OUTLINES.

The cool way in which the Republican New York Times speaks of Satrap Sheridan's dispatch is refreshing to the average reader. The New York express train collided with a freight train on its way to Washington, and a mail agent was burned to death. Hamlin, of Maine, and Chandler, of Michigan, re-nominated for the Senate. Dr. Brown, of Richmond, presides over the joint committee to consider relations between Northern and Southern Presbyterian churches. State Senator Graham, of Virginia, seems to be making good his charge that Mr. Stowell, a Republican Representative in Congress from the same State, has sold an appointment to the Naval Academy. Stowell will be compelled to forego the companionship of Ben Butler. Leading Republicans of thoughtful cast give up in despair since Sheridan's last raid. Dufauré has been called on to form a Cabinet by MacMahon. Butler introduces a sweeping bill for an election in Louisiana next May. New York markets: Gold, 112 1/2 @ 113; cotton, 15 @ 16 1/2 cts.; spirits turpentine, 35 cts.; rosin, $3 00 @ $2 10. Lower House of Florida Legislature organized yesterday, but the Senate failed to do so. The loss by burning of tobacco factories in Baltimore amounts to $350,000. Insurance $208,500. Faneuil Hall, Boston, is to thunder forth its protest against usurpations of the military under Presidential sanction and authority.

ELEGANT DIVERSIONS.

We are an advocate of genuine opera and high drama for their refining influences. Diversion is not always simple recreation; it is often part of a polished culture. With the Greeks and other ancients and the best examples among moderns in the scope of ornamental vision while we write, we hesitate not to make the assertion that no education must be considered complete that does not include a criticism of dramatic and operatic art. Of course this criticism may be elaborate and profound, or it may be narrow and meagre. That depends on opportunity and mental habit and training. But as pleasant as the subject is, we have not the time this morning to be discursive. Our present purpose is to direct attention to the unusual advantages enjoyed by our public at this season. It is seldom that we have within four days the pleasure of such a presentation of historical drama as Madame Janauschek will give us this evening in the superb role of England's lion-hearted Queen, followed by so superior a rendition of a master of song by Miss Philipps. We remember only one recent season when Janauschek, Jefferson and Owens filled our beautiful Opera House and were the delight of all circles for weeks—when our facilities for elevating amusement were at once so varied and so great. That season we had no opera. We presume these advantages will be improved to the full by a large number of our citizens. Purely in the interests of high art, refined taste and healthy recreation we bespeak a graceful recognition on the part of our people, both to-night and Tuesday evening, of the talents and genius of the distinguished artists who will honor us by their appearance.

Spirits Turpentine.

The Raleigh Era is authorized to state that the rumor of Judge Edwin G. Heade's resignation as an Associate Judge of the Supreme Court is unfounded. Winston Sentinel: We met Gen. Kirkland, formerly Colonel of the "old 21st," a few days ago, and he charged us to give his kindest regards to all the surviving members of the old regiment. A Grange of Patrons of Husbandry was organized at Stokesburg, Stokes county, on Saturday, December 19, and known as "Stokesburg Grange, No. 483," with T. J. Valentine as Master. Joseph P. Wilson, of Hertford county, arrested on the 3rd of November last, charged with the murder of his wife by poisoning, has been released from custody on bail, sufficient evidence by examination of the stomach of deceased not having been obtained to justify his continued imprisonment on a charge of murder.

SENTIMENT IN NEW ORLEANS.

The People Implored to Remain Quiet. TO THE PEOPLE OF LOUISIANA: In the name of all that men hold dear and sacred, I implore my fellow citizens to avoid by all means the traps which our enemies and oppressors have deliberately set for us. Our deliverance from political bondage depends upon our prudence and forbearance, and a conflict with the soldiers or authorities would be the ruin of our hopes, a riveting of our chains. A little more of the heroism, patience, and forbearance which have already crowned you with imperishable honor, and aroused the sympathies of the entire country in your favor, and the usurpation and misrule to which you are now subjected will have ceased, and you will be once more a free, a prosperous, and a happy people. R. H. MARR, Chairman, Committee of Seventy.

