BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CON-VENTRON.

Second Day of the State Sunday School

Convention. [Condensed from the Raleigh News ]

On Saturday morning the Baptist Sunday School Convention again as-Rev. C. T. Bailey first addressed the Conveniton upon the "Organiza-tion of Sunday School work in North Carolina, its necessity and practicability." Mr. E. Frost then made a few cogent remarks on the subject.

After singing by the pupils of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, Mr. W. W. Holden addressed the Convention on Sunday School organization. Rev. Dr. Wingate next addressed the Convention and referred to the manner of organizing the Sunday School work in the State. The organization of the church was the place to organize a school, and its teachers should be church members where that is practicable. Rev. C. E. Taylor explained his definition of a Sunday School to be the church at work, teaching and learning the word of God. Rev. Mr. Stone, of Ohio, discussed the organization of Sunday schools, and held that churches were responsible for the support and carrying forward the Sunday schools. He advocated the establishment of Sunday school institutes, where the different methods of teaching and conducting schools would be brought out and discussed. Col. J. M. Heck argued that there was a deadness on the subject of Sunday schools. He closed bysubmitting an essay on the subject of Sunday School organization. Rev. G. G. Griffith submitted his report as chairman of the Sunday School Board. He paid a high tribute to Rev. N. B. Cobb, a missionary of the Board in that cause. Mr. C. preached 131 ser-mons, delivered 46 addresses on Sunday School and education, visited 62 churches in 32 counties, and organized 19 Sunday Schools in and 17 Sunday School Missionary Societies, and labored in meetings in which 57 persons had been converted.

AFTERNOON AND NIGHT SESSIONS. Mr. Griffith's report concluded with the statement that the Sunday School Missionary Societies have devoted nearly 50 per cent. of their proceeds to the cause of missions and the establishment of Sunday Schools in the State up to the present time. It was declared to be the sentiment of the Convention that there ought to be a similar meeting held at same time next year, and the selection of the place be left with the Sunday School Board.

Prof. W. B. Royall read an essay on Sunday School Missionary Societies. He was followed by Rev. E. Dobson and Mr. Wright, of the Pee Dee ssociation.

The report of the committee on credentials showed that 363 accredited delegates were in attendance on the Convention. The next subject discussed was "How to get grown people into the Sunday School," by Prof. Reinhart,

Arrangements for the Sunday programme were then announced by President Heck The subject of "Evergreen Sunday Schools in the country" was consid ered by Mr. W. L. Wright, who stated that owing to the bad roads in the winter an evergreen school in the country was a very difficult undertaking, but when laboring for the cause of Christ we should keep steadily forward and break down all opposition. He was followed by Rev. J. K. Howell, Mr. W. H. Pace and Mr. Kirby. "Denominational teachings in the Sunday School," was discussed by Rev. R. H. Griffith at some length in an able address.

M Honest and Dishonest by Turns, Professor Huxley has been relating the case of a French soldier whose left pariental bone was fractured by a ball received in battle. The paralysis which ensued has now passed away, and the man now leads two lives-normal and abnormal. In the former he has full possession of his faculties and is eminently honest; in the latter, while the appearances are much the same, he has only the sense of touch in a state of activity. and steals with all the avidity of the most obdurate kleptomaniac. The normal life lasts about twenty-seven days each month, and lapses suddenly into the abnormal which holds during the remaining days.

-The Superior Court for Onslow county convened yesterday, Judge McKoy — Goldsboro Messenger: Adam Nanago, col., had a leg broken on Fri-day last, at the ginhouse of E. B. Borden, Esq.

- The Charlotte Fair comme Marlotte is infested — Blount, who was convicted in the Federal Court at Statesville, of con-spiracy to defraud the Cherokee Indians, has been confined in Salisbury jail.

- Charlotte Observer: We published a rumor the other day that one Flynn Bradshaw had been arrested in Rowan county, charged with being accessory to the murder of a man named McFee, whose dead body was found in a creek in the county named about three weeks since.

Bradshaw is on trial for counterfeiting, and McFee had turned State's evidence. The report that Bradshaw has been arrested for this murder is an error.

- Danville News: An excursion party, numbering one hundred and thirty persons, from Indianapolis to Greensboro, N. C., traveling via Virginia Midland railroad, missed connection with the Richmond and Danville and Pledmont railroads at this point yesterday morning, and were compelled to lay over here. They were all former residents of North Carolina, and were on their way to attend the annual meeting of the Society of Friends of that State now in session at Greensboro.

- Charlotte Observer: Yesterday a young woman of this city appeared be-fore Justice A. H. Martin, and told the following story: About six months ago she went to one of the depots to meet her sister, whom she expected on the night train. While standing on the platform a gentle-man, who she could only describe as having a long black beard, came up to her and placed a young baby in her arms, telling her to care for it and when it needed anything to call upon a certain citizen, whose name the magistrate refused to communicate to us, and he would give her money or whatever she wanted. The man placed some money in her hand and quickly disappeared. Since that time she has provided for the child's wants at the expense of the strange gentleman.

- Danville News: A gentleman from Rockingham, N. C., informs us that Mrs. Coleman, the widow of a Confederate soldier, who lived near Wentworth, N. C., committed suicide on the 22nd instant by shooting herself through the head. She fastened the gun to an apple tree, and placing herself in front of it, touched it off with a lighted torch, lodging the contents of the gun in her head, killing her instantly. She seems to have gone about it very deliberately, having sent her children from home, leaving herself the sole occupant of the house, upon the walls of which she wrote: "I cannot live, my dear children, to see you the slaves of some persons." She had at different times shown symptoms of insanity, but not sufficiently to make her the object of any special attention.

