Imagine a mass of bootless and coatless men in all sorts of recumbent positions, a chamber resonant of snores and smelling of hot whiskey punches. Then fancy a learned Senate filled with the fury of eloquence, rapt, inspired by the cheerful surroundings holding forth with more than a Burke's persuasiveness, a Calhoun's logic or a Webster's grandeur of manner and diction. This is what you would see and hear and smell and feel if you could be in Washington to-night. Send them a safe deliverance and no Force bill is our fervent

To-day is the last full day's session of the infamous 43d Congress. To-morrow at 12 M. it descends to the tomb of the Capulets, to the place of dead cats who have lived their nine lives, or to whatever part of the historical charnel house such miscreants usually do go at death. Cursed be the memory of the 43rd.

The Tariff bill was tabled yesterday in the Senate, which we suppose kills it, as it is known that a large number of Republican as well as Democratic Senators are hostile to the measure.

SIXTY-NINTH DAY.

SENATE.

MONDAY, March 1.

Mr. Busbee, a resolution instructing the Committee on Internal Improvements to report a bill providing by taxation or otherwise for the protection of the State's interest in the North Carolina Railroad and the Western North Carolina Railroad. Adopted.

THE USURY QUESTION. Mr. Williamson introduced a bill to construe the true meaning of the 6th section or ratifying clause of the Usury bill, which bill has passed both Houses. The said section leaves a doubt as to the time the said bill shall go into effect, which was meant to go into effect within thirty days. On motion, the rules were suspended and the bill considered and warmly discussed at some length by Messrs. French, Linney, Busbee, Williamson, Mills, Cooke, Standford and Selby. Mr. Busbee moved an amendment that the bill do not go into effect until January 1, 1877. Mr. Cooke moved an amendment that the bill go into effect on the 1st of November, 1875.

Mr. French moved to postpone the whole question until to-morrow 12 o'clock, in order that the amendment of Mr. LeGrand to postpone until 1st of January, 1876, (the special order for that day,) could be considered at the same time. Lost by a vote of 14 to 22. Mr. Busbee's motion was lost by a vote of 8 to 27.

Mr. Cooke's motion to postpone the operations of the bill until 1st of November, 1875, was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 18; nays, 19.

The motion of Mr. Williamson then passed its second reading by a vote of 45 to 10, and being put on its third reading Mr. Cook moved that the bill do not go into effect until the 15th of October, 1875.

Mr. Waring hoped this amendment would be adopted, as large sections of the State would be greatly damaged by the immediate operations of former debate. this bill, and he desired that the people might be given time to get ready already made for this year may be carried out.

Mr. Williamson wanted the bill to go into effect at once. Mr. Cooke thought it extremely essential that his amendment should prevail. The bill going into effect at present would work disastrously in the cotton sections of the State, arrangements having already been made for the present year between the planters, merchants, bankers and cap-

Mr. Parish advocated the bill going into effect in 30 days. The country had already been impoverished by the enormous rates of interest charge Mr. Cooke's amendment was adopt-

Mr. Hiden in Charleston.

The Gharleston News and Courier, speaking of Mr. Hiden's lecture in that city Monday night, says: "A large audience was in attendance at the Citadel Square Baptist Church last night, to hear the anniversary sermon before the Young Men's Missionary Society, which was delivered by the Rev. J. C. Hiden of Wilmington. The discourse was rich in thought, elegant in diction, abounded in apt and beautiful illustrations, and was given with singular impressiveness of tone and gesture. Mr. Hiden is evidently a gentleman of thorough culture, who has thought profoundly and learned from critical study how to convey his thoughts in the purest English. Rev. Dr. Wightman assisted the pastor in the services. We hope the collection taken for the benefit of the society was liberal. The community will be glad to see from advertisements to-day and to-morrow that the society have engaged Mr. Hiden for a lecture to-morrow night at the German Hall.

As he approached the door, he heard some person or persons rapidly leaving the piazza which immediately fronts the door. On inspection, he discovered that four auger holes had been bored through one of the panels of the door, whereby a piece of wood had been displaced about three inches square, sufficiently near the lock to admit of a party putting his hand in. The person or persons were in the act of boring two holes below the place, for the purpose, it is supposed, of enlarging the hole. He or they were, however, surprised in their ingenious plans, and escaped.

