- Clinton Reporter: A friend of J. W. G., writing from Faison, confirms the general report of damaged crops. He has seen parts of Sampson, Duplin, Wayne and Joffnston and he thinks the cotton crop will hardly reach two-thirds of an average.

- Fayetteville Gazette: Mr. J. H. Robinson, a Fayetteville man, has been made City Marshal of Wilmington. All agree that a better selection could not have been made. Capt. Robinson is a cool, determined man, and of fine business capacity.

Ral. News: Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock ex Sheriff Lee surrendered, under protest, the office of Sheriff of the county to Sheriff Sid. M. Dunn. The good people of Wake will rejoice at this result of the difficulty, and we express the heart-felt wish of the honest-thinking people of the county when we say that Sheriff Dunn will be en-abled to keep his office for the next two years, despite the efforts of Mr. Lee to depose him. It is understood that Lee will at once sue out a writ of quo warranto and bring the matter before the Courts.

- Fay. Gazette : A meeting of the directors of the Fayetteville & Florence R. R. was held last evening. We learn that certain modifications proposed by Mr. Baker on his first contract were not favorably viewed by the members of the board, the original contract being preferred. We have been informed that another meeting will be held in a few days, when it is thought that work can be be straightway commenced. We seel assured that the President and Board of Directors are now determined to push the road forward, that the contractor is able and anxious to go to work -- and we know that the people of Fayetteville are waiting with great solicitude on the matter and that, poor though they be, they will all extend any aid in their power.

Fearful Railroad Accident.

[Charleston News and Courier.] A terrible accident occurred last evening about dark. A party of hands who had been working on the Northeastern Railroad, just above St. Stephen's, were going back in a hand car to their homes in that place. While passing through the Santee Swamp, over the trestle, which, at this point, is from eighteen to twenty feet high, one of the party, a white man by the name of Bunch, in some way got his coat entangled in the crank. The car was running at great speed and Bunch was hurled headlong from the trestle, and in his endeavor to save himself dragged a colored man named Scipio along with him into the swamp. As soon as the injured men could be reached, it was found that Bunch was beyond the hope of recovery, and that Scipio had broken both legs, besides receiving serious internal injuries. Bunch lingered for a short time, and died just before the down passenger train reached the place where the accident had occurred. The colored man Scipio was suffering intense agony, and it was thought that he could not possibly survive. The remains of Banch and the injured man were taken to St. Stephen's. They are both married men, and are about middle-

Cloud vs. Wilson.

[Salisbury Watchman.]

A novel scene took place at Surry Court last Monday. The expected contest between Cloud, the retiring Judge, and Wilson, the newly elected, came off at Surry Court last Monday. Cloud arrived at the courthouse and took his seat on the bench about 10 o'clock. He sent the Clerk after the Sheriff, but neither returned made his appearance in the courthouse. Wilson formally demanded the use of the court-room. Judge Cloud persisted that he was still the rightful presiding judge of the circuit and refused to surrender. A lively discussion ensued between the two Judges, each maintaining his right to preside, and each exhibiting his commission. The discussion was cut short by the Sheriff demanding of the Solicitor, as his legal adviser, whom he should recognize. The Solicitor instructed the Sheriff to recognize Mr. Wilson as Judge. This he did, and proceeded to inform Mr.

Cloud that he must vacate his seat for Mr. Wilson. Mr. Cloud refused to obey, and had to be carried from the bench by main force. He made no physical resistance. A writ quo

Wilson, which was acknowledged by Arrested on Suspicion.

Several persons having announced their willingness to swear to the hat left behind by the thief who entered Capt. I. B. Grainger's residence, on Tuesday night last, as being the property of a colored man by the name of Anthony Holden, a warrant was issued vesterday for the arrest of said Holden on suspicion of being the guilty party. Officer Lewis Gordon, of the police force, was charged with the duty of serving the warrant, who, after searching for some time, finally discovered his man on Market street, between 1 and 2 o'clock, and effected his capture. He was taken to the Guard House and locked up to await a hearing before the Mayor this morning. Of course he affected great surprise at his arrest, denying that he ever knew Capt. G., anything about where he lived, or that there was any such man living in the place.
