GOV. BROGDEN PREPARES TO EX. ECUTE THE LAW.

The Governor is moving in the gauge matter, as will be seen by the following circular of instructions issued to the various Solicitors on the line of the upper portion of the North Carolina Railroad, the part recently changed with so high a hand by the Richmond and Danville corporation:

> STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, March 30, 1875.

SIR:-I transmit herewith a certified copy of a law passed by the General Assembly at its late session entitled "An act in relation to changing gauge of railroads," ratified the 15th of March, 1875, and you are respectfully and earnestly requested to exercise due diligence in prosecuting and bringing to trial any President, Director, Secretary and Treasurer, or any other officer, servant or employee who has either directly or indirectly advised, aided, encouraged or assisted in any manner whatever in changing the gauge of any part of the North Careli-na Railroad, or what is commonly called the "North Carolina Division of the Richmond & Danville Railroad."

Very respectfully, Your ob't servant, C. H. BROGDEN, Governor.

To F. N. Strudwick, Esq., Solicitor 7th Judial District; Jos. Dobson, Esq., Solicitor 8th Judicial District; W. J. Montgomery, Esq., Solicitor 9th Judicial District.

This action, though a little delayed, may be effective. The people rejoice that they have an Executive who tries to do his duty. Let the Solicitors act, as they are required to do by the late law of Assembly, with promptness and vigor. The invaders should be taught that North Carolina at least is not one of Mr. Tom Scott's conquered provinces.

The Injury to North Carolina-A Conclusive Answer. Raleigh News.]

The Richmond Dispatch tries to com'ort its Petersburg contemporaries by asking "Does North Carolina suffer any injury from the change of gauge on the Air-Line Road from Richmond to Atlanta?" And adds by way of reply: "There was a break at Charlotte when the North Carolina 4.81 gauge met the five foot gauge from the South. That break has been transferred to Greensboro. That is all. North Carolina has still one break of gauge. That is all."

Hardly all. That break of gange at Charlotte took place at the end of the North Carolina system. It came at that point in connection with the South Carolina system completed years before. It left all her own interior system intact. From that system the Western North Carolina road, the North Western North Carolina road, and from the former, branching off the road from Statesville to Charlotte, with a promise at some future day of an almost infinite multiplication of the same connections, binding all parts of the State in intimate union. The transfer of the break to Greensboro breaks up all this system because it interposes a perfect wall between the different parts. And this is done by a company the existence of which was successfully opposed until forced by the exigencies of the war. The Piedmont road is not the question of peace. Its charter was fiercely and successfully resisted be-cause the projectors of the North Carolina road foresaw what results would follow, and that it would be tapped at this very point of Greensboro, and the main object that of uniting the whole of North Carolina in one inteaest, the development of her industries and the building up her ports would be defeated. The Piedmont road is an interloper. It should have modesty sufficient to participate in the advantages offered to it, not to absorb them all. It should not presume to dictate the policy of North Carolina, nor to destroy it. "

After all, the trouble goes back to the date of the secret, unauthorized and fatal lease of the road.

- Raleigh is to have a Third Baptist Church. The Sentinel says thirty thou-sand dollars will be required. Five thou-sand were subscribed at a preliminary meet-

On the 29th of Marci the cotton gid and saw mill of Mr. James M. Redwine, on the Yadkin river, near Albemarle, were burned. Loss, including some cotton, $1,-500. No insurance.

Robbery and Attempted Homicide. A friend at Bladenbero, Mr. B. L. Clark, states that a deed of horror was attempted at that place a few days since which he thinks the proper authorities would do well to look into. On or about the 21st ult. a train loaded with guano, under the charge of Capt. Love, conductor, while on its way up on the C. C. Railway, stopped at Bladenboro for wood and water. It was dark at the time and some thieves took advantage of the opportunity to remove nearly a ton of guano from the train. Mr. J. C. Duncan, who lives at Bladenboro, had his suspicions aroused as to the guilty parties and after diligent search succeeded in finding the guano, but was unable to catch the thieves. On the night of Tuesday, the 30th ultimo, between nine and ten o'clock, Mr. Duncan had occasion to go out of his house and soon afterward five loads of buckshot were fired at him. Fortunately he was in such a position at the time that the chimney and a part of the house received the loads intended for him, otherwise the result might have proved fatal.

The Free Schools.

A gentleman who is deeply interested i the matter of education and who attended the examinations in two of the public schools yesterday, gives us the following:

"To-day being examination day in the public schools, the writer took occasion to attend two of them. The exercises were very creditable to both pupils and teachers, but especially so to the latter. We doubt if any schools in the State are better conducted than the public schools of Wilmington. They unquestionably furnish a most excellent means of obtaining a good educaearnest and faithful toilers in a good cause. To those who have never visited the public schools, we would say, by all means do so. You have, perhaps, no idea of the honest, earnest effort that is going on to educate the rising generation of all classes around you. You will here find many of the little waifs, that you thought entirely neglected, receiving with eagerness excellent instruction. preparing for usefulness, perhaps for distinction.

