PASSAGE OF THE STATE DEBT BILL On last Wednesday evening, by a vote of 83 to 25, the House of Representatives passed the bill to compromise the State debt. With some slight amendments, the same bill which lately passed the Senate was adopted. The particulars of the bill having once or twice been printed in our columns, we shall await the full text before again stating its provis-

This is a most happy consummation, (if indeed it is the end of the matter) a consummation we have devontly hoped for during the sessions of two Legislatures. This journal has persistently advocated such an adjustment of North Carolina's obligations as would not impoverish our people. We earnestly desire that the compromise now proposed may be acceptable to our creditors. This compromise is as liberal as we can offer. The people of this State are desperately poor, and they tender the best terms possible without ruining themselves.

We are glad this measure is about to be put through. It will prevent the stigma of repudiation being placed on our good old State. It will, if accepted, tend to build up our industrial and commercial interests right away. Steadily we will goahead, respected by the world and having the approval of our own consciences.

It was a drawn battle in New Hampshire after all. The Democrats gained a Congressman and the Republicans probably the Legislature, which secures the Governor. The Temperance vote was cast almost solidly for the Republicans. Hence there was no decisive Democratic victory. Besides, the Administration massed its forces, it being the opening contest of the year.

Davis, and claimed to hail from Ashe county, N. C., and represented herself as having been married, about four months ago, by Rev. Parks Courtney, to a man named Pinkney Johnston, at Bethel church, Wilkes county, N. C. She stated that Johnston came with her to a farm house within a few miles of the city, where he left her, ostensibly to seek employment. She had heard nothing of him for some days, and came here in search of him. Mr. C. M. Flinn took up a collection and raised the necessary funds to send her home.

SENATE. RALEIGH, March 11.

Mr. Bell, a bill concerning weights and measures. Referred. Mr. Cantwell, a bill to prohibit liquor traffic in certain localities. Calendar.

THE TAX BILL. Mr. Standford moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill relieving all parties indicted for failure to list taxes passed its third reading. [The bill entitled Solicitors, Sheriffs and Clerks 25 cents each for work alrerdy done.] Motion prevailed. Mr. Standford moved to amend by allowing 50 cents to each officer named. Adopted, and the bill passed its third reading.

R. R. FREIGHT RATES. Mr. Graham's bill to prevent discrimination in freight tariffs by railroads operating in the State came up on its second reading, causing a discussion of some length. Pending its consideration, the Senate went into Executive session on the confirmation of the Directors of the different State institutions.

THE WESTERN N. C. R. R. BILL. House bill (known as the Tate bill) concerning the Western North Carolina Railroad, passed its third reading on Wednesday night, after the adoption of Mr. Linney's amendment reported yesterday, and an amendment offered by Mr. Morehead providing that the Commissioners anpointed under the act shall not exceed the sum of $850,000 in their operations.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. By Mr. Boyd, a bill to exchange the State's stock in the North Carolina Railroad Company for the construction bonds of the said road. Re-

Mr. Gudger, arising to a question of privilege, said that in the proceedings of yesterday's News he was reported as fevoring repudiation. He favored postponing compromise until the people could better stand the tax. Last evening, after he saw no prospect of postponing the bill he declared his intentions to support it, stating that he was as much opposed to repudiation os any gentleman on the floor.

CALENDAR.

On motion of Mr. Bettis, the bill compelling the Carolina Central Railway to complete its road to Shelby was made the special order for Faiday at 12 o'clock.

The bonds reported as in the hands of the Frustees, commonly called "Special Tax Bonds," being void and worthless shall be burnt by the Trustees, and the bonds not special tax bonds reported by them shall be held subject to the disposition of the General Assembly. Mr. Mendenhall explained his sub-suscitation of the University. Mr. Erwin, though opposed to the original bill on account of a recognition of the special tax bonds, would heartily support the substitute.

mute, compromise and settle the Public Debt. Referred. Resolution having sessions of the House every night except Saturday, was-adopted. By leave, Mr. Means, a resolution to the effect that J. Williams Thorne, the expelled member from Warren county, be restrained from accupying his seat as a citizen upon the floor. Calendar.

