co .- For Smithville Narrow Escape from Being Wrecked. The Schr. Turry Not, Capt. Timmons, from New York, for this port, while coming in yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, got ashore on the middle ground between the Western Bar and Bald Head, but finally succeeded in getting off, and arrived safely in our harbor vesterday afternoon. She had a cargo of stone, for the paving of Front street, known as Belgian block, forty or fifty tons of which were thrown overboard to lighten the vessel in order to force her over the shoals. The narrow escape made by the Tarry Not will be appreciated when it is understood, as we are informed by the Harbor Master is the case, that she is the first vessel that ever passed in safety over the middle grounds at that point, and that the distance she between the foot of Market street and the Charlotte Depot. Altogether the Tarry Not may be considered to have made a very fortunate as well as narrow escape, showing that she fully appreciated the suggestiveness of her name in tarrying not in a position where so many dangers and perils environed

Listen to Frederick.

Frederick Douglass, the Great champion of the colored race, thus speaks his mind in regard to the recent action of the white Republican members of Congress in regard to the civil rights bill. It will be seen that white Republicans here as well as else must come out farely and squarely on the civil rights platform, if Frederick's sentiments are taken as a criterion by his colored friends, or "go to the wall ?"

"By the treachery of Republican mem-bers of Congress, elected in large part by colored votes, the negro is continued an outlaw. Fortunately, the negro has the ballot. He owes it to himself to use that ballot in punishing the treachery of the men whose treason to professed principles leaves him a victim to negro hate. Every ballot that shall be cast by colored men for the socalled republicans who on Saturday night last voted against the passage of the Civil Rights bill, will be regarded as so many endorsements of their treason. Our people are not the cowards to kiss the hand that smites them. They must not be led into the support of pretended friends by sophistry and intimidation. Defeat every pretended Republican who voted against the Civil Rights bill."

TURPENTINE MANUFACTURE.

Convention of the Association of Turpentine Manufacturers at Plerence -Important Action of that Body in Reference to the Turpentine Business-Resolutions of the Meet-

A meeting of the Turpentine Manufacturing Association was held at Florence, S. C., July 7th, 1874.

at 11 o'clock P. M. On motion of Maj. L. R. Ragsdale, Mr. Wm. McKenzie was called to the Chair pro tem. and James Stackhouse requested to act as Secretary pro tem. The Chairman, in a few but appropriate remarks, explained to the meeting the object of assembling. On motion of Mr. T. W. Bardin, the delegates present came forward to the Secretary's desk and enrolled their respective names and postoffices, after which, on motion of Mr. Henry L. Morris, the meeting was permanently organized by the unani-mous election of Maj. L. R. Ragsdale for

L. Bardin for Treasurer. The meeting then being permanently or ganized the newly elected officers took their

President, Jas. McRae for Vice President,

James Stackhouse for Secretary and John

The following gentlemen were appointed by the Chair as a committee to draft reso lutions for the benefit of the organization: Wm. McKenzie, D. E. Keels, T. W. Bar din, E. M. McQueen and John L. Bardin

The Committee on Resolutions presented the following memorials and resolutions. which, being taken one by one, were unanimously adopted by the Association:

WHEREAS, The making and manufac-ture of turpentine has grown to be among the first industries that give life to the commercial interest of the Carolinas, and the success of a large proportion of our best citizens, merchants and shippers is dependant upon its prosperity; therefore, we as makers and manufacturers, in consequence of the present depression in the business which amounts to a total prohibition, here-with present the embodied preamble and resolutions to all men connected with or anywise associated in the interest of the business, asking their candid consideration and cordial co-operation. We deplore the consequences attending an abandonment of the business, not that it is our only livelihood, but for the ruin which would be en-tailed upon many of our factors who have risked their all in the business. That we may not be misunderstood and our motives misapprehended it becomes us to state the principal causes and most pertinent facts which prevent us from pursuing longer a course which involves a common calamity upon us, our families and factors: 1st. Our factors inform us that the principal markets of the world are copiously supplied with our produce. 2nd. The cost of selling and transports tion, and the irregular manipulations of in-spectors and weighers, together with the impervious regulations of the Chamber of Commerce, do not compert with the constant decreasing price of produce.