A New TRADE. - We notice discharging at the wharf of Messrs. Adrian & Vollers, on the West side of the river, the schooner Anna Barton, which comes direct from Guanahani Island with a cargo of natural guano in bulk, imported by the above named firm. This is a new feature. Heretofore our supplies of guano have been derived mostly from second and third hands and the cost has been much increased by frequent handling and freighting, and the quality deteriorated. But this guana coming direct, with but one handling, being in bulk and in the natural state, can be sold at much less prices than those which are passed through many tranship

The testimonials in favor of the Guanahani Guano are of the very highest kind, It has been used now for two years past in nearly every cotton county in the State, and the farmers using it having come forward and freely testified to its value. We understand that every carge to be imported is to be analyzed before being offered for sale, and if not found up to the standard value will be refused. The cargo landing now is pronounced a very fine article and as soon as the analysis is complete it will be published for public inspection. We are glad to see our merchants thus co-operating with our farmers in seeking to enable them to get their fertilizers cheaper. It operates to the advantage of both

THE TOLLEY GUN .- COPY OF TESTIMONIAL .-Hudson City, N. J., Sept. 30th, 1874.-Mrssns. J. & W. Tolley-29 Maiden Lane, New York:-The 10-guage Gun No. 3078 I ordered from you gives me entire satisfaction. I was very exacting when ordering the Gun, but must say that you have more than fulfilled what I required of you. I have shot several breech-loaders by first-class makers, and your gua beats them all for beauty and workmanship. As for shooting qualities, your gur shoots stronger and more even than any gun I ever shot. 1 have shown it to several good judges (including first-class gunmakers) and all agree that the action is very strong and durable, and that the gun is one of the best they ever saw. I have made some very long shots with it, using only 81/4 drs. of powder, which is all your gun requires. I have shot it at a targat according to the rules of the Turf, Field and Farm trials, and the average of 6 shots at 40 yards is: Left-pattern, 169; penetration, 38; right-pattern, 175; penetration 39; using 8% drs. powder. Now I am sure such a gun is seldem met with, and am very proud to be the owner of it. But the real test of your gan is in the field-there it excells all others, killing cleaner and handsomer than any gun I ever saw, as you assured me they would. Both paper and metal shells work splendidly. Gentlemen, I have to offer you my very best thanks, and will recommend your guns to all my friends.

Yours Respectfully, HENRY LORIOT.

DIED. RAMSEY—In this city, on the evening of February 26th, 1875, Ezekial Walter, son of Thos. J. and Mary Emma Ramsey, aged three years, three Mary Emma Ramsey, aged three years, three months and six days.

Little Waiter was ill only a few days, and while he had every attention that loving hands and a kind physician could give, yet the stubborn disease would not yield, but continued to baffie medical skill and rack the little body with pa'n, until God, in mercy, relieved Walter of suffering and took him to the Courts of Glory. Doth it seem cruel to you father and like hatrea to you fond mother, to have your precious boy taken from you by the lev hand of death? Remember that God doeth all things well, and that which is your less is Walter's eternal gain. With all our watchfulness and care for our little darlings we cannot keep them from suffering the ills of life, neither can we make them infinitely happy; but our kind Father knows what is best for them and us and will never inflict severe punishments only for the good of his creatures. Oh, 'f' you could only look beyond this vale of tears and see little Walter in a rose of righteousness with a palm of victory in his hand, a crown of glory upon his brow, you would readily conclude that God had abundantly blessed your boy. your boy.

Do not wish him to be here with us, for wellhave a hope in Christ that will bear us through this world and carry us safely to our little boy, in the realms of eternal bliss.

ALL Persons are hereby warned against shooting, ALL Persons are hereby warned against shooting, hunting, fishing, ranging or otherwise trespassing on the lands known as the Orton Plantation, in the County of Brunswick. The indiscriminate slaughter of game at all seasons and the incessant depredations in other and more important respects, have rendered it necessary to post these lands; and fair notice is now given that the law will be rigidly enforced against all offenders.
