PRESIDING OFFICERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

cotton, 16#@17.

Candidates for the Presidency of the Senate and the Speakership of the House of Representatives are budding out like spring flowers, in all their vernal loveliness. From the "claims" put forward it would seem that there is no lack of talent for presiding in the State. Among the more prominent gentlemen mentioned for the first position are Armfield, of Iredell; Waring, of Mecklenburg; Morehead, of Guilford; Waddell, of Johnston; Standford, of Duplin; Latham, of Washington. For the Speakership, Geo. V. Strong, Esq., of Wake; J. L. Robinson, Esq., of Macon; Major James C. McRae, of Camberland; Platt D. Walker, Esq., of Richmond, have been sug-· gested.

Out of such an array good presiding officers should certainly be selected. The President of the Senate will be Lieutenant Governor.

The Spanish government has taken measures to stop a fillibustering expedition against Porto Rico, of which it has information, and the intended cession of the island to Germany is indignantly denied at Madrid. But this denial we were told to expect, and referred to Admiral Polo for the confirmation of the report. If some Marco Polo would find his namesake this interesting question might be

The Sioux, the Cheyennes, and the Arapahoes have been alarmed by the military preparations to punish them, and are anxious to make peace. The Indian war may be considered as nearly over, and that is a blessing for which Sheridan and Custer are to be thanked, and not the Quaker commissioners, who have in vain tried to play the part of William Penn.

- The Monroe Enquirer says the hall destroyed almost the entire crops of the Misses Walden in Union County.

- Mr. J. E. Stenhouse has been appointed by the Board of Trade to represent the Cotton interests of Charlotte at the meeting of Experts on Classification, appointed by the National Cotton Exchange to be held in New York on the 31st inst.

-The Secretary of the Treasury has decided to accept the bid of M. A. Mc-Gowan & Co., of Washington, D. C. to furnish, cut and deliver all the stone required for the superstructure of the U. S. Court House and Post Office at Raleigh, for $97,

- News: A gentleman who yesterday passed through the upper portion of Johnston county and the Neuse section of Wake, east of Italeigh, reports the alarming intelligence that the rust has within the last few days made its appearance, and crops that five days ago had the most promising prospects are already seriously damaged with the exception of the bolls already fully formed. The devastation has reached within a few miles of Raleigh, extending across the sandy belt of country down through Wayne, Lenoir and other sections.

- Raleigh News: Mrs. Skinner, wife of the Rev. Thomas E. Skinner, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, has just come into possession of the handsome little sum of $10,000 by the de-cision of a suit in her favor. When her husband went into bankruptcy the house now occupied by Geo. W. Swepson, corner of Hillsbore and Balisbury streets, was claimed as her property. The creditors sued for it, the place was sold for $10,000 and the money invested in United States bonds. The suit has been decided in Mrs.

— Dr. Ed. Warren, during the war chief surgeon of the North Carolina forces, writes as follows from Cairo, Egypt, under date of July 28, 1874: "On Saturday (July 25) the Prime Minister sent for me, and after many complimentary remarks in-formed me that the Khedive had been graclously pleased to appoint me surgeon in-chief of the Egyptian army, or in other words, surgeon general. I am stationed at the citadel." This of course sets at rest all reports heretofore received intimating the prospective early return of Dr. Warren to Baltimore, though at the time these reports were made the foundation for them was Asheville Pioneer: A fellow came through this place a few days ago, passing himself as a detective from Atlanta, and stated that he was on the trail of a mur-derer whom he said passed here about 24 hours ahead of him. He employed several assistants in this place, who burned for vengelince on the bloody fiend, after hearing the story of his crimes, and also for the two hundred dollar reward promised to each by the shrewd detective. They all, a happy band set out down the French Broad. But alas! alas! while his assistants slumbered and slept that fatal night, the infamous de-tective "detected" about $60 from one of the parties, also his breeches, which was very unkind, and his coat and his shootingirons. One of the auxilliaries has returned but is sad and thoughtful. We understand the other is still on the trail of his trowsers.