3rd. The high rents, high labor and low prices for Turpentine are simply preposter-ous, and we pity those who advise us to con-tinue a hopeless race towards certain defeat in the face of present disaster.

We belong not to any despondent or croaking class of men, having heretofore bravely withstood the most ingenious machinations of speculators, irregularities weighers and inspectors, the reverses of Yankeedom, the uncertainties of negrodom, disease, disaster and almost death, yet in the face of defeat many by perseverance and energy have achieved splendid victories and established industry and economy in many wild and desolate places. It requires no effort in figures to show that we who have nothing save large debts and good credit are knowingly and unwillingly injuring our factors, and the fortunate few among us who possess other means are wantonly gambling the inheritance of their families While we survey the desperate condition of affairs, we discountenance anything like fraud among our brethren, advocating economy in business and integrity of purpose in discharging their liabilities. We recommend a cheerful surrender of business in the factors' hands and a firm resignation to the dictates of commercial law and equity appealing to each of our factors, transpor tation lines and the good sense of any party anywise connected with the turpentine busi-ness to do their utmost in restoring life to its wasting prosperity, in order to avert a pecuniary and commercial calamity to the whole country; therefore be it Resolved, 1st. That we, as makers and manufacturers, enjoin the practice of a most rigid economy in business and personal af-fairs, that we discourage the making of rairs, that we discourage the making of crude turpentine by refusing to make advances to our neighbors, and that we discharge all rands now engaged on old and unprofitable boxes and all supernumerary laborers not actually necessary to carry on work in an abridged form.

2nd. That committees be appointed to present our memorials to the several transportation lines, commission merchants, the Chambers of Commerce and all parties handling our produce, asking liberal deductions on their present rates and regulations.
3rd. That we recommend all manufacturers not represented at this meeting and everywhere throughout the Carolinas, Georgis and Florida to form themselves into Councils, with a President and Secretary, and report their proceedings to the Secre tary of this Convention, who will furnish them any information or instruction in reference to this organization.

4th. That a copy of the proceeding of this neeting be sent to the Charleston News and Courier, the Wilmington STAR and the local papers in this section of the State for publication.

On motion of Henry L. Morris, the meeting adjourned, subject to a call from the President at any time, and that such notice shall be inserted in due time in the Wilmington MORNING STAR.

The Drowning Case. Coroner Hewlett held an inquest yesterday morning over the body of Edmund Worth, steward of the Schr. Thomas Vangilder, who was drowned Thursday afternoon, mention of which was made in this paper. Deceased was a resident of Green's Creek, near Cape May, N, J., and was about twenty years of age. He had been in bathing for some considerable time, and was an excellent swimmer. All of a sudden he was seen to throw up his arms, and immediately sank, not again coming to the The delegation proceeded to Layton Hall surface. The Captain sent a boat to look after him, but when it arrived at the spot, nothing could be seen to indicate the presence of the drowning man but the bubbles arising from the bottom. His comrades fished for his body and succeeded in recovering it in about fifteen minutes after it went down, but life was extinct. The vessel was lying at the Charlotte depot warehouse at the time of the accident.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased came to his death from accidental

Prospectus for 1874. SEVENTH YEAR THE ALDINE,

NOT FOR SALE IN BOOK OR NEWS STORES! THE ALDINE, WHILE ISSUED WITH ALL THE regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant-miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE AL DINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior chaspness, as compared with rivals of a similar class. THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and energyings in any shape or number of volumes, for ten filmes its cost, and then there are the chromos besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have wen a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel-plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great paintors.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best fereign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moram and J. D. Woodward.

The Christimas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecesors.

By an an analysis of the state of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scepe and coloring. The chiefs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the inature of the scenes thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in The White Monniains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Chiefs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the inature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scepe and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (IRXI6) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but pecaliarly happy idea, and its successful realization is atharly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20, 1873.

Messrs. James Surren & Co.

Gentlemen:—I am delighted with the proofs a color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Very respectfully.

Very respectfully, THOS, MORAN.

These Chromos are in every sense American.—
They are by an original American process, with material of famerican manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE.—Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

will appreciate the enterprise that renders their dis-tribution possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

tree res TERMS: Lady FIVE DOLLARS per annum, in advance, with on chromos free.

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, meunted varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will hereafter be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; each for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.
