THE FASHION MONTHLIES.

They are here, welcome, good and early, ahead of the literary magazines. The November Demorest is bright with ladies' and lassies' fall dress plates and natterns and its usual pleasant melange of fireside reading. Accompanying it is Demorest's Young Am-

FIELD AND FIRESIDE.

HOW TO FATTEN CATTLE. The following communication from R. A. Steele, a prominent stock raiser of Kansas, to the Dropers' Journal, is full of good sense, and if stock raisers will follow it, the quality of cattle sent to market will be rapidly changed: The price of cattle fattened for market depends on the symmetry of the animal, as well as the fat style, as shippers term it. I want here to state that good blood is important, state that good blood is important, but not absolutely necessary to make what is termed a good seller. In order to fatten a steer to bring the highest market price, he must be kept in a growing condition from a calf, and in no case allowed to go hungry. It is starving the first and second winter which wilts and shrivels up a steer, that causes him to be sold. steer, that causes him to be sold at a reduced price. No amount of feeding will make him a first class seller, no difference what his color or blood. An animal well fed (I care not what blood-Texas or not) from a calf until the spring he is three years old, will be smooth, with bones well covered, and will sell at a profit; while a half starved animal becomes crooked in the back, bone projecting and shriveled up, takes the best part of the summer to get in condition to live, and will not be in condition for market until he is four years old, and then will bring a price which is unsatisfactory to the producer, and to healthy complexion? If this meets the eye of any every one that handles him. This is plan for several years. It will, and does pay to feed corn to calves and to yearlings. They pepsia or indigestion in any form, are advised, for the start out on grass in the spring strong start out on grass in the spring, strong and vigorous. You are then able to to its harmless and its restorative properties. Phy market your cattle the spring they are three years old, weighing 1,400 pounds, which is heavy enough to bring the first price. The best steer I sold in 1872 was a common native. He had all he could eat from a calf. and was never hungry. He was a handsome animal, and worth more per pound than anything I shipped in 1872. He weighed in Chicago 1,350 pounds; age three years. I have a steer calf eleven months old, from a very ordinary cow. The calf now (May 21) weighs 660 pounds. I think it will weigh, when three years old, 1,500 pounds. I do not wish it understood that I am not in favor of improving the blood as well as feed.

I shipped two Texas steers this spring, which were three years old. They were smooth and nice, and I sold them with a lot of Durhams four years old at the same price, and they were worth as much per pound and weighed better according to age. They were raised and fed by different parties. Mammoth, overgrown steers have had their day, and we now come down to the neat, compact, well-fattened animal, both in hogs and cattle. To accomplish this in cattle, good feed-ing from a calf is necessary.

An Outrago on the State of Virginia

[Petersburg Index-Appeal.] The arrest of Messrs. Black, Crichton and Jarvis at Richmond, by process of the Circuit Court of the United States, was an outrage on the dignity of the Commonwealth of Virginia, against which the Executive— who has indeed no other redress— should certainly offer his indignant protest. These gentlemen were sum-moned before the Grand Jury of the of the Circuit Court simply as wit-nesses; but they are surprised by the demand to deliver up books which it is their sworn duty as officers of the State to preserve in their own personal custody, and for the safekeeping of which they are responsible in heavy penalties to the State, under the State statute. Not this only, but their arrest for alleged violation of the Enforcement Act is suddenly agreed on by Marshal Ramsdell's im-mediate and immortal grand jury; and but for the action of Judge Hughes by which they were released on their own recognizance, serious trouble might have resulted to the registrars. A Princess-Beggar, A dispatch says that the Princess de Bourbon (Mme. Perkins), whose husband is now in prison in Paris, is utterly destitute, with three children, begging for work and endeavoring to borrow the pittance of twenty dollars, and that her aunt, the ex-Queen of Spain, lives only a few doors off, but refuses to help her. This is the same Infanta Maria Isabella de Guronski de Bourbon who only a few years ago was married with much pomp and circumstance to Mr. Perkins, the United States Consul at Lisbon. The royalrepublican pair went to Paris, and for about three years lived on the expectancy of the bride's aunt, the ex-Queen, and the assurances of the groom that a large fortune in America was coming to him. Matters went from bad to worse until Mr. Perkins wed a board bill of something like eight thousand dollars, and his landadjudged the ex-Consul a swinder, and sentenced him to one year's imprisonment, and the Princess was left destitute with her three children.

Origin of Weather Telegraphy. Leverrier in 1854 called attention to the importance of systematic weather reports, and in 1855 Louis Napoleon authorized such an undertaking. The stations from which the reports were received were mostly in France, but in 1857 the network was extended to foreign countries. In 1858 all the important cities of Europe were included, and on the 1st of January of that year began the publication of the Bulletin International. Up to 1863 occasional weather warnings were issued by the French system of daily probabilities of weather was inaugurated. In 1865 comer was inaugurated. In 1865 commenced the series of quarterly volumes of the Atlas General des Mouvements de l'Atmosphere. Since that time the progress of weather telegraphy in Europe has been very rapid.

