A Great Natural Curiosity. [Providence (R. I.) Journal.]

For the past day or two there has been in this city a colored man who presents in himself a queer physiological freak. He is 34 years of age, thick set, of medium height, of fair intelligence, and was born in Manchester, England. He gains a livelihood by exhibiting himself to physicians. His abdomen is naturally full, but at will, without the use of his hands, he given it a wave-like motion and it gradually sinks in as if being wound up, until it apparently rests close against the backbone, and he presents the appearance of a man with no abdomen, and then in the same manner he rolls it out to its original form. He then drops from under his ribs a duplicate set of ribs, with a breast bone, when the original ribs and the duplicates can be distinetly felt and counted, and the whole front of his body is, as it were, iron-clad. Or, at will, he apparently drops his heart from its natural position 12 inches, puts it back and sends it to the right side of the body opposite its natural position, puts it back and sends it to the lower part of the body on the right side, thus putting it in four different positions. During these changes the two sounds of the heart can be distinctly heard in either of these new positions, and not where they usually are heard. It seems to be necessary, however, that after each change it should go back where it belongs before being sent to a new quarter. He also has the power to stop the beating of his heart at will from five to ten seconds at a time, the pulse stopping at the same time. He seems also to have considerable strength, easily bending by a blow on the arm a heavy iron cane which he carries. Several of our prominent physicians have examined him from one of whom we have obtained these facts, and pronounce him to be the greatest curiosity in physiology they

- The Newbern Times says: We had no idea how many roosters there were in the State until we saw our Democratic cheerfully. - The Democratic Conservatives have gained in the counties, so far as heard from, twenty-three and lost two members of the House of Representatives, and have gained eight and lost one Senator. The last Legislature stood sixty-five Democrats to fifty-four Republicans in the House, and thirty-two to eighteen in the Senate.

- Messenger: Lon. Moore beats J. V. Sherard for Solicitor by a considerable majority. In the case of Mr. Sherard the of the negro was most shamefuly manifested. No Radical in Wayne county did more for the negroes than did Sherard, and yet he was openly denounced and hooted down by negroes on the day of elec-tion. He could scarcely master half of the negro votes in the county. BOOK BINDREY.—THE MORNING STAR BOOK BIDD ery does all kinds of Binding and Ruling in a work manlike manner, and at reasonable prices. Merchants and others needing Receipt Books, or other work, may rely on promptness in the execution of

R. W. Andrews.-Produce Exchange. Mayor's Court. Geo. James, charged with larceny of beeswax, the property of Edwards & Hall, was required to give security in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, in default of which he was committed to jail. Jeff. Thomson and Sam. Kelley, charged with highway robbery, were each required to enter into bond in the sum of $1,000 for their appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, in default of which they were committed to jail. This is the case in which Benj. McNair, colored, was rob-

the particulars of which were given in these

Stephen Ballard, charged with cursing and acting in a very disorderly manner and resisting the police, was fined $50 or thirty days on the streets. Appealed to the Superior Court and was ordered to give security in the sum of $200 for his appearance.

John Dennis, charged with drawing a pistol and threatening to shoot Isaac Northrop, was required to give security in the sum of $200 for his appearance at Court and to keep the peace.

W. Mayers and Phil Armstrong, charged with fighting, cursing, &c., in Mr. Bremer's store. Judgment for $20 against Mayers and $10 against Armstrong.

A large number of cases were continued over for a future hearing.

Wholesale Robbery of Chothing, &c. The house of a gentleman residing on the corner of Ninth and Swann streets was entered a few nights since and robbed. When first discovered the thief was in the room occupied by the gentleman and his wife. The latter awoke and hailed the man, thinking he was her husband, asking him what he was doing up. This awoke her husband, who immediately sprang out of bed, but by this time the fellow had "leaked out." He was in time, however, to see two men cross the street and rapidly disappear, but having no weapon at hand at the time he concluded not to follow them. It was not until next morning that he found out to what extent he had been victemised. He then discovered that the thieves had taken all of his own clothing and that of his wife, besides other articles of value. They were also in the act of taking a trunk when the lady awoke. No clew has thus far been obtained to the perpetrators of the theft.

Malle'ous Mischief, &c. Mrs. Mary Ann Stephens, who resides with an invalid sister on Bladen, between Eighth and Ninth streets, was the victim of quite an outrage a few nights since. According to her own-statement itseems that a certain party have been occupying a part of her house for some time past without paying her rent. She had indulged them from time to time, but finally, being urgently in need of money, and not being able to get any from her tenants, she turned them out of the house. On the night in question her flower pots were broken, her flowers and plants were scattered about and trampled under foot, and, to add insult to injury, night soil, &c., was thrown into and scattered about the piazza. She accuses her late tenants of perpetrating the outrage and

It has been generally known in this city for a few days past that a case of yellow fever had occurred on board of the Spanish Barque Elvira, at the Quarrantine station about thirty miles below this city, and that one death had been announced from the disease. We are now glad to state, on the authority of Dr. Potter, the Quarrantine Physician, that perfect health reigns among the remainder of the ship's officers and crew and that no danger of a further spread of the disease among them is apprehended. The vessel has been thoroughly fumigated and will be detained at quarrantine until the last vestige of danger has been thoroughly dispelled. Dr. Potter has acted with the utmost precaution in the