"We learn from the Superintendent, Rev. H. B. Blake, that the public schools are now capable of furnishing instruction for all the children in the city during eight months of every year. These schools are supported from the Peabody fund and from the Public School fund of the State.

"In these schools have been taught during the past winter some eleven hundred pupils, and if we include the Hemenway school which is a free school supported by Mrs. Hemenway, about fourteen hundred pupils have received instruction free of charge during the past winter. We think, under all the circumstances, Wilmington has just cause to feel proud of her free schools, as well as of her other excellent schools. The free schools especially demand her fostering care, as they furnish the means of education to thousands who would, perhaps, be unable otherwise to obtain it."

Metreological. From Sergeant Robert Seyboth, in charge of the Signal Office at this port, we have the following statement of the weather conditions for the month of March just closed: Highest barometer (23rd) 30.462 inches; lowest barometer (7th), 29.431 inches; highest temperature (20th), 75 degrees; lowest temperature (23rd), 28 degrees; monthly range of temperature, 47 degrees; greatest daily range of temperature, 30 degrees; mean maximum temperatures, 62.4; mean of minimum temperatures, 45.6; mean daily range of temperatures, 16.8; total rainfall, 4.55 inches; prevailing wind, south-southwest; total number of miles travelled, 8,342, the greatest number on record; maximum velocity of wind, 42 miles per hour; number of cloudy days, other than those on which rain fell, 1; number of days on which rain or snow fell, 19. For the same period the mean barometer was 30.103 inches; mean temperature of March, 1875, 54.4; mean temperature of same month last year, 57.3; mean temperature of March for 5 years, 54.4

Light Artillery Company.

In accordance with previous announcement, a meeting was held at the Armory Room of the Wilmington Light Infantry Company, last night, for the purpose of forming a light artillery company. The company was organized and a committee of five was appointed to solicit additional mem-

The meeting then adjourned to meet again on Wednesday night next at the same hour and place.

We are glad to be able to say that the prospects of making up a first-class company are exceedingly flattering, and that the members have the guarantee of getting a fine battery.

Magistrate's Court. Lewis Green, Henry Johnson, Henry Statcher and Edward McFarland, all colored boys, were arrested yesterday on the charge of fighting and other disorderly conduct in the vicinity of the show tent, near the corner of Fifth and Chesnut streets. They were carried before Justice Van Amringe, who gave them an informal examination, after which they were committed to jail to await a final hearing this morning at 10 o'clock.

The case of Charles Owen, arraigned on the charge of assault and battery, was continued over until this morning, as was also the case of Margaret Skipper, charged with retailing without a license.

Wm. Jones, charged with assault and battery on the person of Wm. Bell, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Raid Upon a Noisy Crowd.

Complaint having been lodged at the office of the City Marshal to the effect that a large number of colored boys were in the habit of congregating on a vacant lot at the corner of Sixth and Mulberry streets, playing ball, &c., and acting in such a boisterous manner as to prove exceedingly annoying to people residing in the neighborhood, a squad of policemen were sent to look after them yesterday afternoon. The raid proved a decided success. The officers came upon the noisy crowd in the very height of their enjoyment and before they were fully aware tion to every child of both races in the city. that the "Philistines" were amongst them The teachers are graduates of some of the fully thirteen of them had been placed hors best schools, both North and South, and are du combat and were on their way to the Guard House. Arriving there they were met by City Marshal Robinson, who proceeded to lecture them very soundly, after which, on the promise of not offending in the future, they were finally released.

> Hew It Works. If anybody, after all that has been said, has any doubts as to the practical results of the enactment of the Usuury law, says the Charleston News and Courier, it will be worth while for him to consider the case of "the Bank of Marion," recently chartered by the Legislature, and which promises to be an active and thriving financial institution.-The new Bank, which is to go into operation at once, has been established by the stockholders of the Bank of New Hanover, at Wilmington, N. C., in co-operation with the citizens of Marion. It seems just this: that capital is running away from the new Usury law in North Carolina and taking refuge in South Carolina, where the market for money is still free.

District Conference.

We have been requested to state that the Vilmington District Conference of the M. E. Church South will be held at Magnolia, N. C., commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday, the 19th, and embracing the fourth Sabbath in May. Rev. J. Sandford will preach the opening sermon on Wednesday, at 11 A. M.

One of the prisoners, alluded to yesterday as having been arrested on suspicion of being connected with the late robbery at Lumberton, amused himself on Thursday night by trying to demolish his cell. He had previously entreated to be allowed the liberty of the hall and probably thought he would be revenged for the refusal.

Allow me to thank you for the fidelity with which you carried out my instructions. I am more than ever impressed with the idea that it is as necessary for a man to have a gun built to measurement as to have a boot so built to ensure a good fit.