But the proposal to use the telegraph for this purpose was made in this country at least eight years earlier than Leverrier made the suggestion in France. Professor Abbe, in Sillinga's Journal, traces the first Silliman's Journal, traces the first printed hint of the kind to Professor Redfield, who in 1846 wrote to that journal as follows: "In the Atlantic ports, the approach of a gale may be made known by means of the electric telegraph, which probably will soon extend from Maine to the Mississipprotection of our commerce, even in the present imperfect state of our knowledge of storms." But however frequently the suggestion may have been made, it is to Professor Henry and his assistants in the Smithsonian Institution that we must assign the credit of having first acted upon it; and the agitation of this subject in the United States probably stimulated the subsequent action of European meteorologists.

Well Worth Reading. Who is there that does not desire to be always exempted from indigestion—to have a good appetite, a painless stomach, and clear head, a regular pulse, who are not thus blessed, let them try Hostetters Stomack Bitters. We guarantee that this delightful no theory, but a fact deduced from tonic will restore any stomach, however weak, to a close observation, as I have tested the | healthy condition; that it will bring back the trush appetite, and give permanent vigor to the whole sys-tem. New York, Sept. 1st, 1874. MARSHAL'S OFFICE. Wilmington, N. C., April 22, 1874.

I WOULD MOST RESPECTFULLY CALL THE attention of the citizens to the fact that the warm and sickly season is near at hand, and it becomes my duty to adopt the most stringent sanitary measures at this particular time to preserve the health of the city and prevent the introduction of disease that may originate from foul and unwholesome matter, flith, garbage, trash and refuse matter which has a tendency to create unwholesome and offensive odors. In order to prevent as far as possible the spread of those diseases peculiarly incident to this season of the year I would most respectfully solicit the co-operation of the citizens generally in placing our city in such a sanitary condition as to render it as far as practicable impregnable, at least to those diseases which eriginate from foul and unwholesome matter. To this and the entire force of the city will be employed in cleansing, draining, cleaning, disinfecting and removing trash, &c., for at least the next fifteen or twenty days. All persons are requested to have the trash, effal, refuse matter, &c., cleaned from their premises and placed upon the streets, whence they will be removed immediately. When it is convenient please use boxes or barrels.

Persons needing disinfectants can have the same free of charge by calling at my office.

The health officers, designated by a yellow rosette, may be notified of any stagnant water standing upon any lot, or damp cellar, or anything that would he bair the health of the city, and any complaint lodged at this office shall receive prompt attention.

Believing that a proper sanitary condition adopted now, at this early season, will insure a healthy summer I earnestly solicit the aid and co-operation of all the good citizens to accomplish this good end, Respectfully, &c., GEO. W. PRICE, JR., app3-tf NOTICE.

Prospectus for 1874. SEVENTH YEAR THE ALDINE

An illustrated monthly journal, universally admitted to be the mandsomest periodical in the world.

A representative and champion of American taste. NOT FOR SALE IN BOOK OR NEWS STORES! THE ALDINE, WHILE ISSUED WITH ALL THE regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any shape or number of volumes, for ten times its cost, and then there are the chromos besides!

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have wen a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Enrope it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel-plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater Hacility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and realning inducates of the artistic success and greatest general interest.

the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trilling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and redning influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessora nousely well to should emorate

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in The White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:

These Chromos are in every sense American.—
They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly processes an interest no foreign media.

Carolina Herald. THE UNDERSIGNED PROPOSES TO COM-mence the publication, in Oxford, N. C., on or about the 1st of February, 1874, of a large and hand-some Weekly Paper, thirty-two columns, to be called THE CAROLINA HERALD.

In politics the HERALD will be strictly Censervative-Democratic, and will use every honorable means for the success of that party.

The Commercial, Industrial, Educational and Manufacturing Interests of the State, County and Town will be carefully considered, and every exertion made for their speedy development.

It will be the constant aim and purpose of the proprietor to make the HERALD a Live Newspaper in every respect, and he confidently appeals to the people of Granville and surrounding counties to ustain him in this effort.

The advertising rates will be of the most liberal character, and it will be the endeavor of the proprietor to make the HERALD a reliable medium for every class, trade and profession.

Terms $2 per annum, invariably in advance. Liberal deductions made to clubs.

THE BAPTIST REVIEW, An Independent Religious Newspaper.

It supports and defends the doctrine of free agency, and Personal Accountability. It advocates the doctrine of the unlimited atonement; and believes that salvation is attainable by all persons who hear and understand the gospel. It advocates the Union and Communion of all Christians at the Lord's table regardless of Denominational or Sectarian distinctions. And vindicates the cause of Christian Union upon the basis of the New Testament. It recognizes Christians of all evangelical Churches as members of the Church of Christ; and advocates co-operation among the protestant denominations in the work of evangelisation. It advocates immersion as the only proper mode of baptism sudbelievers as the only subjects. Our mottods: FREE SALVATION, FREE COMMUNION AND IMMERSION.

A LARGE HANDSOME SHEET OF THIRTY-the cuterprise, wealth and intelligence of the Up-

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

PREMIUMS FOR 1874:

Messrs. James Sutton & Co.

Gentlemen:—I am delighted with the proofs n color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Very respectfully,

(Signed). Thos. MORAN.

Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE.—Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS:

FIVE DOLLARS per annum, in advance, with the chromos free.

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will hereafter be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or clui rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cares where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.