Resolution in favor of the Bureau of Immigration and Statistics, passed. Bill amending the law in Battle's Revisal in regard to persons hunting on the lands of another without leave, with dog or gun. The bill as place. introduced by Mr. Stephenson makes it a misdemeaner, the penalty a fine of $10 or one month's imprisonment for trespass thereon after proper notice in two or more places. Considerable discussion ensued upon the bill. Messrs. Stephenson, Boyd, Strong and Hannah favored the bill, and Mr. Glenn and others opposed it. Some thirty amendments, exempting as many counties from the operations of the bill were offered, when, on motion of Mr. Boyd, the whole matter was laid on the table.

-A salute of one hundred guns was fired yesterday afternoon at Market dock by the Republicans in honor of the seeming victory of that party in the recent New Hampshire elections.

- Rev. J. C. Hiden has accepted an invitation to deliver his lecture on the "Cosmopolitan Bug" at the Bingham School on Tuesday night next, and to preach in the church there on Wednesday night.

A colored woman named Mary McKenzie, aged about twenty years, was drawned vesterday afternoon, near Market dock. It seems that this woman, together with Albert Smith and Lizzie Dunsen, all colored, got into a small boat on the opposite side of the river for the purpose of crossing to this side. After they had almost succeedand Danville R. R. In the lease is a ed in crossing, they neared a flat and one of the parties stood up in the boat in order to reach out to get a hold for the purpose of pulling the boat in. In doing so, the party caused the boat to turn to one side and it rapidly filled with water. All three in it were thrown into the river in consequence, but Albert Smith and Lizzie Dunsen were rescued. Mary McKenzie it is thought must have caught under the flat and thus all efforts to save her were unavailing and she was drowned. The body > Accidentally Injured. Yesterday evening while a salute of one hundred guns was being fired at Market dock, a colored man named James Harris, who was assisting in firing the salute, was > severely injured by the premature firing of the canon. It seem that Harriss was ramming the charge and it must either have been too small which would allow the air to get in behind it or else the vent hole was not sufficiently closed to prevent enough draft to ignite the powder, the consequence was that a premature explosion followed. The ramrod was fired nearly across the river tearing the sleeve of Harris's coat in its path. Harris was burned considerably about the face and hands by the powder.

A "Big Gun" Item.

Yesterday a canon which was infended to be used for the purpose of giving a salute of one hundred guns at the Market dock, was left on Third street, between Market and Princess streets, in full view of the City Hall. The fact is the "tarnal thing" was pointing in that direction.

In view of the status of affairs at the City Hall and in the vicinity, the presence of a number of police and a large crowd of people of all sorts, the latter having assembled to watch the progress of the new Board, who it was expected would go to the City Hall and demand the city offices, some of the numerous spectators came to the conclusion that the "big gun" was to have a voice in the business. Things, they said, looked serious, and we saw one gentleman who put on green spectacles in order to see the affair in a different light. Everybody who was at all interested, saw that canon and marvelled at its seeming wondrous talking power, and it was expected by many that that "big gun" would orate about municipal affairs.

It went off suddenly, however, in a dray as soon as it was understood that it was by mistake of the first drayman, put in the wrong place, and one very small plaintiff of the David Gay persuasion, who was doing special duty carrying the ram rod cried out as he shouldered the rod, "I'se cumin' back to-morrow."

Depositing the Registration Books,

The registrars after performing the duty for which they were severally selected, met yesterday and proceeded to the City Hall with the Registration books, ballot boxes and certificates of the returns for the purpose of turning them over to the Clerk and Treasurer as requird by the amendment to the city charter. That official declined to receive the books, ect., and the registrars left them in the office and departed. The New Board.
