MAHONE AND JOHNSON.

Difficulty Settled-Gen. Matt Hansom Actuas Referee.

The telegraph has informed us of the arrest of Gen. Mahone, in Norfolk, on the charge of preparing to fight a duel with Gen. Bradly T. Johnson, and of his giving bail. The following is what followed until the amicable conclusion of the matter effected by our sagacious and chivalric Senator, M. W. Ransom, on Friday:

[Richmond Dispatch.] General Johnson, from his position Daltimore, or Washington, or o the Eastern Shore of Maryland, doubtless promptly learned of the arrest of General Mahone, and through some sort of communication or understanding with General Mahone's friend on Thursday came down the Bay on one of the steamers of the Bay Line, which runs from Baltimore to Norfolk. He was accompanied by Mr. R. Snowupon arriving in Norfolk took the Seaboard train. Mayor Whitehead, learning soon after the train had left Norfolk that General Johnson was a passenger thereon, telegraphed acting Mayor W. F. Larkins, of Weldon, North Carolina, to detain General Johnson, as it was thought likely he would stop there; but General Johnson got off the train at a station called Seaboard, twelve miles north of Weldon, and therefore Mayor Larkins had to inform Mayor Whitehead that General Johnson was not to be found. It was surmised that General Johnson and Mr. Andrews had gotten off at Suffolk and proceeded in the direction of Gates county, N. C., and Mayor Riddick, of Suffolk, sent officers out in that direction to arrest them if found in Virginia, or to inform upon them if found in North Carolina. This hunt was also unavailing and attention was again attracted to Weldon, as it was reported that General Jubal A. Early had come down from Lynchburg to Petersburg and at the latter place had taken the cars for Weldon. Mr. J. Barron Hope, Generals Early and Johnson, and Mr. Andrews reached Weldon yesterday morning. The two latter, with Mr. Hope, arrived on the Norfolk train, having probably spent the night in the country to throw their pursuers off their

Before leaving Norfolk (on Thursday night) Mr. Hope had a long private interview with General Mahone, and had a full and complete understanding how he was to act. [Richmond Enquirer.]

NORFOLK, Oct. 2, 1874. I send additional particulars. Gen Early, Gen. Mat. Ransom and James Barron Hope held a long consultation at Weldon to-day. They were closet-ed for several hours, and it is thought there was considerable correspondence. It is reported that Hope's visit was to represent Mahone's position, and to state that if a fight was demanded he was willing to waive his bond. General Early, it is supposed, represented General Johnson, and General Ransom's presence is accounted for as an adviser or referee to both parties. What the result of the interview was is not known.

GLENNAN. PETERSBURG, Va., Oct. 2. companied, and repaired to his residence immediately. It is stated on-good authority that Generals Johnson and Early passed through to-night on the train from Weldon en route for GREGORY. Richmond. Upon the receipt of this last we instituted inquiries and learned that Gen. Johnson, Gen. Early and Major Andrews reached the city on the Northern bound train last night, and that the difficulty had been peaceably and satisfacterily adjusted, through a meeting between General Early and James Barron Hope, at which General Mat. Ransom was called in as referee. General Johnson will resume the canvass vigorously at once.

Our Public Schools. As the public schools in this city and county will soon open, there is naturally considerable interest felt by many in the community to know who are to be the teachers to whom will be committed the charge of these schools during the ensuing scholastic year. It is well known that for years past these important positions have been filled chiefly by teachers who have no further interest in the children whom they instruct or in the community in which they live than the mere remuneration which they receive for their services, many of them coming among us at the beginning of the term and retiring to their far off homes at the close of the session to be seen among us probably no more, their places being supplied by other strangers the ensuing season. den Andrews, of Richmond, and Now, while neither we nor the community have any personal objections to the teachers that have thus been introduced in our midst, still we must insist that there are among us a sufficient number of persons, those who were born and raised in the county and who have no homes elsewhere. who are in every way quite as fully prepared, competent and trustworthy and who are willing and anxious to assume the posttions of teachers in our schools, which have heretofore been filled by those who cannot possibly feel the same interest in the welfare of the rising generation as themselves. No doubt the subject will recall to the minds of many who read this article the names of numbers of persons of both sexes now living in this county, who are quite as competent as those imported for the purpose, who would gladly become teachers in our public schools if they could be assured that the School Committee of the county would accept their services. Let those who have the control and management of this matter see to it that in the appointment of teachers to the various public schools of the county the claims of our own home

Narrow Escape of a Wilmington Ves-

The Newbern Journal of Commerce, allud ing to the damage to the wharves, both houses and other property at Beaufort by the late equinoctial storm, the tide being higher thun for many years past, mentions the fact that a schooner from Wilmington Gen. Mahone arrived on a freight (name unknown to its informant) was train from Norfolk at 41 p. m., unac- grounded in the breakers and the deck load washed away. Fortunately the crew succeeded in getting the vessel off, and she drifted into Beaufort harbor without susfaining any very great damage and with the officers and crew uninjured.

The Schooner alluded to is supposed to be the Annie Edith, Lyons, bound from this port to Philadelphia.

There were six interments in Oakdale Cemetery during the week ending on Satur day, all children. Their ages ranged from six weeks to six years, and all but one died of diphtheria, the exception being a victim of congestive chill. One of the number died in Virginia and was brought to this place for interment.

A Flat Loaded with Rosin Sinks. A flat belonging to Messrs. Lemmerman & Coney, loaded with rosin-about 400 barrels, we understand-which was intended as a part of the cargo of the steamship Benefactor, was sunk on the West side of the Cape Fear late yesterday afternoon. It seemed to be a mooted question on the wharves whether the submersion was the result of a collision between the steamer Wm. Nyce and the flat, the former having gone over for the purpose of taking the latter in tow, or whether it was from the fact that the first was overladen. At all events it was thought that the most of the osin would be saved.

THE TOLLEY GUN.-COPY OF TESTIMONIAL .-HUDSON CITY, N. J., Sept. 30th, 1874.-MESSES. J. & W. Tollby-29 Maiden Lane, New York:-The 10-guage Gun No. 3078 I ordered from you gives me entire satisfaction. I was very exacting when ordering the Gun, but must say that you have more than fulfilled what I required of you. I have shot several breech-loaders by first-class makers, and your gua beats them all for beasty and workmanship. As for shooting qualities, your gun shoots stronger and more even than any gun I ever shot. I have shown it to several good judges (including first-class gunmakers) and all agree that the action is very strong and durable, and that the gun is one of the best they ever saw. I have made some very long shots with it, using only 3% drs. of powder, which is all your gun requires. I have shot it at a targat according to the rules of the Turf, Field and Farm trials, and the average of 6 shots at 40 yards is: Left-pattern, 169; penetration, 38; right-pattern, 175; penetration 39; using 3% drs. powder, Now I am sure such a gur s seldom met with, and am very proud to be the owner of it. But the real test of your gun is in the field-there it excells all others, killing cleaner and handsomer than any gun I ever saw, as you assured me they would. Both paper and metal shells work splendidly. Gentlemen, I have to offer you my very best thanks, and will recommend your guns to all my friends.