AN APPEAL TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

To the American People: WHEREAS, Gen. Sheridan, now in command of the Division of the Missouri, under date of the 4th inst., has addressed a communication to the Hon. W. W. Belknap, Secretary of War, in which he represents the people of Louisiana at large as breathing vengeance to all lawful authority, and approving of murders and crimes; and Whereas, He has given full publicity to that communication; We, the undersigned, believe it our duty to proclaim to the whole American people that these charges are unmerited, unfounded, and erroneous, and can have no other effect than that of serving the interests of corrupt politicians, who are at this moment making most extreme efforts to perpetuate their power over the State of Louisiana.

N. J. PERCHE, Archbishop of New Orleans. J. P. B. WILMER, Bishop of Louisiana. JAS. K. GUTHRIE, Pastor Temple of Sinai. C. DOLL, Rector St. James' Church. And many others. New Orleans, Jan. 5th.

Janauschek.

The Opera House, this evening, will doubtless be packed with our play-goers to witness the performance of the play entitled the "Earl of Essex," in which the incomparable Janauschek will personate the character of Queen Elizabeth. In regard to this characterization of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says: "This piece has situations in which the great powers of Janauschek are manifest. Tortured all through by the struggle of the queen who must punish, with the woman who loves, Essex, she depicts masterfully the subjugation of her passion to her duty, and finally to a mightier passion—revenge. But the climax of dramatic interest and of her personal waits the revelation of Essex's cruel treachery to her heart. He is brought in captive, wounded, broken, subdued, and asks only his death sentence from her lips. And here the heart of the Queen seems moved to pardon him. 'We are mortals and have erred,' she begins, but in an instant the woman's heart is outraged, and its love turned into jealous hate by Lady Rutland's impassioned confession of this mutual love and secret marriage between herself and Essex. The spirit of the drama is now reversed. It is the Queen who can forgive. The woman who cannot. Her denunciation of this unpardonable sin, and her action up to the signing of the death warrant give the scene a reality that annihilates historic periods of years and awakens a genuine sympathy for the unfortunate lord who is the object of such royal wrath."

Begin Work.

We learn from the Charlotte Observer that the Carolina Central Company has begun work looking to the running of its track parallel with A street, and alongside the track of the North Carolina Railroad. A small trestle is now being put up to the right of Trade Street's crossing of the N. C. Railroad, next to the old Rock Island Factory. Another trestle will be built between the crossing and the depot of the N. C. Railroad. These trestles will be filled in next Spring. A large platform will be built adjoining that of the North Carolina depot, the lumber for it, or a large part of it, being now on the grounds. The platform will be 130x224 feet. On one side of it will be a wagon way, extending the whole length, and 30 feet in width. This will be three feet lower than the other part of the platform, in order to afford additional facilities for the loading and unloading of wagons.

The Cotton Factory.

The cotton factory is rapidly approaching completion and soon the hum of the spindles will be heard. As it will no doubt be the forerunner of many other such enterprises, all tending to build up and give our city a fresh start in the race of prosperity and commercial importance, we are anxious to see it commence operations. There is nothing like a commencement in such things. It begets a spirit of confidence, arouses the dormant energies, awakens slumbering enterprise and gives life and cheerfulness to the community. Let but success crown the efforts of those public spirited gentlemen who have inaugurated this important enterprise, of which there can scarcely be a shadow of doubt, and others of a like character will speedily follow.

Dead Body Found.

We learn that a colored man, who was cutting wood at Point Peter, opposite this city, yesterday afternoon, discovered the body of an unknown white man which had drifted ashore at that point. He secured it and came to the city to notify Coroner Hewlett of the circumstance, but up to this writing we have received no information as to any inquest having been held. The corpse had on a blue blouse and was evidently that of a sailor, who was probably drowned off of some of the vessels in port.

Local Notes.