Gen. Rausom and the Grand Banquet at Richmond. At the grand reunion and banquet of the Army of Northern Virginia, which took place in Richmond on Friday night last, which was presided over by Gen. Fitzhugh Lee and addressed by himself, Gov. Kemper, Ger. W. B. Taliferro, Gen. William H. Payne, Gen. Early, Gen. W. H. F. Lee, Gen, Lindsay Walker, Gen. James A. Walker, Gen. Bradly T. Johnson and others, Gen. Robert Ransom, formerly of this city, was called upon to respond to the 12th regular toast, which was " North Carolina and her Troops-Resembling her native products, she pitched in on all occasions and stuck to it to the last." The Dispatch says that Gen. Ransom, being loudly called for, said he thanked his old comrades for the very handsome manner in which he was brought to his feet. He was proud of his native State, and of her war record. He had recently colonized over there in Chesterfield county, (he said colonized; for he had brought ten Ransoms with him) and he meant to stick. And if his sons should ever be called to do duty in the cause of constitutional freedom, he not unworthy of their noble old State, and the gallant sons she had sent to the cause of Confederate independence.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Extracts from the Proceedings.
The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday afternoon in regular session. present acting Chairman Wagner and Commissioners VanAmringe and Nixon.

The Committee on Public Buildings submitted a report stating that they had examined the County Jail and found everything in good order. A few of the prisoners complain about not being well fed; but the majority-say that they are doing as well as they could expect. Report received and ordered filed. The Committee on Poor House reported that they had carefully examined into the condition of that establishment and found that there were 9 males and 9 females in the Poor House, and 22 males and 24 females in the Hospital, making 18 in the Poor House and 46 in the Hospital, Report received and ordered filed. tion in good order, and that the prisoners are all well fed and clothed. There are day morning, at the instance of their Capnow 19 males and 4 females in the Work House. Report received and ordered filed.

The report of the Auditing Committee was received and ordered spread on the License to retail spiritous liquors was granted to Orrell & Croom, David Sherman,

E. L. Ennett, L. P. Thomas & Co., E. Levy and John Haar. A number of applications for reduction of taxes were considered.

The Board adjourned to meet again to morrow (A'eduesday) morning, at 10 o'clock.

Freedman's Bank Frauds-Indigna tion Meeting. A large and enthusiastic meeting of co ored people was held at Mt. Zion Church, in "Brooklyn," last evening, to give expression to the feeling of dissatisfaction at the delay of the promised 95 per cent., and to inaugurate proceedings for its recovery Jos. R. Sampson was called to the Chair and made some very interesting statements in regard to the action of depositors in other

Duncan Holmes spoke warmly on the subject, alluding to the terribly demoralizing effects upon his race of the way the Freedman's Bank had been managed. Revs. Spriggs and Bishop were severe upon the local officers and advocated imnediate action. Several instances of suffering among their congregations on ac count of the failure were related, and one person rose in the meeting and said that he had denied himself shoes and clothing and had saved $1,200 and now when he went to the Bank for his money the door was shut and the only thing he could see was a poled he painted on the door—"Trust Company Investments in U. S. Securities and Real Estate Only." The following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, It has been ascertained be youd a doubt that gross frauds and theft have been perpetrated upon the National Freedman's Bank to the detriment of the ate liberated bondmen: therefore Resolved, That it is the sense of this meet ing that the Trustees of the National Freedman's Bank have proven recreant to the trust reposed in them by the United States Congress and the colored people of the Resolved, That by their unfriendly and inhuman treatment of us in despoiling us of our hard-earned savings they have reduced us as a people to a greater degrada-tion and want than we will be able to recover from in the next ten years. After a few remarks by Capt. J. M Wise, the meeting adjourned to meet again at St. Stephen's A. M. E. Church en Wednesday next, at 8 o'clock.

Interesting Services. The attendance on the Installation ser vices at the two Presbyterian Churches Sunday was very large. In the morning at the First Church the Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Wilson was solemnly charged by Rev. James Sprunt, of Kenansville, on his duties as a Christian pastor, the congregation hav ing been addressed on their duties by Rev. B. F. Marable, of Clinton. These gentletrusted that they would prove themselves | men were appointed at last session of Wilmington Presbytery to do this work. Rev. Mr. Sprunt preached a most excellent sermon on "The Triumphant Ascension of Christ, and His Gifts to the Church." The learning, the modesty, the strength of character and fine pulpit oratory of Mr. Sprunt made him a general favorite as a preacher.

The pastoral relation between Rev. Chas. M. Payne and the Second Presbyterian Church was by the same Presbyterial agents regularly constituted at the hour for evening service at that Church. Rev. Dr. Wilson preached the sermon, which was an able and highly appreciated effort.

Thieves on the Rampage. There is said to be a great amount of stealing going on in the neighborhood of Long Creek, in this county. Turpentine, wood, cattle, &c , disappear with marvellous celerity, and thus far the victims have been unable to discover the slightest clue to the thieves, of which there seems to be a regularly organized band. Scarcely a night passes, we learn, that some one does not suffer more or less from the depredations of these prowling marauders.
