The wote on Speer's resolution in Congress yesterday commits the Republicans to the third term idea. They had a good opportunity to force Grant from the track, and were too stupid or too cowardly to do it. I they stick to Grant, relying on his bayonet programme, they will go to the wall with absolute certainty. If they desire to defeat him for the nomination, they are daily losing opportunities. With or without Grant there is no hope for them unless they change their whole policy.

The defection of two such influential Republicans as Messrs. Foote and Glenn, members of the House of Representatives from Wilkes and Yadkin, respectively, shows that the course of their party is no longer tolerable for intelligent, and honorable men. These gentlemen say that they cannot stand the Civil Rights bill, of party shibboleth at this time. Others will follow their example.

The mercenary Cæsar at Washington, who tramples with cool impunity upon the rights of majorities in Louisiana, prates fluently of the destruction of the rights of minorities in Arkansas. He appears to invite Congress to rip up things out there, or let him tear a Garland from the brow of a redeemed State.

cipal and interest. Mr. Anderson offered an amendment making the legal rate 6 per cent., but allowing parties to stipulate in written contracts any interest that may be agreed upon.

Mr. Morehead moved that the question be postponed until Tuesday next, and that the Judiciary Committee be instructed to examine into the law and ascertain whether any legislation of this State could affect or control the National banks.

The question of postponing in order to examine into the question of the control of the National banks in respect to usury, was discussed at some length by Messrs. Morehead, Kerr, French, LeGrand, Mabson, Parish Linney, Williams and Latham.

Mr. Latham moved to lay the whole question upon the whole table, as it had already consumed too much time of the Senate, and with present appearances he could see no solution to the matter. Mr. Morehead moved to adjourn.

WHOLE NO. 2,292.

Mr. Latham's motion was lost by a vote of 14 to 25.

Quite a number of motions and efforts to postpone and adjourn were made without avail, and shortly before three o'clock the vote was finally taken on the substitute of Mr. Le Grand, (being the majority report of the House Finance Committee) which finally passed its third reading by the following vote: Affirmative .- Bell, Cashwell, Clement, Holton, LeGrand, Linney, Love, Marler, McElroy, McMillan, More-head, Parrish, Paschal, Selby, Shaw, Smith, Taylor, Tucker, Walker, Williamson, Worthy and Young-22. Negative-Anderson, Bryant, Cant-

well, C. M. Cooke, N. S. Cook, French, Graham, Irwin, Jenkins, Latham Mahson, McCauley, Waddell and Waring-14.

Mr. Linney moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill passed, and that this motion be laid upon the table.

Mr. Morehead held that, these beng two separate motions, they must be considered separately. The Chair so decided.

Mr. Morehead then moved that the vote by which the bill passed be reconsidered; pending which motion he further moved that the Senste adjourn; which last motion was adopt

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Mr. Eatman rose to a question of privilege and said: The gentleman from Cabarrus, on Thursday, charged me with uttering false statements. In speaking of that gentleman's bill in reference to the jurisdiction of chief officers of cities and towns, I said, I understood that when it was referred to the committee it would come back a local bill, but was sur prised to find it re reported as a gen eral bill. I did not impugn the char adherence to which seems to be a sort acter of the gentleman from Cabarrus in any way, and hope he will retract publicly his charges publicly made.

Mr. Means said: I understood the gentleman from Wilson as saying hat I had acted in bad faith and taken an improper advantage of this House in reference to that bill. I wish to know if he did not say so, or did not mean to convey such an insinuation?

Mr. Eatman replied: I neither said that nor did I mean to make any such insinuation, nor did I mean in any way to reflect on the gentleman from

Mr. Means said: Then, sir, I made my charge under a total misunderstanding; I retract it and regret that I made it.

lives and property of its best citizens. After further discussion Mr. Norment moved that the bill be findefin itely postponed.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Fine Gathering of Business Men-Everybody Against Usury Laws. In response to the call printed in the city papers Sunday, the business men of Wilmington and vicinity turned out in force at -The Rev. Dr. Rosser, of Virgin, the City Hall last evening to take action concerning the usury bill pending before the Legislature. The meeting was called to order by Mr. E. A. Keith, on whose motion Col. W. L. DeRosset, was appointed Chairman, and Mr. M. Cronly Secretary.

Col. John McRae offered the following

Resolved, That as farmers, manufacturers and merchants, we are thoroughly satisfied that the passage by the General Assembly from his perch and crushed to pieces by the of North Carolina, of the bill on the subject of usury, now pending before that body, or the enactment of any other law, restricting and fettering the use of money, and taking from the people their inherent right freely to contract with each other in connection with its employment, will be especially hurtful to the agricultural, manufacturing and commercial interests of North Carolina, and disastrous alike to the people at large and to the future revenues of the

> Resolved. That the Chairman nominate and appoint (at his convenience) a committee of five persons, who will in behalf of this meeting, draft a suitable memorial and carry it to the General Assembly of our State, expressive of the views of this meeting on the subject matter referred to in the foregoing resolution, and most respectfully asking that body to forbear further action

> Mr. B. G. Worth spoke briefly and pointedly, and favored prompt action. He thought a committee should be appointed, with instructions to proceed immediately to Raisigh. He was followed by Col. John Mcitae who heartily endorsed his views, and who spoke at some length in opposition to all usury laws. He said he was not a lender. but a borrower of money all the time, and it was as a borrower that he opposed usury laws.

Mr. Thomas Williams (himself a farmer) said he could not conceive of anything that would prove more disastrous to the farming interests than the passage of the usury law now before the Legislature of North Carolina; or, in fact, the passage of any usury law. He believed that nearly every farmer with whom he was acquainted would sign a memorial against the adoption - Rev. J. T. Gibbs, by special re- of any usury law by the Legislature. Mr. Williams' remarks were received with hearty applause.

> Maj. T. H. McKoy moved to amend the resolutions by providing for a committee of five, instead of three. This was accepted by the mover of the resolutions, when on motion they were unanimously

On motion of Capt. D. R. Murchison, the Chair was requested to appoint a committee of three to procure signatures to a memorial to be presented to the Legislature. On motion of D. McRae, Esq., the Chairman was instructed to request the Speaker of the House of Representatives, by telegraph, to use his influence in delaying action on the usury bill until the proceedings of this meeting could be brought before

The following is the committee of five appointed to proceed immediately to Raleigh: B. G. Worth, W. A. French, J. A. Eugelhard, J. W. Hinson and Roger Moore.

Under the resolution of Capt. Murchison, the Chair appointed the following committee on memorial: W. B. Binford, T. H. McKoy and P. Heinsberger.