Very few vessels are arriving at this port just now. The Norwegian brig Dagny, Knutsen, arrived at London from this port on the 5th inst. The Mayor held no court yesterday morning, there being no cases ready for trial. The German barque Claudia, Dinse, arrived at New York from this port on the 4th inst. It is reported that Judge Cantwell wants to be postmaster of this city. We don't blame him. Maj. J. C. Mann, formerly of this city, has a position in the United States Mint at San Francisco. The Norwegian barque Da Capo, Anderson, arrived at Liverpool from this port on the 4th inst. Both printing and ruling done in the finest grades of copying ink at the STAR Job Printing Office. City subscribers who fail to receive their papers regularly will please report the fact promptly at this office. Solicitor Norment was in the city yesterday preparing for the laborious duties of the coming session of the Superior Court. We desire to state for the benefit of our numerous readers that we may possibly have cloudy weather and a little rain in this latitude to-day. The situation in Louisiana is still the all-absorbing topic of conversation, while speculation runs high as to what will be the probable result of the matter. We learn that there are a larger number of cases on the docket for trial at the approaching term of the Superior Court than at the commencement of the last session. The annual meeting of lot owners of Oakdale Cemetery will be held at the rooms of the Wilmington Library Association on Monday evening next, the 11th inst., at 7 1/2 o'clock. The box-sheet for the sale of reserve seats to Miss Adelaide Phillipps' Italian operatic performance will be open this morning at Heinsberger's book store. Get your seats early. Those wishing to participate in the grand masquerade ball on Monday night will find the ladies' list at Heinsberger's book store and the gentlemen's list at Lippitt's tobacco store. The Schr. Henrietta, Capt. Langley, which put in at this port some months since, in distress, having lost her masts in a gale at sea, has repaired and sailed for her destination, Portland, Maine. An accidental rift in the clouds yesterday forenoon exposed to view a patch of blue sky, which, though of almost infinitesimal proportions, was nevertheless an object of intense admiration in these days of clouds and rain. We learn that J. H. Smyth and Geo. W. Price, Jr., have gone to Washington City on some mysterious mission. We can only infer that their visit is for the purpose of bringing about a settlement of Louisiana affairs. After January 1, 1875, we will mail the DAILY STAR, postpaid, for $7 00 per year. This is $1 20 less than it now costs subscribers, including postage. The rates for periods less than one year will be advanced as follows: Six months, $4 00; three months, $2 25; one month, $1 00.

A Waif.

A few nights since a colored man living on the corner of Dock and Thirtieth streets found a bundle on his door step, which, upon examination, was found to contain an infant, apparently about two weeks old, with two extra suits of baby clothes for an outfit. The little waif was taken care of and yesterday the wife of the man with whom it was left carried it to the Court House to consult with some of the County Commissioners as to what should be done with it, the woman, whose name is Winnie Rines, finally consenting to take care of it for $3 50 per month. The child is a very bright mulatto and bears a healthy appearance.

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL.—HARRIS, Mo., May 30, 1874.

Messrs. J. & W. Tolley, 29 Maiden Lane, New York—Gent.: The 12 Gun which you built for me, No. 2098, has arrived safely to hand. Allow me to thank you for the fidelity with which you carried out my instructions. The general outline, beauty of proportion and excellent finish, are all that could be desired, and more than meets my expectations. I am more than ever impressed with the idea that it is as necessary for a man to have a gun built to measure as to have a boot so built to ensure a good fit. The pattern 175 and penetration 40 are very superior. The pattern is as close as I desire, and the penetration I think is seldom attained, being far ahead of any public record which I have seen. Respectfully Yours, G. W. DORRAN.

BOOK BINDERY.—THE MORNING STAR BOOK BINDERY does all kinds of Binding and Ruling in a workmanlike manner, and at reasonable prices. Merchants and others needing Receipt Books, or other work, may rely on promptness in the execution of their orders.

CITY ITEMS.

To SPORTSMEN.—Read the advertisement of J. & W. Tolley, the celebrated gun manufacturers, of Birmingham, England. Their breech loaders are without a rival, as is shown by the large number of testimonials in the possession of the Messrs. Tolley. Send to their branch house, 29 Maiden Lane, New York. TRANSFER PRINTING.—Invaluable to railroad companies, steamship companies, banks, merchants, manufacturers and others. They are enduring and changeless, and will copy sharp and clear for an indefinite period of time. Having just received a fresh supply of these inks, were prepared to execute orders promptly and at moderate prices.