Got More Than She Bargained For. A lady who keeps a boarding house North of the W. & W. Railroad made a most singular purchase on Saturday evening last, the only excuse for which is the fact that she was not aware at the time what she was purchasing. It appears that in riding past a certain shop on the line of the street railway she requested the proprietor to pick her out a good cabbage. He did so, took the article into the car and deposited it by her side, received his pay and retired. The cabbage, a good solid one to all appearances, was taken home and placed on a table, where it remained until some time the next morning, when the lady started to prepare it for cooking. It was then she made a startling discovery-nothing more nor less than a snake's head peering out from behind one of the loose leaves. Assistance to solve the mystery of this strange affair was summoned and an investigation commenced, when a large snake was found snugly ensconsed in the heart of the cabbage, which was perfectly hollow. Of course it is not presumed that the snake ate his way into the cabbage, the only plausible theory being that he made his nest in it before it had matured and that the leaves gradually grew and closed over the orifice, with the exception of the slight opening preserved in one side by the snake's occasional egress and ingress to and from his singular abiding place. The cabbage was grown in one of the gardens near this city and there is no telling how many hands it pay a fine of $10 and costs. Nelson Kelly and John Mott, charged with being disorderly in church, corner of Fifth and Taylor streets, on the 14th of August, were found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $20 or work for thirty days on Six females, charged with keeping a dis orderly house, submitted and were appropriately fined.

John Scales, charged with disorderly conduct and cursing a police officer, was found guilty. Judgment suspended.

Geo. West and S. Brannan, charged with being disorderly, were found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $20 or work for thirty days on the streets.

Beclesiastical. We have been handed a neatly-printed pamphlet, from the press of Messrs. Simons & Keiningham, of Richmond, Va., entitled "The Sacrament of Penance, and the Moral Influence of Sacramental Confession, by Rt. Rev. Taken to Kinston. Bryant Powers, who was arrested some weeks since, in this county, on the charge of stealing a horse from a Mr. Abbott, of Lenoir county, and who has since been confined in the county jail in this city, was taken to Kinston yesterday, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Rivenbark, for the purpose of standing his trial.

- The explosion of a pistol in the Purcell House alley, which was probably accidentally discharged, caused considerable excitement for a few moments yesterdag afternoon.

- We were shown yesterday, by Mr. Richard Fitzgerald, a curiosity in the shape of a wing of an Albatross, measuring three feet and three inches in length. Although a monsfer wing, it is said to have belonged to a youthful specimen of the bird alluded to.

- The Charlotte Democrat is mistaken when it says the recent semi-annual dividend of six per cent. declared by the People's National Bank, of Fayetteville, "is one per cent. better than any bank in the State." The Bank of New Hanover has never failed to pay semi-annual dividends of six per cent.

Attempted Robbery.

An attempt was made yesterday morn ing, just as day was breaking, to enter the residence of Deputy Sheriff A. H. Morris, on Chesnut between Eighth and Ninth streets. A noise was heard at one of the windows and Mr. Morris, who was awake, was descending the stairs to ascertain the cause, when the servant in the kitchen, who had also heard the noise, made an alarm and frightened the fellow off. A. gentleman living in the same neighborhood, who happened to be passing at the time. said he saw a copper-colored individual coming out of the front yard of the residence adjoining Mr. Morris', who was no doubt the identical worthy alluded to. Marks of greasy fingers were found on the window blinds where the thief had attempted to enter. Deputies Morris and Rivenbark were at the sheriff's office until a late hour transacting some business, the latter going home with the former, and it is supposed they were followed under the impression that they had money about them.

Roward Offered, The Raleigh News of yesterday says The Governor yesterday authorized the offering of a reward of $400 for the arrest of the negro boy David Martin, convicted of killing the boy William Carter in Wilmington, and who escaped from jail some two months ago. He was to have been hung last Thursday. It is thought the prisoner escaped into South Carolina.
